

CHERRY PICKERS ARRIVE AT UNION

With Part of Cove Crop to be Handled Also, Town Will be Busy.

By W. V. Connor (Observer Correspondent) UNION, Ore. (Special)—Professional cherry pickers and box makers are beginning to come in to be ready for the cherry harvest which will start in about a week.

The Oregon Trail sawmill shut down before the Fourth and did not resume sawing until this week, although the planer was running part of the time.

Ben Stonedahl is carrying his right arm in a sling and will not be able to use it for some time as the result of a fall while haying at his home up Catherine creek last week.

Robert Cox has a position at the Union hotel, taking the place of Mr. Posey who has worked for the hotel for some time.

W. W. Stevens, member of the county court, is making some improvements at his home in South Union. He is building a green house 80 feet long and making other alterations in order to be able to heat the green house by steam.

Mrs. Sterlie Wigglesworth, accompanied by her granddaughter, Maradee Gatchell, came up from Portland last week and is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James DeVore, who lives on a ranch along Catherine creek.

Wigglesworth, who formerly lived in Union, is now making her home in Portland where another daughter, Mrs. Gatchell, is a teacher in one of the city high schools.

Mountain Gem Rebekah lodge installed officers Wednesday evening. Mrs. Mint Gale was put in as noble grand, Mrs. Sadie Connor as vice grand, Mrs. Katherine Spears as recording secretary and Mrs. Ella Holly as treasurer.

Following the installing of officers, the members enjoyed a lunch, consisting of ice cream, crushed strawberries and angel food cake. About forty members were present.

The local Odd-Fellows installed the following officers at their regular meeting Friday night: Ed Wulf, noble grand; Robert Walker, vice grand; Alva VanHousen, recording secretary, and William Kiehlbeck, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Wulf and son Edna and Clifford Wulf came over from Baker to visit at the home of Ed Wulf over the Fourth. Mrs. Irvin Wulf and son remained for several days, but the two men returned home Thursday evening.

James DeVore and son, Max, have been working the county road from the Hall ranch up to the old Jerry Thompson place near the forks of Catherine creek and now this stretch of road is in fairly good condition. This road is much used this time of year by campers and fishermen. Cars may now easily be driven as far up as the Hunter place just below the forks.

Max Watts, who has been working at North Powder, was brought home ill last week. He became worse and Wednesday was taken to the Grande Ronde hospital where he later underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell and her mother, Mr. Wilcock, came here from La Grande Saturday and were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Connor. They returned home Saturday evening.

Union lodge No. 39, I. O. O. F., will take two candidates to La Grande Friday night for the latter lodge to exemplify the first degree of the subordinate branch of the order.

Funeral services for Reginald Wood, who died at Hot Lake from spinal meningitis Thursday morning, were held from the Methodist church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. His mother, who lives in California, arrived in Union in time for the funeral but did not get here till after her son had passed away.

Mrs. Wood's mother, Mrs. McClellan, was summoned from Idaho and arrived just before the death of her son-in-law.

The local Epworth League members held a hunt party Friday evening. After gathering at the church, the boys waited while the girls hid. The boys finally found the bunch concealed behind a pile of beehive boxes at the Homer Cheney home on Main street.

According to the agreement this placed the burden of paying for the "eats" on the ladies. If the boys had failed to discover the hiding place they would have had to stand the lunch expense. Nearly twenty young folk participated in the social.

The Fourth was a rather quiet day in Union, many of the residents having taken the opportunity to spend a day along Catherine creek or on some other outing. Some fireworks were indulged in Wednesday evening and Thursday but nothing special.

The water in Catherine creek is getting low enough now for fly fishing and some of the local flytots are bringing in nice baskets of rainbow trout.

CHICAGO RADIO STATION PLANS POLICY CHANGE

By C. E. Butterfield (Associated Press Radio Editor) A radical change in program policy, which it feels may establish a precedent, has been made by WENR, Chicago.

