Mrs. Hodgkin Will Go On University Cruise to Alaska

Mrs. John S. Hodgkin is planning to leave La Grande about the first of August for Portland where she will spend a few days, and on August seventh will board the special train from Eugene bearing passengers who will, as will Mrs. Hodgkin, take the "University cruise" to Alaska. The outing and voyage planned is most fascinating, and while Mrs. Hodgkin says she will have much more to tell about when she returns than she ever could of now, she is having much pleasure in the anticipation of the experience. At Seattle the party will board the steamer "Queen" which has been chartered for the trip, and will sail August 7. The first stop is to be at Victoria where in three hours, the steamer is to be feted by city officials. The second stop is at Esquimalt for four hours, then transfer to Portofino, where the ski glacier will be visited. At Esquimalt, the party will spend six days with an opportunity to take a side trip to the Mendocino glacier. At Skagway next, a full day is to be spent, for several days have been allowed to make a trip to beautiful Lake Bennett, a lake, the first over night stop. Here the museum will be open for inspection, the redberry mission school will be inspected and other points of interest visited. The party will turn onward again after the stop at the lake.

One week will be spent in further study on the campus after arriving at Eugene. This is a study in, and six credits are earned by one who elects three subjects. The number of passengers is limited to 100, and there is at present a long waiting list. In the party will be students from all over the United States. Miss Ina June Harriman, music economics instructor in the La Grande high school, who is sending the summer at her home in Portland, will be another member of the party.

Mrs. Pierce Speaks At Normal School

"The Value of Knowing Books and the Use of the State Library" was the subject of an address delivered yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Walter M. Pierce before the students in Miss Walter's class in "School and Community," at the summer session of the Eastern Oregon Normal. The address was one of much practical worth to the class. Immediately following this, Mrs. Pierce was one of the speakers at the Union County Pioneer association annual gathering. Mrs. Pierce's services as a public speaker have been greatly in demand during the months of her residence in the valley.

Enjoyable Party At Baxter Home

A party of young people were guests Wednesday evening of Max Baxter, who entertained at the J. Baxter home. Games of various kinds and refreshments went to make up a very happy evening for the Misses Frances Miller, of Portland, Ola May Hough, Barbara Coolidge, Nancy Guild, Norma Hanke, Janet Hinzner and Helen Marx, Kenneth Webb, Glen Fox, Howard Lyman, Sam Shyby, Preston Kimmel, Stephen Eaton, David Hatt and Max Baxter.

In Baker Yesterday

Mrs. Harry Gibson and daughter, Lorene, and granddaughter, Miss Elois Waltz, went to Baker yesterday where they attended the funeral of Miss Waltz's father, Clifford Waltz, who was killed in an auto accident Saturday night on the Old Oregon Trail north of Baker when his car struck another machine parked along the highway.

Seattle Man, 70, Hale And Hearty

If anyone told you that one single medicine had relieved tens of thousands of suffering men and women in all walks of life of their ills and troubles and that it had put thousands of men and women, here, were unable to find relief, back a week, if you would sound impossible wouldn't it?

But that is just what is happening right here in the northwest, and throughout the country where this celebrated medicine has been introduced. Not only has it cured these people new-found strength and health, but it has brought them new energy, vitality and a new lease on life itself.

Among the latest to pay high tribute to the remarkable powers of Sargon, this new and epoch-making medicine, is Carl G. Richthofen, 4214 Carlton Ave., Seattle. Mr. Richthofen has lived in Seattle for twenty years. He recently left:

"When my friends told me how strong and lively I seem, I am glad to tell the story. Sargon of Sargon Soft Mass Pills all the while."

"For years my stomach caused me so much trouble I was afraid to eat, because I had the shortness of breath, dizzy spells and heart-ache after every meal. I wasn't fit enough to go to bed and call a doctor, but I just wasn't right. I never got a good sound night's sleep, and I lost weight, always felt ill in the morning, and was weak and played out generally."

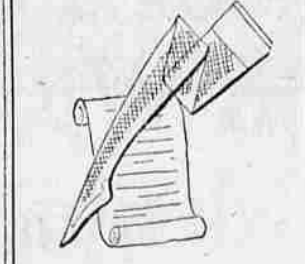

"No medicine I tried gave me any lasting benefit until I took the Sargon treatment. Now, I eat and my hearty meals, every bit of stomach trouble has left me, and I mostly feel 20 years younger. My vigor is gone, I sleep fine, I feel like a new man, my weight is up, and I am never dizzy, my tongue is cleared and my color is ruddy and healthy."

Sargon may be obtained in La Grande from the Red Cross Drug Store—A-47.

Will Use Plane In Search For Missing Heiress

PAIRFIELD, Salano county, Cal., July 19. (AP)—An airplane was to be enlisted today in the search for the missing Irene Wolf-skill, 55, millionaire member of a pioneer Salano county family, as theories of violence cast a sinister light on the mysterious disap-appearance of the heiress from her ranch near here five days ago.

Coincident with the return from the hunt last night of fifty men who have tramped the hills of two counties in fruitless search for the missing woman, came the belief expressed by Matt A. Wolf-skill, a brother of San Francisco, that his sister is the victim of kidnapers. An opposite theory was presented, however, by Noy Wolf-skill, another brother, of Los Angeles. At a conference last night with Sheriff John R. Thornton and A. W. Bachman trust officers of the Los Angeles bank in which Miss Wolf-skill has $500,000 on deposit, Noy said he believed his sister to be dead from exhaustion in the hills.

Sheriff Thornton was reluctant to accept either theory, inclining to the belief that the missing heiress is still alive and in hiding near the ranch to avoid a "family row." It is felt, which is known to have existed between the Wolf-skill brothers, the sheriff declared, might have influenced the sister, who lived in seclusion, to avoid their company.

for their client's disappearance, Bachman said last night, the bank officials are "vitaly" interested in locating her and are willing to spend $10,000 to that end.

A reward of $1,000 was posted by the trust officer with Sheriff Thornton who was instructed to employ expert trackers and any other means he believed necessary.
