PRESIDENT H. E. INLOW

The Eastern Oregon Normal School has been the goal for years of those in this section who have been interested in education. Its actual construction and dedication mean that, at last, this area east of the Cascades is to be served by a state institution of higher learning. A beautiful building, a faculty of the highest type, and the capacity for efficient organization and fine service of its president, H. E. Inlow, promise a school of which the entire state can be proud. Pendleton people congratulate La Grande and Eastern Oregon on realizing this progressive accomplishment.

THIS NEW SCHOOL MERITS THE SUPPORT OF ALL EASTERN OREGON
