

Strong as NEW after 50 Valetor Pressings

SCIENTIFIC tests of the Valetor method of clothes pressing (the method we use) showed that wool fabrics pressed fifty times by the regulated steam-pressure method, using Valetor equipment, were strong as new! And, the color of the fabric was unchanged. Have your clothing pressed the safe Valetor way. It will last longer. There will be no visible soiling or damage to the cloth. It will look better. Valetor pressing raises the nap, restores the lustre of the cloth, and brings back the trim tailored lines of each garment. Your clothes stay young when they're pressed the Valetor way!

Market Trading Active Today As Holiday Nears

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29 (AP)—Market trading was unusually active and supplies were plentiful today in preparation for Thursday's holiday.

Fresh fruits and vegetables were abundant at reasonable prices. But prices were unchanged and will remain at present figures until further bidding at the Dairy Exchange in the absence of a Thursday session, the quotations will hold over at least until the Friday session.

Poultry and fresh meat values were steady, with a brisk demand maintaining prices. Firmness of Oregon strawberries in reaching the market was keeping the price up.

Receipts of green peas from the Dulles were increasing, but were being disposed of readily at 8 to 16 cents a pound.

Home-grown vegetables are plentiful. New cabbage, head lettuce and spinach are also abundant and cheap. The cabbage price ranges from 5 to 20 cents and the small heads of lettuce as low as three for 10 cents. The best tops were said to be excellent when used as greens.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., May 29 (AP)—The market is fairly active on grades of 58, 60 fleece and territory wools. Strictly combing fleeces of 58, 60 quality are bringing 44 to 45 cents in the gross for bulk.

Some sales have been closed at 43 cents. The estimate of prices of 58-60 strictly combing wools are in range of 95 to 98 cents on both fleece and territory lines. Ohio 60's strictly combing brings 44 to 45 cents in the gross, while territory wools of similar description have moved at 37 to 39 cents.

HEALTH

Reveal! Slowly, Very Slowly Man Has Changed
By G. W. Guler, M. D., Health Officer, Rochester, N. Y.

Slowly, very slowly, man changed his habits; he cut his hair, threw away his wig, began to wash and bathe, had his clothes washed more frequently—once in two or three weeks—and bathed his body occasionally. His only bath had been ceremonial at birth or death. He thus got rid of part of his vermin and also of the plague, typhus, and other diseases that vermin brought to him. He learned to have his hair cut close by and to brush it. He hasn't yet learned that it is just as important to comb and wash his hair-brush as it is to brush his hair. Combing, which comes off the head naturally, is usually an exchange of dirt between a dirty brush and a dirty head and scalp. Vigorously brush the hair and scalp. Comb out the brush and wash it. Do this instead of using hair tonics. They are as useless as complexion creams.

If man has given little proper attention to his head, he has given much less to his feet. He doesn't even wash them daily. He cramps his feet into improperly fitting shoes, which results in the development of corns, bunions, blisters, hammer-toes and foot distortions, even to distortions of the bones of the feet. And then he wonders why his feet get tired and why he gets tired. If a census were taken of Rochester or any other city to reveal how frequently man properly trimmed his toenails, that is straight across, it would probably show a small percentage of men doing it properly. If a man is well and gets tired, let him bathe, change his socks and clothes, wash his head, brush his hair, trim his toenails, and he will get into good and vigorous feeling and do more for himself than any quack could promise to do for him. He says that he cannot afford the time. Well, is it baths or cigarettes? Do they serve the man remember the care of the feet, the washing of socks, the fitting of shoes in the army? Did they learn the army lesson of care of the feet and carry it home to others?

Man eats too much. Our people in the richest nation in the world eat too much food. They do not drink enough water. Man ought to drink three pints of water a day. He ought to drink sweetened milk or better, better and cleaner than ever before. He ought to eat fruit—apples, oranges, grapefruit, bananas. He ought to eat less meat, more vegetables, especially green vegetables, raw cabbage, radishes, onions, and eggs and fish. He ought to have some liver, a little kidney, some mallow and tripe, even if only a little piece, as big as the end of a finger, once a week. He is warned against the food cranks and against the special foods with long sounding names and high prices. They are worthless. There is no food of any kind that has anything more or even as much health and strength-giving principles as water, milk, meat in moderation, and some liver, kidney, sweetened milk, green vegetables, cereals, bread, and fruits. Anything else you buy for food you are just paying for a name.

Along with these things man should have recreation too. Recreation away in the fields, in the woods where the air is cleaner and the sounds sweeter, more restful than in the dwellings, the rooms, shops and streets of the city.

There are many other things to do. Live a quiet and restful life; get air into rooms and work places; go to your doctor for a physical check-up at least once a year; take more baths; give more attention to the feet, head, and mouth; and keep a clean body, a clean mind and a merry heart.

Wheat Unsettled With Little Change

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—Wheat scored substantial gains in price here early today, helped by an unexpected return in wheat quotations at Liverpool. Sellers of wheat in Chicago were much less numerous than of late, and the market readily advanced with aggressive buying in evidence, largely from commission house sources. Opening at a shade decline to 1/4 gain, Chicago wheat later rose all around. Corn, oats and provisions developed strength too, with corn starting 1/4 off to 1/2 up, and subsequently showing a general advance. Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's high to 1/2 higher, corn unchanged to 1/2 down, oats at 1/2 decline to 1/4 gain and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1/2 cents.

WEAKNESS IN WALL STREET TRADE TODAY

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Renewed weakness of the farm implement shares threatened to bring about another sharp reaction in the stock market today, but the selling pressure was checked by an unusually brisk demand for the rail and public utilities. Several of which reached new high ground. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

The coppers were brought forward as leaders when the list threatened to sag under fresh liquidation of the farm implement, fertilizer and news stocks. Advance was slow to 2 1/2, and the rally preferred to 44, while Wright Aero dropped 7 1/2 to 117, a new low for the year. Curtiss lost 5. Commonwealth power extended its gain to 15 points and gains of 5 to 8 points were made by international match preferred, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, common and preferred, St. Joseph lead, Jewel tea, American Bank Note, Auburn Motors and Boston and Maine. The close was irregular. Sales approximated 3,100,000 shares.
