I WONDER

If I were cast on a desert isle, Far out on a Southern Sea, With only skies that brown or smile To house and shelter me; If I were cast on an isle alone, Stripped bare to the brassy sky, Would I fight on with brown and bone, Or rail at the fates and die?

If I were thrown in a joust with Chance, In quest of love or fame, With nothing left save a shattered lance, And a head bowed down with shame;

If I were thrown, would this heart beat high, As hearts have throbb'd before; Or fallen—like a craven lie, To spurn me on no more?

If I were wrecked on rocks that wait In all of the lives of men, Would I bow down to cruel Fate, Or face me forth again?

If I were wrecked—Ah, what do we know Of the mystery that veils Behind that heaven bending low, Beyond the waiting years?

There is one great consolation in losing one's wealth even though it causes the loss of one's friends. One usually loses one's enemies, too.

He barks at the waiters, He barks at the clerks, He barks at home he just jumps When his wife's finger jerks!

Commercial Club At Union Visits Church Sunday

By W. V. Connor (Observer's Correspondent)
UNION, Ore. (Special)—Although attending divine services in a body is not generally included in the schedule for a commercial club, the Union club members were present Sunday morning at the Methodist church to hear the Rev. R. C. Lee. Mr. Lee has attended several club meetings and made addresses to the organization and the Sunday visit was to show their appreciation of his cooperation with the club.

Dan Hilleman, who was taken to Hot Lake seriously ill about a week ago, is in a critical condition. He was given a transfusion of blood to aid in building up his vitality.

L. A. Tidball and Walter Mayette were given the honorary degree in the local Odd Fellows lodge Friday evening. Among the visitors from other lodges were C. W. Clark and H. H. Little from Cave and Mr. Hall from near Portland.

Ralph Smith, who moved his family to Boise, Idaho, last week, has returned to Union and expects to continue working here for the present. He reports crops in the neighboring state as looking fine and being a little more advanced than in Eastern Oregon.

Mrs. Smith will remain in Boise for some time with her two daughters, Vivian and Marie, the former to attend a business college and the latter having a position in an office.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Sturgill, who have been living in La Grande for several years, came over Sunday to visit for a time with his brother, F. M. Sturgill. After leaving Union the couple will visit in Portland for a while and may then locate in California. The two Mrs. Sturgills are sisters.

Mrs. Johnny Martens, who was taken to the hospital at Hot Lake last week and underwent an operation for appendicitis, is reported as slowly recovering.

Mrs. Fred and Mrs. Dr. Osborne arrived in Union from Marshfield Friday for a visit at the home of their mother, Mrs. Sarah Shappatt. They were formerly Misses Edith and Kathel Shappatt, Union girls, and Fred Osborne was "ag" teacher in the Union high school before going to Marshfield. Dr. Osborne is now in Portland and expects to join his wife here later.

Mrs. Eva DeLap, Mrs. Clara Lee, Mrs. Jennie Johnson, Mrs. Eunice Schuck, Mrs. Cora Griggs, Mrs. Maud Hall, Mrs. Letha Tidball and Misses Emma Wolf and Fern Haight were the delegation from the Union lodge who attended the convention of the Neighbors of Woodcraft at Baker three days of last week.

Union growers in this end of the valley are experiencing difficulty with a small white worm that is practically destroying the crop. One grower has about four acres which are infested and several smaller patches have also been reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Crossland, of North Union, are entertaining a 7 1/2 pound daughter who arrived Thursday, June 20.

Mrs. Maud Rees returned home Wednesday from Tacoma where she has been visiting a daughter for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Edith Pihy, who has been visiting in Portland for the past week, arrived home Tuesday accompanied by her daughter, Margaret. Miss Margaret is home from Eugene for a short visit.

Included in the delegation from the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges of Union who attended the annual picnic in La Grande Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Connor and daughter Ruth, Wanita and Doris Sturgill, J. N. Scarborough, Alice Gambill, Pearl Shaw, Mary Mimick, Mary Allen, Mrs. D. M. Hoats, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kuhn.

