AT THE THEATERS

"Masked Emotions"
Coming to Star Tuesday.

Many hot fights have been transferred to the screen, but the one staged by George O'Brien and Frank Hagney in "Masked Emotions," Fox Films, which comes to the Star theatre Tuesday is said to be among the most thrilling ever seen in motion pictures.

In one scene Hagney attacks O'Brien on the deck of a boat. They fight all over the craft and toward the end, O'Brien lands blows which finally sends Hagney sprawling, unconscious. At the finish, both men are badly bruised and bleeding.

O'Brien and Hagney are experienced fighters. O'Brien won the light heavyweight championship of the Pacific Coast first in the war, and Hagney went through 158 ring engagements as a leading heavyweight of Australia.

David Butler and Kenneth Hawks directed "Masked Emotions," which is from "A Son of Anak," by Ben Ames Williams.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE

Notice is hereby given, that I have received execution and order of sale issued out of and under the seal of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Union, dated the 3rd day of July, 1929, in the action therein pending wherein The Citizens National Bank of Baker City, a corporation, is plaintiff, and Herbert Mires and Bessie Mires, his wife, are defendants to me directed, upon a judgment in the sum of $1124.00, with interest thereon at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the 5th day of May, 1922, until the 20th day of November, 1922, and the further sum of $15.00 costs and disbursements, and the further sum of 6 per cent per annum on the entire amount aforesaid from the 20th day of November, 1922, in which said execution I am ordered to satisfy said sum out of the personal property of the defendant Bessie Mires, or if sufficient cannot be found, then out of the real property belonging to her, on and after July 2nd, 1929.

NOW THEREFORE, by virtue and authority of said writ, and in obedience to its commands, having found no personal property, I duly levied upon the following described real property standing in the name of said defendant on July 2nd, 1929, to-wit:

Lot Eight (5) in Block Sixty-five (65) of Chapin's Addition to La Grande, Union County, Oregon. And I will, on Monday, the 5th day of August, 1929, at two o'clock p. m. of said day, at the front door of the court house in La Grande, Union County, Oregon, sell at public auction the above described real property, and all the right, title interest and equity of the defendants therein, to the highest bidder for cash, the proceeds of said sale to be applied in satisfaction of said judgment and disbursements, including costs and accruing costs of execution and sale.

Dated at La Grande, Oregon, this 5th day of July, 1929.

JESSE BRUSHFELT, Sheriff of Union County, Oregon.
July 6, 12, 20, 29, Aug. 3.

"Rainbow" Now Showing At Star Theater

Prospectors' lanterns hanging by wire from the rim of a wagon wheel, which in turn is suspended from the splain, outline, gives that Eldorado community centre an uncommon and oddly attractive centre light above the big, oblong-fashioned bar. That was Reginald Barker's personal contribution to the setting of some of the most important scenes in his new special production for Tiffany-Stahl, "The Rainbow," which is showing

Bancroft Shrewd Broker In "Wolf Of Wall Street"

With a laugh for trouble and a curse for a weaking George Bancroft gives his way through his role in "The Wolf of Wall Street," his new starring picture for Paramount now playing at the Arcade, which offers him his first "dressed up" opportunity since he became a star.

In "Underworld," the picture that brought him to the top ranking of cinema players, Bancroft played the gang leader Bull Wood, terror of society and its guardian, the law. It was a role that he played with shirt opened at the throat and sleeves rolled back.

In his present picture, Bancroft plays a bullying, uncouth, but shrewd, broker of Wall Street, a man without fear or conscience, driving over every obstacle and even welcoming rain when it proves the only way he can defeat his enemy. The picture was directed by Rowland V. Lee from a story by Davis Anderson, and the supporting cast features Nancy Carroll, Raquelova, and Paul Lukas.

If President Hoover wants dollar-a-year men for his farm board, he ought to be able to find any number of farmers willing to accept a lucrative position such as that.
