Jump In Legal Age Ends War Over Marrying

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A mountain feud in which the weapons were Holy Bibles and legal certificates to wed has been ended by a recent Tennessee law dictating that 21 years is the legal age for females' consent.

Clarksville for years has been a "Gretchen Green" for ardent Kentucky lovers. That state denies a girl the right to marry without parental consent until she is 21 years old. So the Kentuckians flocked to Clarksville, just across the Tennessee line.

The feud between marrying magistrates started last Christmas. Magistrate J. H. Harper, S. W. Kelly, W. B. Corlew and S. D. Tinsley—Clarksville answers to impatient Kentucky youth—grew weary of Spire W. H. Dean's invasions on their marriage market.

Magistrate Dean was a retired rural mail carrier and could play an advantageous open field game with the bridal parties outside the courtroom, while the other magistrates were kept busy within.

Retaliating of the city magistrates took the form of a notice posted in the county clerk's office, which stated they would marry all couples free between the hours of 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. during Christmas time.

Spire Dean countered with the announcement that he would marry all couples at all times free of charge for the remainder of his tenure of office, and the city magistrates hauled down their placard the next day. The marriage war reached an impasse, and only one couple was able to profit.

Now comes post-war economic depression, both for the magistrature and the schools of Montgomery county, according to Clerk W. E. Cooper. He explains that Tennessee's raising of the age girls may be married without parental consent from 18 to 21 years will divert $1,000 to $1,200 in license fees a year from the state.

But even he seems to be glad the marriage war is over.

RADIO CLIMBS TO 90, HIGHEST IN LAST MONTH

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Heavy selling of the public utility shares, several of which dropped two to six points, temporarily unsettled today's stock market, which was again pushed to higher ground.

Curiously, the low prices of the day were recorded after the call money rate had dropped from 12 to 8 per cent but strong buying support made its appearance, particularly in the so-called "margin stocks" and the market was headed upward again in the early afternoon.

Radio, inactive recently, was taken hold of in the first hour and lifted to 90, the highest in a month. Prices of many other leaders responded to a further drop in the call money rate to six per cent, Auburn auto soaring 15 points to a record price, while American can, Southern Pacific, Otis elevator and Texas and Pacific railroad gained from 3 to 6 points. The closing was strong while total sales approximated 4,500,000 shares.

There remained, however, a large number of kinds of flags in service; and since these often caused confusion at sea, congress was earnestly asked to adopt one uniform flag. Accordingly, on June 14, 1777, congress passed this resolution:

"Resolved, that the flag of the 13 United States shall be 13 stripes alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

This flag, it is to be noted, was an easy transition from the grand union flag. All that had to be done was substitute the field of stars for the British cross in the upper left corner of the ensign.

The position of the stars in the field often varied with the taste of each individual. Betsy Ross, it is said, arranged the stars in each flag she made in accordance of the wishes of the persons for whom she was making the flags.

One of the most interesting American flags in existence is one flown by the famous old frigate Constitution. It has its 13 stars arranged in a circle, with one star in the center and four stars outside the circle in the corners of the union.

In 1795 Kentucky and Vermont were admitted to the Union and the flag was then revised to contain 15 stars and 15 stripes; and it was this flag that flew over Fort Mifflin during the British attack on Baltimore and inspired the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner." In 1818, however, it was seen that a new stripe could not possibly be added for every new state, so Capt. Samuel Reid of the navy, a hero of the war of 1812, was asked to design a flag. He designed the flag now in use—13 stripes, representing the original 13 colonies, and a star in the union for every state.

The last stars were added by President Taft when Arizona and New Mexico were admitted to the union. The 48 stars in the present flag, incidentally, were arranged in the order in which we see them by Admiral Dewey, here of Manila Bay.

How's this for a hot-weather dinner?

One of these evenings, when you're exhausted from the heat and nothing tastes good, how would you like to sit down to a dinner like this? An ice-cold fruit cup, jellied chicken and ham, a salad of crisp lettuce with a stuffed tomato in aspic. And for dessert, a strawberry sundae.

Tempting, isn't it? And so pleasantly easy to prepare. Then your General Electric Refrigerator will do the rest.

Fifty degrees is accepted by scientists as the "danger point" in the preservation of food. When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply, foods become unsafe to eat—a menace to health. In the General Electric Refrigerator the temperature is automatically kept several degrees below fifty—always.

Now, in addition to all its previously proved superiorities, General Electric offers an all-steel warp-proof cabinet! There are now more than 300,000 General Electric Refrigerator users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs.

Prices on the new all-steel models start at $215 at the factory. See them at our display rooms.

Tune in on the General Electric Radio broadcast every Saturday evening 8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations.

EAT VARIED, BALANCED FOODS

Use a Dash of Sugar to Make Many Foods Delightful

Modern science emphasizes that a limited diet is monotonous and that it is bad for us. For enjoyment and for health, eat varied, balanced foods.

The greatest ally of the balanced diet is flavor. Good cooking is the foundation of healthful eating. The woman in the home is the guardian of our diet, and thus of our health.

Learn the secret of a dash of sugar in making cereals, fruits and milk desserts delicious. Try also the old secret of delicious cookery just rediscovered by four women cooking experts working in a New York sky-scaper. Add a tablespoon of sugar to vegetables while they are cooking in a small amount of water. Note how the vegetables improve in color, in freshness and in flavor. The dash of sugar does not make the vegetables taste sweet. It makes them more delightfully their own natural vegetable selves than ever.

Slimness has gone out of date. The angular figure is no longer fashionable. Don't gorge and don't limit your family's diet to a few foods. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.
