FISCAL YEAR RECEIPTS IN CITY $46,106

La Grande Post Office Finishes Busiest Year in Local History.

TOTAL REDUCED BY CUT IN RATES

Business Transacted in Post Office Indicates Increase in General Business Here.

Postal receipts for the fiscal year just ended reached the total of $46,106.72 in La Grande, slightly lower than last year, according to announcement today by R. R. Huron, postmaster. The postal receipt figures for the three fiscal years follow:

Fiscal Year	Receipts
1927	$43,760.60
1928	46,434.77
1929	46,105.72

Unless one goes deeper into the figures, one would be inclined to believe that Uncle Sam's post office business is falling off slightly here, but that is far from being the truth. As a matter of cold truth, the post office business here during the last 12 months was the greatest in local history.

Cut in Rates Responsible

The receipts in the fiscal year of 1929 cannot be compared with the two previous years without taking one thing into consideration—that the postal rates in La Grande during the last 12 months were lower than in either of the two preceding years.

The postal rates in several cases were reduced by act of congress at the start of the present fiscal year. In a few cases the reduction was as much as 50 per cent and in other cases the cut was negligible. On the whole, however, it is roughly figured that the reduced postal rates decreased the receipts in La Grande approximately six per cent. In other words, if the fiscal year of 1929 had seen postal rates at the same level as in 1927 and 1928, the total receipts here would have approximated $50,000.

Postal Force Busier

Postmaster Huron states that his force, which is the same size as during 1928 with the exception of a part time delivery man on a new delivery route on the outskirts of the city, has been much busier this year than last.

The fact that, in spite of the approximate six per cent reduction in postal rates, the La Grande receipts varied only a few hundred dollars, indicated that local business is growing, as the receipts reflect to a certain extent the general business of the city.

YOUNG PEOPLE FROM BAKER IN CAR ACCIDENT

A company of young people from Baker coming to La Grande for a society event early this week, figured in an auto accident in Pyle's canyon beyond Union, which might have proved much more serious than it did. The car, which belonged to Dr. Patterson of Baker, and was driven by members of his family, struck some loose gravel in the canyon, over-turned and, in doing so, one of the cement mile posts was thrust through the top of the car. Some of the occupants of the car received minor injuries and came on into La Grande for medical attention. The car was considerably damaged.

In the car were Franklin Patterson, who was driving, Dan Turley, Miss Norma Stoddard and Gilman Ryder. Young Patterson stated that he turned out to meet an approaching car, turned too far and struck the loose gravel.

Second Period At Scout Camp Attended By 35

Carl Coleman First Boy to Take Daniel Boone Hike —Stunt Show to be Next Thursday.

The second period of the Boy Scout summer camp at Camp Phy started recently, with 35 boys attending from North Powder, La Grande, Pondosa, Baker, and other nearby points. The boys are divided into four patrols which are headed by Edwin Briggs, Carl Coleman, William Angel and Paul Higgens.

Carl Coleman was the first boy to go on the Daniel Boone hike this week. In order to qualify for the hike, one must be a first class scout and have both the pioneering and camping merit badges. He left camp after supper and hiked five miles. He was allowed one blanket for his bed, two potatoes, a piece of bacon and some flour for his breakfast. The night was spent alone five miles away from camp and the only weapon of protection he had was a pocket scout knife.

Many swimming activities are taking place this week and a stunt show will be given next Thursday evening. One more period of ten days will follow the second term for the scouts under the leadership of E. Russell Scott, scout executive for the Eastern Oregon council.

Enterprise Will Make Last Stand Here On Sunday

With the Pirates to play their last game of the Blue Mountain league season here Sunday, members of the La Grande baseball club are hopeful of a large crowd of fans at the high school athletic field for the contest.

This year, in spite of a hard-luck game or two, the Buccaneer club has won the majority of its games, and if it can score a victory Sunday, will finish the year in second place with a percentage of .647, representing eight won and four lost. The team has been managed much more economically than in 1928 but in order to successfully clear up the season's books, a large attendance is needed.

The Enterprise team, although unable to win a game this season, is expected to make things plenty interesting for the Pirates Sunday. Equipped with the law of averages and a firm determination to wind up the season with a victory, the Chieftains may be troublesome and a good game is anticipated.

Joe Keeney, president of the club, said today: "The last baseball game of the Blue Mountain league between La Grande and Enterprise teams will be played at La Grande Sunday, July 14. The management and directors of the La Grande club are desirous of having as large attendance at this game as possible and respectfully request of the fans and others to attend this game. Your cooperation will be very much appreciated. This is a postponed game, on account of being rained out on the scheduled date."

Albert Kinnison, county-government hunter of predatory animals in Union county, was tied with W. A. Sutherland, of Wallowa county, for fifth place in total amount of kills during June, a report received today revealed. Both men turned in 14 animals. All of Mr. Sutherland's were coyotes, but Mr. Kinnison succeeded in bagging two bobcats. Thirteen hunters worked during June in Oregon killing 238 coyotes, 24 bobcats, three bears, one cougar, one wolf, 44 badgers, 153 porcupines and five skunks.

WHEAT YIELD IN NORTHWEST HELD NORMAL

Estimate for 1929 Crop Several Thousand Bushels Above Average.

EASTERN OREGON OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Apple and Cherry Estimates Favorable For This Section — Spud Yield is Heavy.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12—The Pacific Northwest total 1929 wheat crop is now estimated at 32,612,000 bushels of which Washington is estimated at 25,536,000 bushels of winter, and 18,430,000 bushels of spring. Idaho promises 12,522,000 bushels of winter wheat, and 14,634,000 bushels of spring. The Oregon winter wheat production is estimated at 18,507,000 bushels and the spring wheat is estimated at 2,923,000 bushels. The five-year average for winter wheat is 16,622,000 and the average for spring wheat is 4,882,000.

