MENUS

By Sister Mary

There is no time of the year when hearty salads are as welcome as during the summer months. On a hot noon we are decidedly grateful for the cooling freshness of both the looks and taste of a salad that furnishes our needed calories as well as mineral salts and vitamins.

The cook will find it much easier to serve her main dish as a salad than in some other form. She can keep her kitchen cool during the heat of the day since no fire is needed for prolonged cooking. The salad materials must all be prepared ready for mixing sometime before they will be needed and since no salad should be mixed until ready to be served, she has no cause to worry over its "spoiling" if the family is late in coming.

If you have never used string beans in salad combinations you have overlooked one of the best vegetables for salads. They don't lose their shape and become "mushy" as some vegetables do and they combine particularly well with meat. The young, early varieties are most attractive, used whole. They should be cooked until just tender in as little water as possible.

The following salad can be varied in many ways. Match-like pieces of veal and carrots can be substituted for beans and tongue suggested in the recipe.

Salad

One and one-half cups cold cooked string beans, 1 cup cold cooked ham, 1 cup cold cooked tongue, Bermuda onion, green pepper.

Cut ham and tongue in pieces the same size as the beans. Mix and add 2 tablespoons vinegar and 4 tablespoons salad oil beaten with 1-2 teaspoon salt and 1-8 teaspoon pepper. Cover and let stand in refrigerator for an hour or longer. When ready to serve drain from dressing and arrange each individual service in a ring of onion and green pepper. Place on a leaf of head lettuce and serve with boiled dressing.

Boiled Salad Dressing

Three eggs, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon mustard, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 cup oil, 1-2 cup vinegar.

Mix and sift sugar, salt, mustard and pepper. Add to yolks of eggs and mix thoroughly. Beat in oil using a mixer beater. Beat in vinegar. Cook over hot water and remove as soon as mixture coats the spoon. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Chill and serve.

Guest Speakers In Pulpits Here Sunday Morning

Christian, Episcopal and Baptist Churches Announce Talks by Workers from out of Town.

Three guest speakers are announced for Sunday in La Grande churches. D. Middeke, of Everett, Wash., will speak at the First Baptist church at the regular morning hour, and Miss Mildred Hess will sing "Consider the Lily" by DeLoos Smith. The Rev. Oliver H. Cleveland, rector of Mount Vernon, Wash., will preach the morning sermon at the Episcopal church. Miss Grace Young, a returned missionary from Tibet, is to speak at the Central Church of Christ Sunday morning.

Miss Young is a college-mate of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Putnam and is being entertained in their home during their stay here. Since leaving Eugene Bible university in Eugene in 1915 they have not met.

After leaving school Miss Young was quite ill and for a time her recovery was doubtful. Dr. A. L. Sheldon, pioneer missionary to Tibet, was shot by Tibetan bandits. Shortly after his death a call for volunteer missionaries for foreign fields. Miss Grace Young was one to answer the call and being qualified was sent to Tibet.

This is her first furlough and inasmuch as she comes from the only Christian mission in that far-off land on the "roof of the world" she has a particularly interesting story to tell. She comes from a land of superstition, ignorance and idolatry, a land infested with robbers and organized brigands; a land mountainous and very hazardous to travel; a land isolated from civilization.

Late-hatched chicks need special attention to make sure they grow well since conditions for growth are less favorable than early in the season. They should be separated from the early-hatched chicks and provided with plenty of feed, using a mash hopper 6 feet long to every 200 chicks. Milk in some form in the chick ration is a great help in bringing along late-hatched chicks.
