

The Observer Want Ad Page

The Market Place of Union and Wallowa Counties

NEW TODAY

FOR RENT—Furnished apt., 1402 A. Ave. 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—One-ton Ford truck. Phone 565-12. 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—Choice dahlia bulbs at reduced prices. Mrs. Earl Zundel. 5-14-1 tp

WANTED—800 men to buy tickets to the National Guard Home Fund Ball. 5-14-1 tp

WANTED—Middle aged woman for confinement case, 1802 Vase of 307-J. 5-14-1 tp

FOR SALE—Baby buggy. Phone 266-M. 1802 Adams Ave. 5-14-2 tp

FOR RENT—Furnished home to responsible people, 1204 Penn Ave. M. W. Huffman. 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—Call potatoes, $5 a ton. Fred Taylor, Albee, Farmers 2522. 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—Several used refrigerators. Four good dining tables. Two bed room suites. W. H. Hobbs, nenkamp Co. 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—Exceptionally located house, A-1 condition. Furnace, garage, furniture if desired, 1602 1st. Cor. Penn. 5-14-1 tp

SEE THE LATEST—Styler in ladies' silk dresses at the Needle Art and Gift Shop, 1206 Adams 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—City and country property. Terms and bargain. Geo. H. Chapman, East Stange's Mill. 5-14-6 tp

FOR RENT—Five room modern house, garage, garden planted. Place for chickens. On Macadam. Call 159-W. 5-14-1 tp

FOR SALE—Stocks and Dairy ranch, 252 acres, 2 1/2 miles from La Grande, Leroy Blumhild, 1205-K. 5-11-3 tp

MAN WANTED—To sell an all-year-around line of men's casual made shoes direct to wearer for La Grande and vicinity, see Mr. R. Meyer Wednesday 4 p. m. to 8 p. m. at La Grande hotel. 5-14-2 tp

FOR SALE—V-8 Cadillac 2 pass. coupe, new tires and paint. Lion daller wheels. This car has only run 18,000 miles and is in perfect condition every way. Price $350.00, cash or terms. Ph. Main 050 or see at 808 Adams Ave. Harry B. Waggoner. 5-14-1 tp

WANTED—Good workmen for day, write North Powder, Ore. Box 315. 5-14-6 tp

WANTED—Cooks, Waitresses, Kitchen helpers. Women preferred. Apply in person at the Silver Grill. 5-13-2 tp

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Underwood No. 4 typewriter, almost new and at 1-3 of new price. Guaranteed. Furniture Exchange. 4-5-1 tp

FOR SALE—5 room modern house. Call 145-B. 5-12-3 tp

FOR SALE—A-1 Lloyd baby buggy. Ph. 849-U. 5-4-1 tp

FOR SALE—Three lots, cheap. Inquire 1902 1/2 E. O. Ave. 5-13-4 tp

FOR SALE—Owner has to leave La Grande, has new 6-room home near high school on paved street. Will sell equity at a reasonable price. Lowell Williamson, Call Main 86. 5-3-3 tp

Observer Want Ad Rates

(Count five average words to the line.)

Per line, 1st insertion10c

Per line, each added consecutive insertion7c

Minimum charge on one or two lines25c

2 lines, per month$2.50

3 lines, per month$3.25

4 lines, per month$4.00

5 lines, per month$4.75

Each additional line over five charged at 50c per line per month.

CASH IN ADVANCE is required on all classified orders to earn these rates. Higher rates charged on all credit insertions.

Copy for all classified orders must be in this office by 10 A. M. DAY OF INSERTION. Stop orders on ad inserted until further notice must be received by the same hour or extra insertion will be charged.

Telephone orders solicited. Cash rates may be earned on phone orders by payment on or before date of last insertion.

