JULY FOURTH TO BE QUIET IN LA GRANDE

No Celebrations Have Been Announced by Union County Towns.

ENTERPRISE WILL HAVE 2-DAY EVENT

Wallowa Lake Preparing for Biggest Day of Season—Hundreds to Fish and Picnic.

Fourth of July, now less than a week away, will be comparatively quiet in Union county, with the announcement being made this week that Elgin will have no celebration. In La Grande the day will be observed as a holiday and the greater share of the local people will seek their entertainment for the day out of town.

Enterprise is planning on a two-day celebration, with a dance the evening of July 2 as a preliminary to the main days. This celebration is expected to draw a large number from Union county.

Wallowa Lake Expectant

Wallowa lake is preparing for the biggest crowd of the season and if warm weather continues, thousands of people are expected to seek the "Switzerland of America" for the day.

More hundreds will go fishing, picnicking and swimming in the country around La Grande and nearby towns. Catherine creek, the Grande Ronde and Wallowa rivers, and other cooler spots will have their crowds.

Enterprise has made elaborate plans for the celebration, including spectacular events in the air by three airplanes, according to announcement in this week's Enterprise Record-Chieftain.

On Wednesday, July 3, a street parade will be held at 1 o'clock and at 2 p. m. race and rodeo sports will begin at the fair grounds, with fast horses, hard buckers and liberal purses as the main attractions.

Parade of Floats

On Thursday, July 4, a street parade of decorated floats is to be held at 10 o'clock in the morning and the program of races at the fair grounds is to begin at 1:30. Free fireworks will also be a feature at the fair grounds.

Dances will be held both Wednesday and Thursday evenings and carnival entertainment will also be offered. Music on the streets and at the fair grounds will be furnished by the Enterprise municipal band and American Legion drum corps.

Anna Freels won the contest for the queen of the celebration, the contest having been under way for the last ten days, and will preside during the two days.

ELECT STARR HEAD OF NEW STATE BOARD

PAID SECRETARY DUTIES OUTLINED

Presidents of Oregon Educational institutions are not to be Robbed of Prestige.

SALEM, Ore., June 28 (AP)—The presidents of Oregon educational institutions of higher learning are not to be robbed of any dignity, self-respect or prestige by any official standing between them and the new state board of higher education, B. F. Irvine, of Portland, saw to that at the initial meeting of the board here today when it appeared that whoever is ultimately elected executive-secretary of the board might be allowed to infringe upon the authority of the presidents.

The meeting was attended by all nine members. C. L. Starr, of Portland, was elected president for a year and Aubrey Waztek, of Portland, temporary secretary. The executive-secretary, who will occupy a salaried position, will be elected at a later meeting.

Lively Discussion

Discussion of the office of executive secretary threw the meeting into a lively discussion. Mr. Watzek suggested that, to clear the boards of all suspicion of bias, the executive secretary probably the state, although he said he knew this would be the policy whenever the board is ready to elect a secretary.

F. E. McCallister of Albany, Albert Burch of Medford and E. C. Sammons of Portland objected, declaring that the board would be tying its own hands. Colt withdrew the motion and Irvine moved that a committee be appointed to consider the selection and ultimately to make a recommendation.

E. C. Pease of The Dalles and Herman Oliver of Canyon City, emphasized the importance of the executive-secretary, the former terming him the "Key man who

MAINE FINDS HER SENATOR IS NOT "DRY"

Gould, Representing State Dry 75 Years, is a Modificationist.

DEFENDS WINES AND BEER TODAY

Announcement Startles Many Elements—Anti-Saloon League to Fight His Re-Election.

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., June 28 (AP)—Maine, which 75 years ago adopted a prohibitory liquor law, today learned that its junior United States senator, elected on a dry platform, was an advocate of modification.

Senator Arthur R. Gould, Republican, in support of a testimonial letter in which he told a grape juice company he had secured "some very good results" from the concern's unfermented product, asserted that it was his "right to have, make and drink" light wines and beer.

"Everybody who knows me," he added, "knows that the sentiments relating to prohibition as expressed in that letter are my sentiments." He said that the licensing of light wines and beer would be a great improvement over the present prohibition law "which seems impossible to enforce."

Immediate Response

The senator's statement drew immediate announcements from antisaloon leaders that the state's dry forces would be aligned against his reelection a year hence.

The letter was made public in a St. Louis civil action after counsel for the grape juice company said it would be introduced to refute claims that the concern's product was unsatisfactory.

Questioned at his home here, Senator Gould was vehement in defense of his right to "have, make and drink" wine and beer. Residents of his own section of northern Maine made wine from elderberries and grapes, he said. "God almighty put those flowers and vines on the earth and he intended them to be used."

Doran, Lowman Interviewed

Prohibition Commissioner Doran at Washington said that manufacture of wine from grape juice violated the prohibition law in his opinion and was subject to the penalty imposed for any other illegal manufacture of intoxicants. Assistant Secretary Lowman, of the treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement, explained that it never has been the policy of the bureau to enter private homes for the purpose of determining whether fruit juices were fermenting unless it was established that the beverages were to be placed on sale.

