Portland Dairy Exchange (Not listed): fresh standards extras, 28c; fresh standards firsts, 22c; fresh medium extras, 22c; fresh medium firsts, 20c, current receipts 21c. Standard Extra Eggs Slip Down; Cents Go Higher PORTLAND, Ore., June 22 (AP)—Fresh standard extra eggs declined half a cent to 22 on the Dairy Exchange today while fresh medium extras, because of scarcity, advanced one cent and a half to 22 1/2. Other grades were unchanged.

Butter was firm and without change. Because of the Eastern demand for July fourth supplies, condensed milk was 23 cents higher. Much of the California fruit has been taken up by this trade. Recession in price and increased supplies are expected after the Fourth. The Dalles was sending in some excellent cherries, which are wholesaling at 22 cents a pound. Labeled extra, said to be of extra quality, in plentiful and cheap. It is bringing 10 cents to 11.25 a dozen bunches.

Recovery In Stock Prices Continuing

NEW YORK, June 22 (AP)—The recovery in stock prices, which has been underway all week, was continued today under the leadership of the railroad and aviation shares. Industrials and public utilities also pointed upward, although weekend profit taking retarded the advance. With many traders away for extended weekend trips, the volume of business was relatively light.

Colombian Carbon ran up 4 points to a new high around 47 1/2 shares. Scissors, International Harvester, Baldwin, American Telephone, Commonwealth Power, Pacific Telephone and Hayes Holly sold 2 to 4 points higher.

Selling pressure was renewed against American waterworks and the stock dropped two points. The closing was strong, total sales approximated 1,750,000 shares.

Wheat Unsettled And Higher Today

CHICAGO, June 22 (AP)—With reports that the Kansas Oklahoma wheat crop outlook suggested a seriously wheat prices here today advanced after an early setback. Some rain in Canada together with Liverpool quotations lower than looked for made the wheat market here weaker early. Opening at 1/2 to 3/4 off, Chicago wheat advanced 2 1/2 cents to 1.05 1/2. Corn strengthened starting 1/2 to 3/4 down and later soaring all around gains. Oats were very sluggish, kept about steady.

Look beneath the hood and study the mechanical beauty of the new Ford

WHEN you look beneath the hood and study the engine of the new Ford, you will begin to understand how carefully this car is made, and see something, too, of the enduring quality that has been built into every part.

The engine of the new Ford embodies many new mechanical features. Because of its carefully-planned simplicity, it gives unusual acceleration, smoothness, speed and power without sacrifice of economy and reliability.

There is no better illustration of the care with which the new Ford is built than the close limits of measurement maintained in manufacturing.

In the new Ford, for instance, the diameter of the piston pin is held within three ten-thousandths (.0003) of an inch. An equally close limit is followed in the diameter of the hole into which the piston pin is fitted. The weight of the aluminum-alloy pistons is set at 177 1/2 ounces. No piston is permitted to come under this weight and it must not exceed this weight by more than 2 grams.

In the piston assemblies, consisting of piston, connecting rod, pin and spring retainer, the four assemblies in each motor must match in weight within a limit of 3 1/2 grams. This means that every piston assembly must meet the weight of each of the other assemblies in the set within approximately 1/8 of an ounce.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the new Ford and arrange for a demonstration. Only when you get behind the wheel can you fully appreciate the alert speed, acceleration, safety and comfort of this great new car.
