We shall expect everlasting peace when small boys sit up at night to read about a hero who will not fight because it isn't nice.

Next week La Grande will observe Memorial day, see the first Home Products Show. The following week the new normal school will be dedicated and the Stock Show at Union will have its 21st showing. And it's such nice fishing weather, too.

Michael, seven-year-old king of Rumania, enjoyed his first military review recently when a hundred thousand soldiers marched past for four hours. Rumania, a country not as big as the state of Oregon, with a hundred thousand under arms and available for parade purposes. And we hear much talk about armament reduction and world peace.

Parking on Adams avenue begins to be more of a problem as the days of summer approach. On some days of the week it is extremely difficult for the visiting shopper to find space within the business district. Some more strict regulation will become necessary, and it is going to be impossible to satisfy the man who likes to leave his car on the street all day while he is at work while satisfying the matron who wishes to park for a few minutes shopping. It is an important matter that has received little attention in the past because congestion was not too great. But traffic increases each year. The community is growing as a trading center and in the warm months tourists are numerous on our streets. To make it easier, more convenient for people to visit the business district and spend their money is necessary in the interests of better business.

NEW PAYROLLS ARE WAITING

Any substantial increase in business activity naturally results in an increase in manpower to carry on that activity. And that increase in manpower means an immediate increase in payroll and the community buying power. With additional manufacturing plants desired by everyone interested in community prosperity, the greatest opportunity for that addition in La Grande lies in the opportunity to increase the output and payroll of those factories already here and in operation.

If all the people in this county purchased products manufactured and produced in this valley wherever possible, the added business activity and increase in number of people employed would be astounding. That they fail to do so is largely a matter of failing to know about home products. And that is the purpose of the Home Products Show being sponsored by the chamber of commerce scheduled for the last two days of next week.

Most of the things manufactured in Union county will be attractively displayed there. Interesting facts about the quality of these products will be available and an entertaining program is planned. It will give people of this community a chance to learn about their own industries, to sell themselves on the products of those industries. And there will be lots of "I-didn't-know" and "I-never-realized" exclamations as La Grande citizens discover things that have been in their own back yard, as it were, for many years without their becoming acquainted with them.

The Home Products Show will have a big educational value and will be largely attended, but it will be of small permanent value unless the citizens of the community enter into the spirit of this home products promotion and give locally manufactured products a trial in their buying after the show is a thing of the past. It is the one immediate means of adding new payrolls and increasing every resident's opportunity for greater prosperity. Save Friday and Saturday nights of next week for this event. Go see the displays. Find out how you can speed the money-turnover in Union county by buying these home products. It's not only a matter of community loyalty; it's a matter of good business.

Medium Extras Decline Cent In Portland Today

PORTLAND, Ore., May 23 (AP)—Medium extra eggs declined one cent to 26 cents today. Other egg grades and all butter grades remained at Wednesday's figures. The prospects of unlimited lamb chops for breakfast loomed today with the bottom fallen out of the mutton market. Stockyards had cut something like a full dollar off the price with the wholesale meat merchants following suit for the dressed product. Yearling lambs went from 25 and 28 cents to 18 and 20, and spring lambs dropped from 30 and 32 cents to 25 and 28 cents. The lamb supply has kept up but the demand appears to have failed off to a marked extent.

Stocks Rally Today in Wall Street Trading

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—The Bull party rallied on the New York stock exchange today and managed to repair some of the damage done in yesterday's dramatic break, before considerable nervous selling cropped out again in the early afternoon, when it was announced that the federal reserve board had gone into session in Washington. The upturn, which carried about a score of important issues up $2 to $8 from the low levels reached at yesterday's close, was based on the theory that the market had reached bottom, and the view in some quarters that the expected increase in the New York Federal Reserve bank's redemptive rate would not be made this afternoon, as the bank of England announced no change in its rate this morning. Allied Chemical and General Electric were bid up $8 a share. International telephone, American Power and Light, American and Foreign Power, and Packard about $4. New York Central, American Can, Radio, American, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Goodyear $2 to $4. Auburn auto, after dropping $7 in the morning, rose $8 in the early afternoon. Studebaker slid $2.50 lower to a new 1929 low at $74. U. S. Steel, having mounted about $4 to above $170, slid back below that level.

Wheat Irregular In Chicago Market

CHICAGO, May 23 (AP)—Selling out on the part of yesterday's buyers turned wheat values downward here early today. Selling was based on reports from railroad sources indicating, contrary to bullish advices, the Canadian moisture situation gave no reason for alarm. Opening unchanged to 3/8c off, the wheat market later underwent decided setbacks all around. Corn, oats and provisions were easy, with corn starting unchanged to 3/8c down, and continuing to sag. Wheat closed irregular, 1/2c net decline to an equal advance, corn, 1/4 to 1/2 up, oats 1/4 to 3/8 advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 7 cents.