An all-day meeting of the Methodist Ladies Aid was held at the church Wednesday, each member bringing a covered dish for the noon luncheon. In the afternoon needlework was laid aside for a while for the regular business meeting of the society.

HEALTH

PLAY THE GAME OF GOOD HABITS

By Dr. Howard F. Kilhary, Burlington, Vt.

Two minutes at home night and morning with the tooth brush may save a person dollars and hours in the dental office.

Dental health depends largely on habit. Good habits or bad habits—these are largely what make for the ultimate differences in dental health.

The ideal place to begin good habits is in the home. Children should early be made acquainted with them.

As soon as the first teeth are all erupted, a game can be made of keeping them clean. A small tooth brush used with a salt solution, and later, when the child is older, dry salt used on a wet brush will be found good for this purpose.

If the child is taught to use a tooth brush night and morning at the time he washes his face and hands, a good habit will be started.

When the teeth appear to be stained, and ordinary brushing will not remove the discoloration, the child should be taken to the dentist, who knows how to remove it. Incidentally, this is a good time for the child to get acquainted with the dentist and his equipment, because he can do so without being hurt in the least. It is important that the child's first impression of the dental office should be a good one.

One most important habit to form is that of frequent dental examination. This should begin with the small child in order that cavities in the first teeth may be discovered and filled—thus saving them until the permanent ones are ready to prick through the gums. Keeping the first teeth helps to keep the arches well shaped, and aids the digestion of the child. The first permanent teeth to appear are the six year molars. These erupt usually during the sixth year, but vary with different children. These teeth are very often neglected because they are thought by parents to be first or temporary teeth.

In the case of adults I would suggest that the habit of brushing the teeth night and morning be formed. It is also a good habit to use a mouth wash frequently, especially after eating.

If one happens to have to wear plates or some other removable denture, these habits must not be forgotten; they must be practiced more than ever before, because dentures are food catchers, and must be kept clean. They should be cleaned after each meal. Here again that plentiful combination, salt and water, can be used to advantage. It will keep the dentures and mouth clean and sweet.

NARROW ESCAPE

BERLIN, June 27 (AP)—M. Hinet, French consul here, had a narrow escape from death when an excited Lithuanian woman fired at him several times in the French consulate.

A porter caught the woman's arm and the shot went wild, lodging in the ceiling of the room.

It would be a dull life if one couldn't enjoy the luxury of an occasional mistake.

AT THE THEATERS

Evelyn Brent In Talking Movie At the Arcade

Evelyn Brent is not only playing a "bad woman" on the screen for the first time in her career, but is also enjoying the novelty of appearing in her first talking-picture role.

The voice that brought the actress into prominence on the British stage a few years ago is now recorded for Paramount's all-talking motion picture, "Interference," which opens today at the Arcade theater.

As the "other woman" in this audible picturization of the Roland Pertwee-Harold Dearden play, Miss Brent is depicted as a lady of many guises and many lovers, as well as a scheming and thoroughly unscrupulous person. It is she who causes trouble in the otherwise peaceful lives of Olive Brook and Doris Kenyon in the story until her lover, William Powell, steps in and takes a hand.

Miss Brent considers the role of Deborah Kaine one of the finest she has ever had. It has the same degree of intensity and drama as those in which she has scored her greatest successes. "Underworld," "The Showdown," "The Last Command" and "The Drag Net" are among the pictures in which she has played strong acting parts.

"Mother Knows Best" Now Showing at Star

Every woman is entitled to love! That is the underlying theme of "Mother Knows Best," Fox Films' picturization of Edna Ferber's sensational-selling novel, which is now at the Star theater. Featured in the picture are Madge Bellamy, Louise Dresser and Harry Norton.

From the day that the Ferber story swept the country and aroused all sorts of conjecture as to just which mother and daughter were "loved" by the authoress, film fans have awaited the screen version and their waiting will be well worth the effort when they see the picture.

"Mother Knows Best" is said to be one of the most human documents that ever has been brought to the screen. The supporting company includes Albert Gran, Jay Auburn, Stuart Edwin and Lucien Littlefield.