In the testimonial, dated May 11, 1927, Senator Gould wrote:

"As you know, I come from a prohibition state and I am supposed to be a prohibitionist, but I am about as loyal to the prohibition element as some of these southern Democrats are to the Democratic party. While I am from a prohibition state and find it is not policy to be too outspoken as to my statements, I don't mind telling you and the world that I believe a license for light wines and beer would be a great improvement over the present prohibition law."

Voted Against Jones Law

Senator Gould, who was elected in 1926 to fill the unexpired term of the late Bert M. Fernald, voted against the recently enacted Jones law, which imposes stiff penalties for liquor violations, because he "had always stood that way." He has not announced his candidacy for reelection.

The Rev. Frederick W. Smith, of Waterville, executive secretary of the Maine Christian Civic league, said that the organization would oppose Senator Gould's reelection. The league represents the Anti-saloon League of America, which

ESPINOSA AND SARAZEN AHEAD

Bobby Jones Covers First Nine in 38, Playing in Rain Storm.

WINGED FOOT CLUB, Mamaroneck, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—Playing most of his round in a torrential rain, Bobby Jones lost the lead as well as a dramatic battle with the elements today. He took a 75, three over par, for his second round in the national open golf championship and dropped back into a tie for third place with 144, two strokes behind the leaders, Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa.

WINGED FOOT CLUB, Marmaroneck, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—In a terrific rain storm that deluged the golf course, Bobby Jones battled brilliantly against the elements to cover the first nine holes of his second round in 38, in the national open championship, but at this point had lost the advantage gained with his 69 yesterday.

Coming to the ninth, Jones hit his tee shot straight down the middle. His second hit a spectator, halting in the rough and his third was just on the green. He over ran the cup five feet, but sank a par 5 for a 38, 2 over par.

Blazing the way through a gusty wind for the big field, two sturdy Italian professionals, Gene Sarazen of New York, and Al Espinosa of Chicago, went into an early tie for the lead today with 142, two under par, for the 36-hole or half way mark of the national open golf championship.

Brilliant 71

Sarazen duplicated his brilliant 71 of yesterday, chiefly because he needed only 11 putts on the last nine holes, while close behind him Espinosa came home with a par 72 to add to his fine 70 on the first round. Three putts and a bad five on the short thirteenth cost Espinosa a golden chance to take the lead.

These two performances left the

Opposition To Sliding Scale On Sugar Voiced

Highly Controversial Sugar Schedules in House Tariff Bill Attract 75 Witnesses.

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Opposition to the proposed sliding scale duties on sugar was voiced today by D. W. Pipes Jr., of Houma, La., before a senate subcommittee considering the highly controversial sugar schedules in the house tariff bill.

Pipes was one of a list of nearly 75 witnesses who appeared to plead for higher or lower rates on sugar and in connection with the proposed transfer of hides, leather and shoes from the free to the dutiable list.

Pipes, who is president of the American Sugar Cane League, in answer to a question by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, said he did not favor the sliding scale proposal because "we are in a position where we do not want to experiment."

Senator Smooth disclosed yesterday that he was considering a tentative draft of a sliding scale plan and shortly afterwards the white house announced that President Hoover had several of these plans submitted to him but had not committed himself on any of them.

Pipes said there were between four and five hundred thousand acres in Louisiana, a large part of which was formerly planted in sugar cane that was now in weeds, because of low sugar prices.

Testifying before the sundries committee W. R. Ogg, appearing for the American farm bureau federation, suggested a specific duty on hides for each class, with a minimum duty of not les than 45 per cent ad valorem. Ogg declared that one-third of all hides were imported principally from South America and the Argentine. The house bill took hides off the free list and placed a duty of ten per cent ad valorem on them.

A. F. Vass, of Laramie, Wyoming, representing the Wyoming Livestock association, asked for a specific duty of six cents a pound on green hides and ten cents on dried hides.

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, June 28 (AP)—Less than eight hours after establishing a new east-west transcontinental non-stop flight record, Captain Frank Hawks took off at 3:37:47 a. m. today seeking to lower his own mark of 18 hours, 21 minutes 59 seconds from here to New York.

Hawks clipped five hours, 40 minutes, 28 seconds from the previous mark when he landed his Lockheed monoplane at 8:23:23 p. m. last night, 19 hours, 10 minutes, 32 seconds after he took off. The record had been held by Captain C. B. D. Collyer and Harry Tucker. A series of mishaps which held him here more than seven hours instead of an hour and a half as he planned, made it impossible for him to reach Roosevelt field on the Atlantic seaboard within the thirty-six hour limit he had previously set for himself.

The flier announced before he left that he hoped to reach New York within 14 hours.

Their plane took off from Roosevelt field at 8:49 p. m. yesterday, with 116 gallons of gasoline. It is believed their gasoline ran short and the plane crashed into the tree near a nursery, 200 feet from the Jericho turnpike.

Miss Gentry attracted attention early in 1926 by piloting a plane under the Brooklyn and Manhattan
