MENUS

By Sister Mary
Frozen desserts are always greeted with delight and they are so easy to make that it seems advisable to use them often during the warm weather.
Ice cream when made with milk and junket can be given to small children without any fear of ill effect, provided it is eaten slowly. Small bites on the tip of the spoon and not too close together prevent small tumblers from being chilled by the cold dessert.
A frozen custard which is not too rich and does not contain nuts and fruit can also be used for children.
If grown-up tastes demand something more than plain vanilla ice cream, a sauce can be served for their benefit.

About Freezing Desserts
The woman who can freeze her dessert in an electric refrigerator saves the time and effort required for crushing ice. But it's not hard work to crush ice and there are many mixtures which can be frozen without turning a crank.
Slow, steady freezing rather than much and vigorous stirring gives ice cream its smooth texture. Hurried freezing instead of stirring or not-stirring is what makes a coarse granular ice cream. The smaller the amount of salt used in freezing mixture, the more velvety the dessert. If the ice cream is wanted quickly the freezing time can be shortened by scraping the frozen cream away from the sides of the mold every 20 minutes.
Junket ice cream can be flavored with vanilla or made into a chocolate ice cream by the addition of two squares of melted chocolate.
Extreme cold dulls the taste

SHE MAY BE SCHMELING'S BRIDE

It took a 19-year-old Czech-American girl to knock Max Schmeling, German heavyweight fighter, head-over-heels—in love. Miss Jarmla Yackova, above, now is in Prague starring in a movie, but she'll have to hurry back or lose her American citizenship. Then she expects to see Herr Schmeling, shown in inset, who has returned to this country to continue his campaign for the championship.

nerve, so frozen mixtures must be extra sweet and highly flavored.
Junket Ice Cream
Three cups milk, 1 cup sugar, 1 junket tablet, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 1 cup whipping cream, few grains salt.
Heat milk and sugar until lukewarm. Crush junket tablet and dissolve in water and vanilla. Add to warm milk and let stand until mixture jellies and is cold. Turn into freezer mold packed in ice and salt and let stand five minutes. Add cream whipped until firm and mix thoroughly. Freeze several hours.
One part of ice cream mix to six parts of ice is a good proportion to use for this mixture.
If pasteurized milk is used use an extra half tablet of junket.

CHURCH-ITALIAN STRIFE IS ENDED

VATICAN CITY, June 7 (AP)—The 60-year-old strife between the Roman Catholic church and the Italian government was solemnly ended this forenoon with exchange of ratifications of the Lateran treaty of February 11 by Premier Mussolini and Cardinal Gasparri, papal undersecretary of state.
The copy of the treaty handed by Il Duce to the Papal secretary of state bore the signature and seal of Victor Emmanuel, Italy's King, while that handed sir Mussolini was signed and sealed similarly by Pope Pius XI.
The ceremony was simple and brief. There were no speeches and it was terminated with a simple completion process in which it was attested the exchange had been made.

The formality, momentous for the Roman Catholic world and the Italian state, occurred in the hall of congregations in Cardinal Gasparri's private apartment in the Vatican.
From the moment of the exchange the Lateran treaties entered into full vigor and effect. The new governor of Vatican City, Commendatore Camillo Serafini, entered officially upon his duties and the Swiss guard took up posts at the new entrances to the Vatican territory.
The great bronze doors opening out upon the colonnade of St. Peter's square which remained shut for 59 years were opened wide as a significant symbol of the new state of things.
Observator Romano this afternoon published the full text of the Lateran accords, the documents relative to ratification and the new law of the Papal state which was prepared by the lawyer Francesco Pacelli, intermediary for the Pope and Mussolini during the two years of negotiations.
The exchange also made effective the financial provisions of the Lateran treaties by which the Vatican received bonds for 1,000,000,000 lire (about $52,000,000) 750,000,000 lire cash (about $39,000,000) this latter was given the Holy See in the form of a letter of credit on the Bank of Italy. The Vatican will open a running account with that institution.
A New York girl who black-jacked and robbed victims was captured by police the other day. In other words, a knockout.
We're a little ahead of Mexico, anyway—we don't call our bank robbers revolutionists yet.

Detroit Girl Is Slain Near Hotel

DETROIT, June 7 (AP)—Miss Patricia Le Clair, 21, a hotel counter clerk, was found slain early today in an alley in the rear of the hotel at which she worked. The girl's feet were bound and a gag had been forced into her mouth. Attendants at the hotel said the girl left there shortly after midnight with an unidentified man.
The next thing for Dr. Schacht, the German reparations expert, to turn his hand to might be the writing of a book entitled, "Famous Installation Collectors I Have Fooled, and How."