PHONE MAIN 37

"An Observer Want Ad Will Do It"

BUY, SELL, raise and move houses, rent jack-screws and timbers. John Mara. 5-3-1 m

FOR SALE—Hay, $10.00 ton. J. E. Reynolds. 472-11. 4-22-1 tp

FOR SALE—1-acre tract with neat 8-room house. Lowell Williamson. Call Main 86. 5-3-3 m

FOR SALE—My well improved 352 acre diversified farm, located 3 1/2 mile east of Imbler. H. McGoldrick, Imbler, Ore. 5-4-1 tp

FOR SALE—Five-room modern home, furnished, $2,500. Close in on South side. Terms, Call Lowell Williamson, Main 86. 5-3-3 m

DOMESTIC, PORTABLE Sewing machines, new forward and reverse, pass for new $40.00 and what a bargain. Furniture Exchange. 4-5-1 tp

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Underwood No. 4 typewriter, almost new and at 1-3 of new price. Guaranteed. Furniture Exchange. 4-5-1 tp

TRADE—Now is the time for new window shades, trade in the old ones and pay a little cash, then have clean new shades for the summer. Furniture Exchange. 4-5-1 tp

FOUND—The best and cheapest place to get sand door and window glass. Quality installed and satisfaction guaranteed. Chas. Harris, 1501 Madison. 4-15-1 m

FOR RENT—Rooms over Silver-Thorne-Wright Drug Store. 5-13-1 tp

CALL MAIN 528 for ice and fuel. Galtner and Waller. 4-17-1 m

FOR RENT—Furnished apt. 2108 Adams. 5-8-6 tp

FOR RENT—Garage, 1712 Wash. Adams. 5-4-1 tp

FOR RENT—5 room modern house, clean. Call 145-W. 5-11-1 tp

FOR RENT—Furn. houses and apts. with bath. Clean, quiet, low rents. To adults, 1810 Greenwood. 5-3-1 m

ANGEL'S hat cleaning, bleaching, best in town. Across from Holmenkamp's. 5-1-15 tp

MISCELLANEOUS

LA GRANDE MATTRESS & Upholstering & Rug Cleaning Works, Phone 424-W. Chas. Ed. Ward, Prop. 12-1-1 m

EASTERN OREGON School of Music—Violin, piano, voice. Credits. L. O. O. P. Temple, Ph. 447-J. 5-1-1 m

MONEY TO LOAN on improved city property, straight loans or installment plan. Lowest rates. United States Investment Co. Phone Main 33. 2-16-1 m

MONEY TO LOAN—We have money to loan on desirable city property at the low rate of interest of 6%. We write all kinds of insurance, including life. Chas. H. Reynolds. 2-4-1 m

THE EVIDENCE AGAINST JERRY

MacNair, the relentless man-hunter, remained quiet for most of the time while I told him as much as I knew of the case. Occasionally he interrupted with a pertinent question.

"Hyde refused to tell you where he got the pistol?" he growled.

"Yes."

"And Hubbard heard Ogden about 'gold bullets' while this man Purie was in the library. Purie, eh? Good name, that."

"Are you inclined to connect Purie with the murder?" I asked quickly.

"I am inclined to consider him. That woman in black, too. And Nathan Hyde, perhaps. Don't understand me. I am not saying any of them did it. They have merely entered the case—that's all."

"You are going to help us then?"

"He flashed his disconcerting stare at me."

"I suppose I shall have to," he grumbled. "It's about as odd a thing as I ever tackled."

Lucy gave a sob of relief, but she was too overcome to do more than whisper some incoherent expression of her gratitude.

"I want it clearly understood," he went on, "that I play no favorites. If I take the case I look for Ogden's murderer. When I find him I shall turn him over to the police, no matter who he may be. Is that understood?"

I nodded, shuddering a little and avoiding Lucy's eyes.

"We are not afraid, Mr. MacNair," she assured him bravely.

"Do you believe from what I have told you that Jerry Ogden killed his father?" Lucy winced at my question, but it had to be asked.

"Why shouldn't I?" he returned with such brutal directness that Lucy gave a cry of pain. "Hubbard heard him talking to his father shortly after nine. You and Stinson saw him running as if for his life two minutes after the thing was done. If it had been any one else you had seen racing along that walk you'd have known who killed Ogden."

The man's cynicism appalled me. "What about the possibility that somebody else was wearing Jerry's clothes, that somebody else dropped his keys?" I ventured. "I didn't see Jerry's face, remember."

