Stolen Car and Drunken Driver Causes 2 Deaths

CHICAGO, May 13 (AP)—A stolen automobile with a drunken driver at the wheel careened at high speed into a group of children playing in front of a school last night. Two of the children were killed and two others so seriously hurt they may die. Half a dozen others leaped to safety.

Jerome Boyd, 13, and Robert Hennel, 12, died a few minutes after being struck. Le Roy Housh, 13, and Harold O'Grady, 13, were injured.

The car sped on and eluded pursuers in heavy traffic. Ten minutes later it crashed into two automobiles three miles away and was wrecked. Its occupants, William Sweeney, 26, and Frank O'Dee, 26, were arrested. Sweeney was driving.

Police said both men were so intoxicated neither could talk coherently.

"We can truly say that it has been very delightful in every phase," Mrs. Booth said, "and that we appreciate most heartily all of your efforts in our behalf. We hope to come again; also we hope to treat you well when you come to us, and shall endeavor to do so."

"We also wish to mention the interest we all have in the enterprise and energy which we have observed in your city and your big outlook in its future growth. Your good schools, your healthy children whom we saw in the parade Friday afternoon—prospective citizens of this great northwest—bear prophecy of its important future."

"Already our youth are being recognized in eastern colleges and universities and in magazine articles, as being the coming great people of the world; and in this, your city will surely have a most important part."

Kinney, first president of the Oregon Medical Society. Presented by Lee H. Bouvy." The gavel, with its historical significance, will be handed down from president to president each year.

Dr. Johnston, president, spoke of the vast amount of work ahead in educating the public with the program for health and better medical service. He urged all members to bring these points before the people of their communities.

Most of the physicians, excepting those who are interested in the golf tournament and in fishing, left for their homes last night. Yesterday afternoon, following election of officers, Dr. Mayo delivered a scientific address to the largest gathering of physicians of the convention, speaking on "The Cancer Problem." In his closing remarks, Dr. Mayo said that it seems to him that the greatest hope at present is the development of some means of resistance that would immunize persons susceptible to cancer.

Favors State Campaign—During the business meeting, the state society went on record as favoring a state-wide campaign for immunization against scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox among children under 14 years of age, and also passed a resolution of appreciation for La Grande's generous and hospitable welcome. The constitution of the society was amended to create a committee on public education.

Three Portland men were elected to honorary membership: Dr. John E. Weeks, formerly of New York, internationally known as the discoverer of the Koch-Weeks bacillus; Dr. Calvin S. White, associate president; and Dr. Philo E. Jones.

A telegram was sent to the Cleveland Clinic hospital expressing the Oregon society's sympathy in its hour of tragedy. Respects were also paid to 25 members of the society who have passed on since the 1928 meeting.

Unnecessary—At a recent New York banquet the diners represented a total wealth of $2,000,000,000. We understand that the caterer's usual practice of counting the spoons after the proceedings was discontinued.

Bulgarian King Urged to Marry

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 18 (AP)—Though the Bulgarian government regards it as of paramount importance that King Boris marry soon to found a dynasty, the prospect of an American wife would not appeal to them.

Andre Lipicheff, the Bulgarian premier, said today: "Our king's marriage with a wealthy American heiress, as so often suggested, would be as impracticable as an opportunity."

"Our beloved sovereign will never marry for money. Wealth, splendor and pomp mean nothing to him. He is only happy when he shares the company, the fortunes and trials of his own humble people."

possible to avert a forced landing in France. When turning back when off the coast of Spain it was Dr. Eckenner's deplorable intention to make Friedrichshafen under the dirigible's own power, even though two of its motors were already out of commission.

The third motor passed out near Sines and the fourth motor was damaged when passing over Montclair. In the hours that followed the violence of the cold northwest wind forced a change in his plans, necessitating even his eventual call for help to the French authorities.

"We have failed to cross the Atlantic as we had done before and as we shall do again before long," Dr. Eckenner said.

"French naval authorities were found in their praise of the manner in which Dr. Eckenner had handled his ship in an extremely difficult situation. 'Consummate art, I call it,' Rear Admiral Henry remarked.

polo for ladies, musical mule race and push ball. Through Robert Withycombe, of the experiment station, a push ball will be sent to Union from the Oregon State college. Prizes, amounting to more than $200, are being offered in these events.