The 1928 crop of all wheat in the three states was estimated after harvest at 100,754,000 bushels. The 1927 crop was estimated at 112,500,000 bushels, and the five year average is 92,459,000 bushels.

Indications are that Western Oregon and the Northeastern counties have more wheat this year than last, but unfavorable conditions in the mid-Columbia and Central Oregon counties will probably reduce the total for the state by nearly 2,000,000 bushels.

CROWD VIEWS GRIM TRAGEDY UNKNOWINGLY

Gillingham, England Gala Fire Rescue Benefit Takes Fatal Turn.

ELEVEN YOUTHS BURNED TO DEATH

Model House, Soaked with Oil, Ignites in Wrong Place, Trapping Clowning Boys.

GILLINGHAM, Eng., July 12, (AP)—While laughing thousands watched what they thought part of a fire fighting show, 11 boy naval cadets and firemen were burned to death here last night. Six were seriously injured and were taken to St. Bartholomew hospital in aid of which the fete had been held.

A specially erected model house, designed to be the scene of a gala fire brigade rescue spectacle, became instead the horrifying death trap for the twelve to fourteen year old boys who had so eagerly taken part in the festival.

Assumes Tragic Reality

The youngsters, dressed in clown suits, made frenzied efforts to get out of the flames, bringing only great applause from the crowd below all unknowing that the realistic acting had suddenly assumed tragic reality.

Fireman Jack Tabrett, who had been the blushing veiled bride in a previous mock ceremony, was standing at the top of the flimsy structure when flames suddenly burst at the bottom. The crowd cheered and laughed, glad that one spectacle had begun, but Tabrett knew that something was wrong for the flames should have started at the top and the building cleared of the actors.

Fire Over in 5 Minutes

In five minutes the flames had destroyed the oil soaked canvas and all that was left were the charred bodies of the youths and the gaunt skeleton of the model house.

Frantic mothers and fathers crowded the little mortuary here this morning seeking the bodies of their sons. One tall gray haired man stumbled from the hospital where he had seen his 13 year old boy die from burns. "My little boy's clothes were all burned and still smouldering as he lay on the ground beside the blazing mass when I got here," said the grief stricken man. "Only last night he was asked to take part in the mock tragedy and was so happy that he went, even though I asked him not to."

Only Five Identified

Only five of the eleven dead had been identified today, Ronald Mitchell, previously reported dead, this morning was reported still alive although critically injured.

Only One Member Remains To Be Appointed to Federal Farm Board

WASHINGTON, July 12, (AP)—Charles S. Wilson, former New York state commissioner of agriculture, has been appointed to the federal farm board.

One vacancy now remains to be filled, and the president is looking for a spokesman for the wheat growing industry for that place. It was said the appointment could not be expected until some time next week after the first meeting of the board, scheduled for Monday.

Wilson operates a farm near Rochester, N. Y., and has had an extensive experience with the dairying and fruit growing industries of the northwest. He was recommended and sponsored by agricultural organizations and individuals for the place on the board.

Legge to Meet Hoover

Alexander H. Legge, chairman of the board, and Carl Williams, spokesman for the cotton growing industry, arrived today and will be guests of President Hoover over the week end at his fishing preserve in Virginia.

It was said at the White house that all the seven appointees were born and reared on farms, and that all, with the exception of Legge, had been actively associated with the farming industry over a long period.

Geographical distribution of the members was impossible, it was said, as the farm relief law requires that the various branches of agriculture be represented upon the board. Of the seven appointees, all are specialists in one branch or another of the farming industry with the exception of Wilson and Legge.

The Board- Personnel

With one member yet to be selected, the personnel of the board follows:

Cigaret Enters Into Discussion At Medical Meet

Nation's Doctors Nearing End of Convention in Portland — Elect New Officers.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12 (AP)—While the majority of the 6,000 doctors attending the American Medical association left Portland today for their homes, Dr. Emil Bogen, Cincinnati, told one of the last sectional meetings the results of his investigation of cigaret smoking.

The convention closes officially Saturday, but with Dr. William G. Morgan, Washington, D. C., named president-elect and Detroit, Mich., selected as the next convention city, the house of delegates, governing body, adjourned sessions and various sectional meetings began.

Discuss Cigarets

Dr. Bogen discussed the validity of the various tests championed by cigaret manufacturers and the weight-reducing properties of smoking. The Cincinnati physician said he found that out of a mixed group of professional men, university students and laborers, the majority could not distinguish the difference in domestic or oriental species of tobacco.

"Nicotine is not the only injurious agent found in cigaret smoke," Dr. Bogen said. "We find ammonia, carbon monoxide and a tarry substance in sufficient quantities to cause irritation in the nose, throat and eyes. The presence of these substances varies greatly with the manner and rate at which the cigaret is smoked."

The amount of cigaret left unburned is an important factor, he said, and the amount of nicotine in the stump of a cigaret that had been smoked with strong continuous suction to the two-thirds mark was found to have increased 66 per cent over the average nicotine content.

Harmful to Some

"The general opinion of those who have studied the subject," Dr. Bogen said, "seems to be that a person in sound health may bear what are for him moderate doses without injury, but these same doses are harmful to others."

The naming of Dr. Morgan president-elect was unanimous. A contest had been expected by the house of delegates, but the election went off smoothly. Detroit won out over Memphis and Philadelphia.

Other officers elected are: Dr.

The landing came after more than ten and one half days of flight.