MacNair laughed. "Why should it be somebody else? Because you want it to be. Well, never mind that." He lighted a cigarette. "See here, Peebles. It looks as if young Ogden killed his father. But I am not starting on the assumption that he did. I'll draw my conclusions, later."

"Women They Talk About" the Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture, which comes to the Arcade theater Wednesday for a run of three days, is a highly dramatic story of present day politics. Miss Rich playing the part of an aristocratic widow who enters the race for mayor, against the incumbent, a former lover, and at one time her father's office boy.

Kidnaping of the widow's pretty daughter, played by Audrey Ferris, a fight between the mayor's son and the thug who did the kidnaping, and the wedding of the mayor, are but a few of the incidents which make this talking picture the tremendous hit it is.

Others in the cast are William Collier Jr., Claude Gillingwater, Anders Randolf, Jack Santoro and John Miljan. Anthony Coldeway story, pictured by Robert Lord and directed by Lloyd Bacon. At tense moments in the dramatic action the characters speak their lines with startling naturalness. There is of course the interpretive symphonic accompaniment of Vitaphone.

THE CREDITORS CLOSE IN

By Cowan

THE HIGHEST IDEALS

THE highest code of ethics governs our professional services. We do everything with the most delicate and meticulous respect for the wishes of the bereaved.

We Understand

ENODGRASS & KIMMELMAN Main 62

ASTROLOGER

MRS. FREDERICK BALMES 801 N. Ave. La Grande, Ore. Readings daily. Readings by Mail a Specialty

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Loyally coming to the defense of Jerry Ogden, her fiancé, who is accused of murdering his father, Lucy defies the police and attempts to hide some important evidence. Attacking the police theory of circumstantial evidence against her lover, Lucy insists that the person seen fleeing from the Ogden home after the murder was not Jerry. With her uncle, John Peebles, who is also convinced of Jerry's innocence, she pleads with Luther MacNair, famous retired detective, to make an independent investigation of the murder. Two words—"gold bullets"—angrily shouted by Andrew Ogden a few hours before his death, and two queer, unknown visitors, add a new note to the intriguing mystery.

Chapter 8

THE EVIDENCE AGAINST JERRY

MacNair, the relentless man-hunter, remained quiet for most of the time while I told him as much as I knew of the case. Occasionally he interrupted with a pertinent question.

"Hyde refused to tell you where he got the pistol?" he growled.

"Yes."

"And Hubbard heard Ogden about 'gold bullets' while this man Purie was in the library. Purie, eh? Good name, that."

"Are you inclined to connect Purie with the murder?" I asked quickly.

"I am inclined to consider him. That woman in black, too. And Nathan Hyde, perhaps. Don't understand me. I am not saying any of them did it. They have merely entered the case—that's all."

"You are going to help us then?"

"He flashed his disconcerting stare at me."

"I suppose I shall have to," he grumbled. "It's about as odd a thing as I ever tackled."

Lucy gave a sob of relief, but she was too overcome to do more than whisper some incoherent expression of her gratitude.

"I want it clearly understood," he went on, "that I play no favorites. If I take the case I look for Ogden's murderer. When I find him I shall turn him over to the police, no matter who he may be. Is that understood?"

I nodded, shuddering a little and avoiding Lucy's eyes.

"We are not afraid, Mr. MacNair," she assured him bravely.

"Do you believe from what I have told you that Jerry Ogden killed his father?" Lucy winced at my question, but it had to be asked.

"Why shouldn't I?" he returned with such brutal directness that Lucy gave a cry of pain. "Hubbard heard him talking to his father shortly after nine. You and Stinson saw him running as if for his life two minutes after the thing was done. If it had been any one else you had seen racing along that walk you'd have known who killed Ogden."

The man's cynicism appalled me. "What about the possibility that somebody else was wearing Jerry's clothes, that somebody else dropped his keys?" I ventured. "I didn't see Jerry's face, remember."

MacNair laughed. "Why should it be somebody else? Because you want it to be. Well, never mind that." He lighted a cigarette. "See here, Peebles. It looks as if young Ogden killed his father. But I am not starting on the assumption that he did. I'll draw my conclusions, later."

