Hottest Day of Summer Drives La Granders To Shade

MARK MAY BE BEATEN TODAY

Wave is General; Sweltering Days Reported to Prevail in All Oregon Cities.

It didn't require the official reading at the city building to let La Granders know that yesterday was the hottest day of the summer. The city building report simply verified that when, at the daily 7:30 reading this morning it was learned that the thermometer had reached 99 degrees above yesterday.

Warrant Out For Californians In Sunday Collision

Sheriff Jesse Breshears May Bring Men Here On Reckless Driving Charges.

A warrant was issued this morning for Ernest S. and Doyle Self and H. J. Allstead, California men who collided with a car driven by George Dalyria in an Oregon Trail highway Sunday, charging them with reckless driving.

None of the three is over 25 years of age, believes State Officer Dick Robertson, who followed them to Baker yesterday. Robertson said that the driver, Ernest Self, suffered internal injuries, the extent of which he had not determined. The three were bound from California to Halfway to visit an uncle of Allstead's, Jack Allstead, on a vacation trip.

BREAKS TRANS-ATLANTIC RECORD

English Strikers Still Out; Cotton Industry Stops

Half Million Workers Wait For Wage Reduction; Side Branches Approve Stand.

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 29 (AP)—Three meetings of different cotton organizations today failed to bring about resumption of negotiations in the great cotton industry, stoppage of which had laid off half a million workers on a contest over wage reduction.

A committee of the Master Cotton Spinners Federation confirmed the action of the employers' wages committee in reducing wages 12 1/2 per cent but stated readiness to reopen negotiations.

The Spinners Amalgamation Federation discussed only domestic affairs, while the general council of the Amalgamated Weavers association at Bury simply endorsed the steps taken by their representatives.
