GIANTS PREPARE FOR PIRATE CREW

McGraw to Make Frantic Attempt to Stop Rush on the Corsairs.

By William J. Chipman (Associated Press Sports Writer) With the national league race threatening momentarily to become a strictly private affair between the Pirates and the Cubs, John McGraw deployed his forces upon the polo grounds from this morning in an attempt to stem the corsair rush. The impending series may be called crucial for the Giants alone; to the jaunty Buccaneers it constitutes just four more ball games.

The Giants brushed up yesterday for their do-or-die effort by bowing courteously to the fallen Cardinals, who came to life and accepted the decision by 6 to 1. The Pirates got only an even break at Boston, but nevertheless remained on notice ahead of the Giants in the important column dealing with games lost. The Cubs profited from the Pirate slip, by smothering the Phillies, 16 to 3, and so gaining half a game on the leaders. The Pittsburgh margin now is just two games.

Pirates Split Bill Burleigh Grimes lost his second game of the season when the Braves took the first game, 7 to 4, and Buccaneers coming back to take the second 13 to 5. Brooklyn crowned three Cincinnati pitchers for seventeen hits to win the final game of the series by 10 to 5.

The Athletics dropped another one to the Indians, who won by 5 to 2 behind Walter Miller's six-hit pitching. Young Bill Shores was the victim.

Yanks Reopen The maekmen nevertheless remained eight games ahead of the Yankees, who contrived to lose off a four-run lead in the ninth and permit the Tigers to win by 9 to 3 in the tenth. Babe Ruth's twenty-second homer and some smart pitching by White Hoyt, up to the final crash, went into the discard.

Sammy Gray gained an even break for the Browns in their series against the Red Sox by pitching five-hit ball yesterday to win by 4 to 0.

The Senators won from the White Sox in the final game of the series at Chicago, by a score of 6 to 2.

Pickings Mighty Slim In Coast League Circles

By The Associated Press Seattle Coast league pickings today slipped padlocks on the "bit bins, and as a result the pickings were mighty slim for the league leaders. Seattle's losing streak of nine games ended when the Indians spanked the Mission Reds twice in the day 9 to 1 and 7 to 6. That was the high light of the day's engagements.

Seattle scored six runs of extra in the first game, bunting six hits with a walk. An error, and a double steal, Louis Adams hit a home run, but all the other hits were singles. Rudy Kallio did the honors on the mound, holding the Reds to six bingles. In the second encounter the tribe put the game on ice in short order, talking six times in the first frame and again in the third.

"Kings" Ball Game The Seattle-Mission double will not count in the standings, as the postponed game played was one left from the first half.

Featuring a snappy game at Los Angeles, where the Angels defeated the Oaks 7 to 0, was the first triple steal in Pacific Coast records for many a season. And it was pulled off by the southern boys, Ed Baerth, right handed pitcher, proved too much for the visitors.

Hollywood and Portland broke even in a double header at Portland, but the Ducks were more fortunate to win the first encounter, which was the only one to count in the standing. The Stars won the second 3 to 0 in seven innings. The Ducks won by 6 to 1 in ten innings.

Due to the effective brand of pitching shown by Curt Davis, the Seals downed the Senators 6 to 4 at Recreation park.

Yesterday Coast League Results: At Portland: First game: Hollywood 6 14 0 Portland 7 11 2 (10 Innings). Baerth and Wetzel; Mahaffey and Woodall.

Second game: Hollywood 3 6 0 Portland 0 2 2 Snyder and Marty; Snider, McDonald and Rego.

At Seattle: First game: Missions 5 14 0 Seattle 9 14 0 Nevers, McQuaid and Baldwin; Kallio and Steingke.

Quinn To Retire After 29 Years In Diamond Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Twenty-nine years in baseball is enough for some men, says Jack Quinn, who throws twisters for the Athletics. Jack, who was christened John Quinn Pious, was 44 years old July 5. That is the way the records have it. Jack looks like he might be 50. Yet he throws like he was 25.

Anyway, Jack has announced his retirement effective at the end of this season. Quinn after breaking into professional baseball in the Pennsylvania state league in 1903 first hit the majors with the Yankees in 1909. Four years later he was sent to Rochester. The Braves had him for a few moments in 1913 and then Jack jumped to Baltimore of the Federal League for a two-year hitch.

When the outlaw league blew up in 1915 Quinn headed westward and joined the Vernon club of the Pacific coast. He was there in 1916, 1917 and part of 1918, going to the White Sox when the coast loop suspended because of the war.

Jack finished the season there and next year found himself the center of an argument between the White Sox and the Yankees. He was awarded to the latter and remained with that club through 1921.

Traded to the Red Sox in 1922, the veteran played there through 1924 and then went to the Athletics on waivers early in 1925. Jack, at 43, had the best year of his career in 1925 when he won 18 and lost 7.

Over this year Jack had played 16 years in the majors, winning 170 and losing 142 games. He was in 462 games and pitched 2,641 innings. All of this time Quinn played in but one world series. That was with the Yankee in 1921. Jack pitched eight hits and two bases on ball and was credited with a defeat.