The dates of the show are June 5, 6 and 7.

Plan Thorough Tests

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 18 (AP)—Thorough tests and examinations of the motors of the Graf Zeppelin which failed so soon after her departure for the United States on her second transatlantic voyage will be made by German motor experts to determine just what went wrong.

The suspicion openly voiced in many quarters that sabotage was responsible was strongly doubted today by engineers and other high officials.

Reports Abundant, Eckenner Says

CHIEFS, France, May 18 (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckenner today characterized as "abundant" reports that the engine trouble of the Graf Zeppelin came from sabotage.

"Where would the sabotage have taken place?" he asked.

Dr. Eckenner himself has taken charge of the mechanical examination of the motors of his great ship which failed him so badly on his second voyage to the United States.

However, well the adventure ended, Dr. Eckenner obviously was chagrined by the breakdown. "I have had wrecks at sea, but this is the first time on land," he said to the German consul at Toulon, who came to greet him. "I ended in the best possible manner, without a scratch."

Large Crowd at Show Staged by Baker Chamber

By W. V. Conifer

(Observer Correspondent)

UNION, Ore. (Special)—Several hundred Union folk turned out Friday night at the school gym to enjoy the vaudeville show which the Baker county chamber of commerce had advertised and they were not disappointed. The visitors from our neighboring county presented a varied program consisting of vocal numbers, piano solos, acrobatic stunts, tea and tap dancing and dramatics. These Baker people are starting out on their annual tour of Eastern Oregon with their free program, last Friday night's performance being their opening night for this year. Following the program by the Baker people the Stock show committee held a benefit dance.

Exactly 80 boys and girls in the eighth grade of the local schools wrote on the state examinations Thursday and Friday, the last two days of school for Union. Including the sixth and seventh grade pupils who took the tests in geography and physiology, almost one hundred applicants from this school took part in the state exams.

J. J. Lovhaug, who moved to Union with his family about three years ago, is leaving in a few days for southern Idaho and northern Utah. The Lovhaugs will locate in that vicinity making it more convenient for Mr. Lovhaug in being near the headquarters of the company for which he is a traveling salesman. While in Union the family took an active part in the work of the L. D. S. church.

Among the variety of arena amusements which will replace most of the former bucking contests at the stock show, this year's program will include such races as barrel, polo, halloo, barbeque, tug of war, musical mule, horseback archery and push ball. Adequate prize money will be given for these events, the association believing that the training of horses for the work necessitates the offering of ample prizes.

Wednesday evening the annual class play of the senior class of the Union High school was held at the school gym. This play depicted scenes along the Rio Grande, Hob Cox and Peggy Weaver taking Spanish roles. Ted Hutchinson, Alfred Stonedahl and George DeLap were officers in the regular service. Joe Parent was the duke from the East whom Vallie made over into a real man. Hoy Burnett was a loquacious western "Judge" and Leona Spray, his much worried wife. Kenneth Prather was a would-be cowboy and La Verne Clark had the part of the leading lady. According to the verdict of the audience the parts were all very well rendered, especial praise being given to Hob Cox as the Spanish snob, whose acting was equal to that of a professional. Applauding were put on between acts by Elyn Greenstein and Marian Boyles who sang two old-time

He continued to make many public appearances during his years as a practicing attorney, in New York and elsewhere, following his graduation, and since coming to the University of Oregon has made many public addresses in this state.

On a recent tour with Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the university, he visited at La Grande and there addressed a meeting of alumni and former students of the university.

Arrangements are being made by Oregon alumni and former students to have an informal meeting with Mr. Barker when he comes to La Grande during this month.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Schuster, who came up from Tillamook to attend the convention of medical men in La Grande, were also visiting old friends in Union the latter part of the week. The Schusters were former residents here, he having practiced in Union for a few years previous to going to the coast.

Mrs. Irvin Wolf and little son are here from Baker guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wolf. They came down in order to attend the exercises connected with the closing of the Union high school, of which Mrs. Wolf was a graduate two years ago.

James Webb and J. H. Jones are planning to again spend the summer in the Thunder mountain region in Idaho as they did part of last summer. They will go in as soon as the roads are passable.
