stein calf which Dr. Phy gives each year. Two things happened. First, in the eyes of the judges, Freddie's cow did not place first but fourth, second, Dr. Phy brought two calves to the grounds. After a short conference between the two, Freddie led home a purebred Holstein calf.

Rev. Hershey in Accident
Friends in La Grande received word last week of very serious injuries sustained by Rev. W. S. Hershey and his son, Willis, in an auto accident at Ventura, California. Rev. Hershey who has been pastor of several Methodist churches in the valley recently resigned his pastorate in Wallawa to go to California to join Mrs. Hershey who had been obliged to go to California some time ago on account of her health. Mrs. Hershey and the three boys started about two weeks ago from this valley. When they were within less than 100 miles of their destination the car left the highway, struck a palm tree and was completely wrecked. Mr. Hershey received very serious injuries, including some internal injuries and lies in a very critical condition. The son, Willis, besides other injuries had his face so badly lacerated that 24 stitches were required to close the wounds. It is said that his face will be badly disfigured. Receipts Increased
The increase in the dairy industry over in Wallawa county is evidenced by the receipts of cream deposited at one creamery there last week, when enough butterfat was brought in in one day to make just a ton of butter. Compared with the conditions two years ago, this amount equals the receipts of a whole week. "We are getting more cream in a single day than arrived in a week five years ago. This is due very largely to the increase in the dairy business in this county, to the better cows, found in the dairy herds and to the higher prices being paid for butter fat." It is said.

Entertaining in Country
Mrs. Herbert Speckhart, in the Iowa district, is entertaining the members of the Methodist Ladies aid from town this afternoon at her country home.

Pioneer Teacher Injured
Pioneers in La Grande and the valley were intensely interested and grieved likewise to read in the Portland papers last week, that Prof. Joseph L. Carter of Portland had been struck by an automobile, thrown down and severely injured. Saturday, Prof. Carter was at one time president of the Blue Mountain university located in La Grande, where many residents of the valley received their higher education. Mr. Cole is one of the few owners of cattle of this breed in this section, but he has some fine animals, perhaps 10 in all. He has some Jerseys on his place also, but is gradually replacing them, with the intention of having nothing but the Swiss later. He has not yet gone into the improved business, but has splendid grade cows. His partiality to this breed is in evidence in his splendid qualities both as dairy and beef animals, he says. Mr. Cole and his father were among those first interested in the cooperative marketing of dairy products, and is still greatly interested in movements along this line.

To Meet Saturday
The sons and daughters of Union County Pioneers are to meet Saturday afternoon at the city hall at 2:30 to plan for the annual pioneer reunion and for the transaction of other business.

Lostine Clinic To Be Held On Friday, June 14
By Mrs. William Wiggins (Observer Correspondent)
LOSTINE, Ore. (Special)—Preparations are being made for the annual picnic for the benefit of the north end road Friday June 14. The picnic will be held near Flora in the Applegate grove, as is the custom. The picnic last year was a decided success and a new turn to the evening netted them a new turn to be applied on the highway project is leading from Enterprise to Flora. This year they will complete the road into Lewiston. A good program and sports of all kinds are assured and the public is invited.

Seven Attending Summer Course At Corvallis

Seven boys and girls from Union county started Sunday morning for Corvallis to be present when the opening run is fired at the special two weeks summer course offered to members of the 4-H clubs of the state. In the company were Allen Mills, Cove, Baby Humeau, of Imbler, Clayton Fox of Imbler, Herbert Blokland of Island City, Quentin Bowman of North Powder, Ruth Comstock of Cove and Troy Beck of Cove. The first five mentioned earned their scholarships at the state fair of last year, while the last two won them this year at the Eastern Oregon Livestock show.

The scholarship to the summer course at the state college is a goal for which every livestock club member works throughout the year—it is a much coveted honor and it is one which has been earned by scores of Union county boys and girls. The two weeks planned by the college are chock full of good times—instructive as well as entertaining and during the entire time those who have the privilege are really "carried around on chips." This year the railroads cooperated, too, by making special rates and those going from here made the trip to Corvallis and return for a little over $5. This made possible a wonderfully interesting vacation for seven club members on a very small outlay.