"Women They Talk About" the Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture, which comes to the Arcade theater Wednesday for a run of three days, is a highly dramatic story of present day politics. Miss Rich playing the part of an aristocratic widow who enters the race for mayor, against the incumbent, a former lover, and at one time her father's office boy.

Kidnaping of the widow's pretty daughter, played by Audrey Ferris, a fight between the mayor's son and the thug who did the kidnaping, and the wedding of the mayor, are but a few of the incidents which make this talking picture the tremendous hit it is.

Others in the cast are William Collier Jr., Claude Gillingwater, Anders Randolf, Jack Santoro and John Miljan. Anthony Coldeway story, pictured by Robert Lord and directed by Lloyd Bacon. At tense moments in the dramatic action the characters speak their lines with startling naturalness. There is of course the interpretive symphonic accompaniment of Vitaphone.

THE CREDITORS CLOSE IN

By Cowan

THE HIGHEST IDEALS

THE highest code of ethics governs our professional services. We do everything with the most delicate and meticulous respect for the wishes of the bereaved.

We Understand

ENODGRASS & KIMMELMAN Main 62

ASTROLOGER

MRS. FREDERICK BALMES 801 N. Ave. La Grande, Ore. Readings daily. Readings by Mail a Specialty

"Fair enough," I agreed.

"We understand each other, then. You have known Ogden for some time. I take it?"

"About nine years."

"Intimately?"

"He was my closest friend."

"Do you know of anything in his life that might suggest a motive for his death?"

"It's rather hard to explain. Ogden and I were together a good deal and the engagement of the children brought us closer still. But well, I always had an idea there. Sometimes I wondered if the Andrew Ogden I knew really was the man himself."

"What kind of a lad is young Ogden?"

I smiled at Lucy. "A fine, clean boy. A bit reckless and impulsive, perhaps, but that's all. He favors his father in looks but he has none of that restraint, that secretiveness, I sometimes sensed in Andrew."

"On good terms with his father?"

"Of course. They had their differences, I expect."

"For instance?"

The question came so abruptly that I was startled. By now Lucy, the color flaming into her white cheeks, both of us were thinking of Jerry's difference of opinion with his father about the mine.

"Nothing much," I replied calmly. "Ogden owns a deserted mine near Terwiller. Jerry, who is an engineer, thinks there's pay gold in it. He wanted to reopen the mine, but Andrew wouldn't have it touched. Jerry is a persistent youngster and he kept at his father constantly about it. They hadn't quarreled, so far as I know."

MacNair grunted. "Did you ever hear Ogden mention Purie and this woman in black?"

"Never."

"Ever hear him refer to 'gold bullets'?"

"Never."

"Purie and the woman in black will have to be accounted for. I suppose Deacon will run them down." MacNair stood up. "That'll do now. I'll see you after breakfast."

"Don't forget the probability that Ogden's murdered father told Jerry's fiancée," I reminded him.

He grinned mischievously. "It's become a probability, has it? You'd better sleep on what I said about fixing the responsibility. I meant it. If you want me to drop the case say so in the morning."

Lucy answered him. "We are not afraid of the truth, Mr. MacNair."

He nodded. "I shall want to see that Peterson revolver so don't turn it over to Deacon yet."

With this he let us out into the darkness.

It was half-past two when I got into bed. My mind was going round and round like an endless phonograph record and I felt as if I could never sleep again.

The telephone call—Andrew's last words—Jerry running like the wind—Hubbard's story of Purie and the woman in black, and Andrew shouting "gold bullets"—Gradually my overwrought nerves quieted down and I felt sleep stealing upon me.

And then, suddenly, I was wide awake again. Some slight noise must have aroused me, but my first thought was that I had neglected to do something. Ah, yes! I had put Polyandria out and forgotten to let her in again. But a sense of "wrongness" persisted in my mind. I was on the point of sliding out of bed when a weighty object landed with a thump on my abdomen. Alarmed, I put out my hand, felt silky fur, and laughed.

"Polyandria! Where did you come from?"

