Tennessee faces an unusual murder trial in the case of Miss Eva Jofor, above, of Georgetown, accused of having beaten a man to death with a wagon spoke because he tried to hug her. She is now at liberty under $10,000 bond. The victim was Lee Atchley, a Georgetown merchant, and Miss Jofor claims he tried to embrace her when she went to his store to make a purchase. She denies, however, that her blows caused his death.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

"My wife gets very mad at me," remarked old Oswald Lettner; "but it's an old wife, you'll agree. Who has an even temper?"

She—"I can tell a lady by the way she dresses. Can't you?"

He—"I never watched one dress."

Junius—"In 'Phillips' still so careful about his lawn."

Robinson—"He's getting worse. I saw him going over it this morning with his wife's vacuum cleaner."

"Some men robbed the bank last night and escaped in your car."

"You say they robbed the bank? Well, then maybe they can afford to run the car."

"We'd like to be rich and influential enough so that when we made a ringed-out simian of ourselves people who know about it would say, merely: 'How individual!'"

AMERICANISM: Spending so much money trying to win a girl that there isn't enough left to marry her.

Some consolation. Better to be loved and bossed than never to be loved at all.

Love is the quality that makes dish washing at nothing a week seem more attractive than typewriting at $35.00.

Lucky Digger

A German gardener dug up a gold coin minted in 1441. Only one specimen of this coin was known before and it was valued highly. He received for his the equivalent of a year's wage.

AT THE THEATERS

"Hardboiled" To Show At The Star
 Ralph Ince's EBO production, "Hardboiled," which concerns the love of a gold-digging Follies girl for a millionaire's son, at the Star theater Saturday.

"Hardboiled" stars Sally O'Neil with Donald Reed as the money-burning youth who keeps Broadway in a furor with his mad spending. Lilyan Tushman is cast as a Follies girl, the charm of Miss O'Neil. Miss Tushman, it will be remembered, is a former member of Ziegfeld Follies.

The EBO production is an adaptation of the story by Arthur Somers Roche. The continuity was written by Enid Hibbard.

Others in the cast number Bob Sinclair, Ole M. News, Tom O'Brady and Alphonse Ethier. Ince personally directed the feature.

Interesting But Dangerous Information
 Interesting but dangerous information is being given pretty little Sally by Miss Little Eve in the early scenes of the remarkable picture, "The Road to Ruin." Sally is played by new "Wampus" star, winsome, wistful Helen Foster and Eve by Virginia Royce.

What Eve is whispering to Sally is the most startling thing she has heard in all her tender years. This is but the beginning of the story. As it unfolds it awakens an absorbing interest in those that are viewing it. "The Road to Ruin" has taken its place among the few truly great pictures and proves again that the silent drama has not entirely lost its place in the hearts of the American theatergoers. It will first be shown at the Colonial theater starting Sunday.

New Mystery Film At The Colonial
 "A Midnight Adventure" is a mystery drama which we can promise you will give you the thrill of a lifetime. Cullen Landis and Edna Murphy are the leads, with Fred Kelsey, Ernest Hilliard, Betty Caldwell, Virginia Kirkley, Jack Richardson and Allan Sears lending the main support.

Set in the luxurious background of smart society it has great popular appeal, for the mystery angle is developed with due regard for romance and comedy, and it is a production that will win applause from every type of picture fan.

"The Midnight Adventure" is at the Arcade theater, where it opens today.