Hearings were conducted by the Rev. Arthur Harrison in Lostine Sunday afternoon at the Christian church. A large concourse of friends paid their last respects to Mrs. Hearing. She was one of Wallawa's pioneers and had many friends here. Mrs. Hearing was the mother of 11 children, four having preceded her in death. Those surviving are, Mrs. Alice Hayne, of Bend, Ore.; Mrs. James Leeper, Mrs. Otto Doherty, of Medford; Mrs. George Childers, Mrs. Oliver Woods, of Lostine, George Hearing of Wallawa, and M. V. Hearing of Wallawa.

Mrs. William McKinzie, of Lower Valley, has a pet lamb which she raised on-cow's milk that when it was 48 days old weighed 48 pounds, or a pound a day which is considered quite a record.

The marriage of Miss Ruby Roop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Roop of Enterprise and Robert V. Christian, of Enterprise, was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of Miss Roop. Her many friends, they left on a two weeks honeymoon trip to Portland and other coast cities. The groom is a promising young lawyer of Enterprise where he is practicing at this time.

A very pretty home wedding at the home of the groom's parents occurred Tuesday night when Florence Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman, of Polawatka, became the bride of Lawton McDaniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McDaniel, of Wallawa. Following the ceremony the happy couple left for Portland for a short honeymoon trip.

A car load of lime was shipped from the Black Marble and Lime company Monday. The plant has not been in operation for some time but it is hoped that operations will begin before very long.

Mrs. Ceell Childers and Mrs. Albert Dalsley left Sunday for Portland. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Dean Crow. Mr. Crow goes to represent the Lostine Masonic lodge at grand lodge which convened in Portland Monday June 10. Mrs. Childers will represent Agency Chapter O. E. S. at the grand lodge meeting.

Mr. Maxine Pearce Swartz of Lostine, is a member of the graduating class from the University of Oregon this year. Miss Ruth Hensley will graduate from Monmouth normal.

D. B. McDaniels, proprietor of the McKinzie place, sold his confectionery to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley who have taken possession. Mrs. Bradley will have charge.

Lester Allen, of Hermiston, has moved his family into the Dick Cole home.

Joe and Jake Hallgarth, of Elgin, spent Sunday with Bert and Norris Cussins. Bert Cussins was employed by the Hallgarths for five years.

Mrs. J. B. Tilton has returned from a two weeks visit with friends in La Grande.

60 CLUB MEMBERS EXHIBIT 100 HEAD OF FINE LIVESTOCK

Sixty members of the boys and girls livestock clubs over the county, working through nine clubs, exhibited 100 head of livestock last week at Union, an exhibit that called for great commendation from all visitors at the show from Gov. L. L. Patton, of the state of Oregon, down. The list of awards is long and very illuminating. To be published in two installments, the list of special awards is given today, which shows that the special prizes went to a large company of boys and girls who have been doing faithful and effective work during the year. The list includes the donor of the prize, the animal for which it was given, the recipient and the amount of the premium.

"Pilgrims" Youthful

The average age of the Pilgrims, with the exception of Brewster and his wife and Cayser and his wife, was probably less than twenty-five years. William Bradford, their governor for so many years, was then only thirty-three; Edward Winslow, a subsequent governor, was then twenty-five; Miles Standish was thirty-six; John Alden was twenty-one; Gilbert Winslow was twenty-one; John Howland was twenty-seven; and Samuel Fuller was nineteen.

True to Form

1886 - Over 40 Years Grain Saving Service - 1929

Model 36 Holt Combine 16 1/2 or 20 Foot Header, 36-inch Separator. Combines 4 to 7 Acres per Hour.

Save Long, Down Grain

Even when the grain grows tall, falls over—even then Holt Combined Harvesters save the grain. The header, evenly balanced, gets down low—under the mass of tangled straw. The wide header canvas, high header back, roomy feeder house—these features enable Holt combines to handle long, matty, masses of straw. The separator has big threshing capacity.

Fast rotating pickers and beaters effectively separate the grain from stubborn straw. The mass of straw is picked apart and the grain beaten out.

The wide separator gives ample capacity, insured grain savings, prevents clogging, enables profitable yields.