The question disturbed me. If I had left Polyandria locked out how had she got in? Putting her aside, I got out of bed and crept into the hall. The door of my den was ajar. Inside, a light beam circled the room. Some one with an electric torch was there.

(Copyright 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.)

A prowler in the early morning hours—what is he seeking?—has he any connection with the Ogden murder?—the answer is in tomorrow's chapter.

GEN. PATRICK APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—President Hoover has appointed Major General Mason M. Patrick, retired, former head of the army air corps, to the District of Columbia utilities commission.

McNerney Brothers, of Portland, were lowest bidders yesterday for the contract to excavate for the foundation of the new state office building. The bid was $2224. Reimbursing bids were received. The contract will not be awarded until the return of Governor Patterson, who is in Eastern Oregon.

Two's company, three's more than a rumble seat full.

SALEM, Ore., May 14 (AP)—

Many a man has filled a premature grave because he did more than his part in putting down whiskey.

Trained Care — Price Reasonable. Call and See Us. Mrs. E. W. Hart, 406 N. Ave.

YOUNG MAN INJURED

MILL CITY, Ore., May 14 (AP)—Paul Yeoman, 25, whose home is in Stayton, received serious burns and a fractured skull Monday morning when a gasoline tank on the heavy Ledgebrook donkey engine on which he was working, blew up.

SALEM, Ore., May 14 (AP)—

Many a man has filled a premature grave because he did more than his part in putting down whiskey.

Trained Care — Price Reasonable. Call and See Us. Mrs. E. W. Hart, 406 N. Ave.

YOUNG MAN INJURED

MILL CITY, Ore., May 14 (AP)—Paul Yeoman, 25, whose home is in Stayton, received serious burns and a fractured skull Monday morning when a gasoline tank on the heavy Ledgebrook donkey engine on which he was working, blew up.

SALEM, Ore., May 14 (AP)—

Many a man has filled a premature grave because he did more than his part in putting down whiskey.

Trained Care — Price Reasonable. Call and See Us. Mrs. E. W. Hart, 406 N. Ave.

YOUNG MAN INJURED

MILL CITY, Ore., May 14 (AP)—Paul Yeoman, 25, whose home is in Stayton, received serious burns and a fractured skull Monday morning when a gasoline tank on the heavy Ledgebrook donkey engine on which he was working, blew up.

SALEM, Ore., May 14 (AP)—

Many a man has filled a premature grave because he did more than his part in putting down whiskey.

Trained Care — Price Reasonable. Call and See Us. Mrs. E. W. Hart, 406 N. Ave.

YOUNG MAN INJURED

MILL CITY, Ore., May 14 (AP)—Paul Yeoman, 25, whose home is in Stayton, received serious burns and a fractured skull Monday morning when a gasoline tank on the heavy Ledgebrook donkey engine on which he was working, blew up.

SALEM, Ore., May 14 (AP)—

Many a man has filled a premature grave because he did more than his part in putting down whiskey.

Trained Care — Price Reasonable. Call and See Us. Mrs. E. W. Hart, 406 N. Ave.

YOUNG MAN INJURED

MILL CITY, Ore., May 14 (AP)—Paul Yeoman, 25, whose home is in Stayton, received serious burns and a fractured skull Monday morning when a gasoline tank on the heavy Ledgebrook donkey engine on which he was working, blew up.

into bed. My mind was going round and round like an endless phonograph record and I felt as if I could never sleep again.

The telephone call—Andrew's last words—Jerry running like the wind—Hubbard's story of Purie and the woman in black, and Andrew shouting "gold bullets"—Gradually my overwrought nerves quieted down and I felt sleep stealing upon me.

And then, suddenly, I was wide awake again. Some slight noise must have aroused me, but my first thought was that I had neglected to do something. Ah, yes! I had put Polyandria out and forgotten to let her in again. But a sense of "wrongness" persisted in my mind. I was on the point of sliding out of bed when a weighty object landed with a thump on my abdomen. Alarmed, I put out my hand, felt silky fur, and laughed.

"Polyandria! Where did you come from?"

The question disturbed me. If