Effective July 7, its advance programs supplied newspapers will contain no mention of the sponsors. Trade or corporation names will be substituted by a "distinctive designation."

In addition the station proposes to maintain a conservative advertising policy that will not permit the broadcasting of advertising matter found objectionable by listeners and which is not in keeping with the real purposes of broadcasting and to bear in mind that the first allegiance of the broadcasting station is to the listening public.

This new WENR policy is in line with a campaign recently inaugurated by the Radio Manufacturers' association against what it described as a tendency by broadcasting to devote more time to the sponsor than was thought advisable. It was said that hearers desired a preponderance of entertainment and might switch to something else if a program contained what some might feel was too much trade comment.

TWO VITALLY IMPORTANT QUESTIONS FOR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR BUYERS

What About Up-keep Costs and Guarantee?

If you buy an electric refrigerator (and everyone will own one eventually), what about the cost of keeping it in good condition, service charges? What about the guarantee that goes with the machine you buy? What about the manufacturer and dealer behind that guarantee? An electric investment demands that you know the answer to these questions.

NOT ONE SERVICE CALL BY LA GRANDE G-E OWNERS

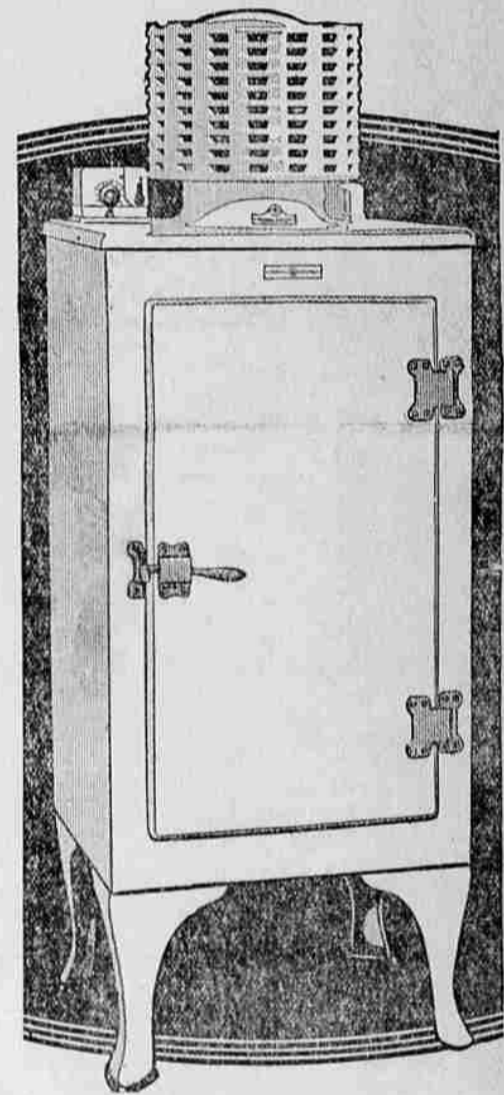

Not One Penny Spent For Service--Over 300,000 Owners in the Country and not One Dollar Spent for Service! Think of it!

The General Electric Refrigerator, serving the American housewife for three years, has over 300,000 in service—and the owners have not spent one dollar for service! In La Grande not one service call has been made by G-E. owners. How is such a record possible? A mechanism that requires no oiling—the oil is permanently and hermetically sealed in—and is dust-proof. No belts or troublesome machinery, simple, all steel.

It Means Something to the La Grande Housewife to Own an Electric Refrigerator

BUILT AND GUARANTEED BY GENERAL ELECTRIC

The name General Electric is enough in itself to emphasize the engineering skill, the excellence of materials and design going into the making of the G-E refrigerator. And back of that quality is an unqualified two-year guarantee by the General Electric company. What greater assurance of electric refrigerator satisfaction and permanent economy could you desire?

Order your General Electric Refrigerator now! A model to suit every home—and a liberal allowance on your old refrigerator!
