"Love In The Desert" Coming To The Star

There is a fascination for most people in the great Sahara desert and its people—the Arab tribesmen who stately resist the steady advance of the white races into their domain, the hard-riding Bedouins and the intrepid pioneers and soldiers who face the desert's dangers in the cause of civilization.

Much of this color and luring atmosphere is depicted in PBO's striking photoplay "Love in the Desert," which comes to the Star Theater on Tuesday with Olive Jordan, Noah Heery and Hugh Trevor in the featured roles.

It is based upon an absorbing story by Harvey Thew which centers about the warfare of a desert chief and his tribe upon an irrigation project fostered by an English company and approved by a rival sheik and his followers. The story also embraces a thrilling romance that entails the daughter of the latter mogul and a young Englishman who is sent out to the engineering work.

"Making The Grade" Now Showing at Star

"Making The Grade," a comedy romance written by America's foremost humorist, George Ade, and produced by Fox Films with Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran in the leading roles, is now showing at the Star.

This is a sparkling, happy picture in which a small town girl, as played by Miss Moran, tames and reduces the "swelled" head of the biggest catch and social lion, Edmund Lowe, in the state.

Laughter, heart interest and suspense are in this entertainment which incidentally shows American life as we all know it.

Exceptional Cast In Barthelmess Film at Arcade

An exceptional cast supports Richard Barthelmess in his newest starring vehicle, "Wayward River," which is now playing at the Arcade.

The first National star once again has Betty Compton as his leading woman, having had her previously in "Scarlet Seas," and a list of male character actors that reads like Hollywood's Who's Who.

The men in the cast include such names as William Holden, prominent in New York stage presentations both as actor and author; Louis Natheaux, one of the deepest-dyed villains on the screen; George Stone, the screen heavy who weighs less than 125 pounds; Raymond Turner, the colored actor who made such a favorable impression in "The Patent Leather Kid"; Robert O'Connor, who appeared as the detective in "The Noose," and Gladden James.

Many See "Road to Ruin" At Colonial

Those who saw the opening performances of "The Road to Ruin" at the Colonial last night, and the box office showed that there were many, witnessed a picture that they will remember a long time.

Little Helen Foster in the feminine lead made a lasting impression on the scores of people attending. Many predict a brilliant future for this beautiful bit of blonde girl, and hope to see her face often in the future.

Blue Mountain Grangers Tell Of State Meet

By Mrs. Charles Spencer (Observer Correspondent)

GRANGE HALL (Special)—Reports of the delegates who represented Blue Mountain grange at the state convention recently held at Myrtle Point was the principal feature of the program for the meeting when the grange met at the hall Wednesday evening.

According to L. F. Wright, delegate, Myrtle Point treated her visitors royally. There were only 288 grangers to take the 6th degree the smallest number for some years.

The judges were presented to the delegates through the courtesy of a Myrtle wood novelty manufacturer of North Bend. A thin small disc two and one-half inches in diameter made of highly polished Myrtle wood was attached to each ribbon and on the back of the disc the following lines: "Each piece is a Poem in Wood. In the heart of the Holy Land and in the state of Oregon there grows a tree known as myrtle—renowned for its beauty. In the depths of its lustrous surface the beauty of nature is preserved by the art of the Almighty for the pleasure of those who appreciate these beautiful gifts of nature." The programs were printed on paper-like slabs of cedar board, 5 by 19 inches in size, which were donated by a cedar products company of Marshfield. Mrs. Wright reported on the home economics department work. She also gave a graphic description of their trip to Haddon, a caravan of 168 cars making the trip. Another unique feature of the entertainment which impressed the visitors was the active part a Klamath Indian took in the different programs during the convention. He has the distinction of being the only Indian grange member in the United States. In finishing the report Mrs. Wright said that she was very much impressed with the country surrounding Myrtle Point and that the dairy herds which were made up mostly of Jerseys, were the best looking he had ever seen. At the business session which preceded the reports, one new member was voted into the order and it was decided to hold one meeting a month during the remainder of the summer.

The meetings will be held in the afternoon of the third Saturday of each month during the months of July, August and September.

Mrs. L. D. Smutz, Mrs. Charles Smutz, Dorothy Smutz and Dee Smutz arrived home from Month and other Willamette valley points Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. Smutz, her daughter-in-law and son left home Sunday, June 9 and arrived at Month Monday, stopping on the way in Salem to visit friends. In the evening, they visited Corvallis and June 11 they attended the graduation exercises where 139 students of the normal school received their diplomas. Miss Dorothy Smutz being one of the number. Tuesday afternoon the party left for Portland where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kordie until Thursday when they returned home. They also called on Mrs. J. P. DeLong and Mr. and Mrs. Eccles while in the Rose City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright and other relatives for the last week. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Renfrow left Wednesday morning for Wallowa county where they will look after property interests and visit with their four children. The Renfrows, who reside at Forest Grove, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wright home from the state grange convention. Mrs. Renfrow is Mr. Wright's sister.

