

Every Dollar Spent Here Stays At Home to Help Union County

MANY MERCHANTS ARE OUR FRIENDS BECAUSE THEY KEEP LOTS OF THE DOLLAR FAMILY AT HOME BY ADVERTISING

There is a good story of a man who found himself bankrupt and came home to break the news to his better half. She did not seem so wonderfully depressed as he had expected, and asked him to go with her to visit her mother...

"You remember when we were married you promised me one dollar for every kiss. You always kept your word. I saved the money and it is the result."

In his astonishment the man exclaimed: "I wish I had done all of my kissing at home."

"The above is a fine example of trading at home," said "Bill" Dollar. "Every dollar you spend in Union county remains here to help the community."

"Do your buying—and your kissing—at home, and the money will be there when it most needed to help you."

A merchant on whom "Bill" Dollar was calling was heard to remark: "We are careful students of the mail order catalog. We know it better than our customers."

"That is why we say without hesitation that we can do better by our people than they can. There is a whole lot in a person know what he is talking about when he makes a statement of that kind."

"We believe in the principle of knowing your foe before you fight him. We know 'retail mail order.' We know its weaknesses and we are fighting it as hard as we know how. We haven't the least objection in telling you this either."

"Now we are not going to claim that we can undersell the retail mail order houses on everything. That would be a stupid falsehood that we would not have any chance of making good on."

"The retail mail order houses offer some things way down. There are what they call leaders. They get a person thinking well of them operate with other citizens. You earn your money here and should spend it here.

"We know this and can prove it. We know," continued the La Grande merchant, "that we can save you money on the aggregate of your purchases. We will figure up with you on an average month's supplies and actually show you where we can save you money."

"Some merchants are always asking for justice. We don't want it. All we ask is for a fair chance to prove to you what we can do."

"We have no quarrel with people for trying to make their money as far as possible. That is natural and proper. We have no fight to appeal to you for your trade because we need the money or on grounds of justice."

"But when the Union county merchants say we can save you money, we have established the right for a chance to prove our case, and when we have proved it that gives us a claim to your trade."

Every citizen of a community should think carefully about this role of living:

Buy goods from our own merchants and manufacturers, because:

You get good products. You give more work to home people.

You help to build your city's industries. You get quick service on deliveries.

You get fresh products. You owe it to your city to encourage them.

You can make your money do more work in your own city. You will feel better. You can save your local merchant without flinching. You can prove then that you are a loyal citizen in your own city. (Copyright, 1929, F. W. Mozart)

Merely Idle Stories

There is no authentic record of a cross between the human race and lower animals of any species whatever. According to the Smithsonian Institution, numerous reports of crosses between human beings on the one hand and apes, bears, dogs and other animals on the other have invariably proved groundless when investigated by competent scientists.

Enamel Substitute

As a substitute for Japanese enamel in decorating boxes and other things, a gelatinous substance produced by some of the larger varieties of snails is now used. It resists age and gives a brilliant surface when hard. Only experts can tell it from the more costly oriental substances.

Rumination in Animals

Sheep, cows, camels, deer and certain other animals do not chew their food when they eat, but pass it to a large compartment of their stomach known as the paunch. Later, when the animal has leisure, it draws the food to its mouth again and chews the food. This process is called rumination.

HEALTH

A SONG OF HATE, DISSIPATION AND ENEMIES CANNOT BE DEFEATED BY TO KILL THE FLY

By L. M. McCormick Asheville, N. C.

With eighty-nine cases of typhoid fever located in Asheville, our campaign against the house-fly, reinforced by a campaign against the unsanitary condition of certain parts of our city, especially the unsewered places and the open-backed privy, resulted in five years in reducing the number to 17 reported cases. The next year there were eight reported. The number rose to 13 the following year, but fell to 12 the year after, and in another year to 2.

AA typhoid may be considered the index of the health of the people. We think that prevalence or absence of flies may be taken as an index to the fundamental cleanliness of the community.

In breeding experiments, where several thousand flies were hatched on a given date in a large room, which was screened and ventilated and where food and water was supplied, 10 per cent died the first week, 50 per cent were dead at the end of the second week, all but five dead on the twenty-first day, and all dead on the twenty-third day. But in this case, many natural causes such as dissipation and enemies were eliminated. This observation, of course, applies only to the summer breeding habits. For all practical purposes in the field work, we can put the length of a fly's life as two weeks. Many observations in localities notoriously infected by spreading fly-infected manure in a territory practically free from flies have convinced me that two weeks will be the limit is shown in the effect of a "Clean Up and Keep Clean" effort in a fly-infested neighborhood. We can promise that the flies will disappear in two weeks, if the motto is faithfully observed. Sweat the fly, sweat him before he gets his wings—poison, trap, screen, but above all clean up and keep clean.

Balm and bomb are spelled differently but often have the same effect.

Perfect browning... perfect cooking

while you're out of the kitchen

It's amazingly easy to cook delicious meals in the Westinghouse "Flavor Zone" Oven. For it first browns, then cooks to perfection, without the slightest attention from you.

You merely set the clock on the oven and adjust the thermostat when you put the food in the cold oven. Then you're free until time to serve the meal. The heat comes on automatically and is shut off automatically at exactly the right time. You do not have to baste the meat or add water to the vegetables. And since cooking is entirely automatic, there's never any guesswork about results.

They are as savory and as appetizing as the rich juicy roasts, the sugar crusted hams, succulent vegetables and spicy puddings cooked in the famed Dutch ovens of old colonial days.