Clark Colver, of The Dalles, left Tuesday for Walla Walla, Wash., after spending a week visiting with his mother, Mrs. Nellie Colver, and with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Lindsey and family. Mr. Colver went to the Tom Martin ranch near Walla Walla to work during hay and grain harvest. This is his fourth year at the same place.

Lewis Deppie accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Harris, who resides in Portland, and another sister-in-law who keeps house for him at his home in Nampa, Ida., and his son Clifford Deppie, of Nampa, stopped at the C. R. Geckeler home for a short visit recently while on route home from Portland. Mr. Deppie is a cousin of Mr. Geckeler and while here enjoyed a visit with other members of the Geckeler family. Mrs. Harris will spend a part of the summer with her daughter in Payette.

Paul Conrad left about three weeks ago for Baker county where he is employed as blacksmith in the lamps of the Stocking-Lambert company, 25 miles out from Baker. Mrs. Conrad is staying with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Lindsey while Mr. Conrad is gone.

Bobby Burns, of La Grande, is spending the summer vacation at the Mrs. Sara Anson farm.

Mrs. Sara Reddes and Mrs. Gregg will be joint hostesses to the country-women's club at the home of Mrs. Ira Kennedy June 28.

GRANGE HALL (Special)—Reports of the delegates who represented Blue Mountain grange at the state convention recently held at Myrtle Point was the principal feature of the program for the meeting when the grange met at the hall Wednesday evening.

According to L. F. Wright, delegate, Myrtle Point treated her visitors royally. There were only 288 grangers to take the 6th degree the smallest number for some years.

The judges were presented to the delegates through the courtesy of a Myrtle wood novelty manufacturer of North Bend. A thin small disc two and one-half inches in diameter made of highly polished Myrtle wood was attached to each ribbon and on the back of the disc the following lines: "Each piece is a Poem in Wood. In the heart of the Holy Land and in the state of Oregon there grows a tree known as myrtle—renowned for its beauty. In the depths of its lustrous surface the beauty of nature is preserved by the art of the Almighty for the pleasure of those who appreciate these beautiful gifts of nature." The programs were printed on paper-like slabs of cedar board, 5 by 19 inches in size, which were donated by a cedar products company of Marshfield. Mrs. Wright reported on the home economics department work. She also gave a graphic description of their trip to Haddon, a caravan of 168 cars making the trip. Another unique feature of the entertainment which impressed the visitors was the active part a Klamath Indian took in the different programs during the convention. He has the distinction of being the only Indian grange member in the United States. In finishing the report Mrs. Wright said that she was very much impressed with the country surrounding Myrtle Point and that the dairy herds which were made up mostly of Jerseys, were the best looking he had ever seen. At the business session which preceded the reports, one new member was voted into the order and it was decided to hold one meeting a month during the remainder of the summer.

The meetings will be held in the afternoon of the third Saturday of each month during the months of July, August and September.

Mrs. L. D. Smutz, Mrs. Charles Smutz, Dorothy Smutz and Dee Smutz arrived home from Month and other Willamette valley points Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. Smutz, her daughter-in-law and son left home Sunday, June 9 and arrived at Month Monday, stopping on the way in Salem to visit friends. In the evening, they visited Corvallis and June 11 they attended the graduation exercises where 139 students of the normal school received their diplomas. Miss Dorothy Smutz being one of the number. Tuesday afternoon the party left for Portland where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kordie until Thursday when they returned home. They also called on Mrs. J. P. DeLong and Mr. and Mrs. Eccles while in the Rose City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright and other relatives for the last week. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Renfrow left Wednesday morning for Wallowa county where they will look after property interests and visit with their four children. The Renfrows, who reside at Forest Grove, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Wright home from the state grange convention. Mrs. Renfrow is Mr. Wright's sister.

Clark Colver, of The Dalles, left Tuesday for Walla Walla, Wash., after spending a week visiting with his mother, Mrs. Nellie Colver, and with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Lindsey and family. Mr. Colver went to the Tom Martin ranch near Walla Walla to work during hay and grain harvest. This is his fourth year at the same place.

Lewis Deppie accompanied by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Harris, who resides in Portland, and another sister-in-law who keeps house for him at his home in Nampa, Ida., and his son Clifford Deppie, of Nampa, stopped at the C. R. Geckeler home for a short visit recently while on route home from Portland. Mr. Deppie is a cousin of Mr. Geckeler and while here enjoyed a visit with other members of the Geckeler family. Mrs. Harris will spend a part of the summer with her daughter in Payette.

Paul Conrad left about three weeks ago for Baker county where he is employed as blacksmith in the lamps of the Stocking-Lambert company, 25 miles out from Baker. Mrs. Conrad is staying with her mother, Mrs. J. B. Lindsey while Mr. Conrad is gone.
