Farmers Desire Chance to Shop Saturday Nights

Editor's Note—The following letter, received by The Observer, attacks a problem that has had much attention but little action in the last two years.

"Saturday night is the only time during the harvest that the farmer can get to town to do his shopping. Every thing needed during the week is put off until that time. Most crews work until 4 o'clock Saturday night, then hurry around to do chores, etc., before they can get to La Grande.

"We rush in with an idea of a pleasant evening's trading at about 7 o'clock, and what do we find? Half of the stores taken up with root beer stands, picture shows and full of town cars that have been parked there since 5 o'clock, a lot of them leaving their machines and walking home to their dinners. After that they have a grandstand seat for the evening's performances, most of the rest of us trying to find a place to slip in while we buy a few groceries, and that can't be done in five minutes for harvest crews.

"How can we farmers patronize home industry when we can't park in ten miles of it?

"Couldn't the people of La Grande extend the farmer the courtesy of at least a limited time to park anywhere, but loading or safety zones on Saturday night during harvest, until the stores are closed? We are all too tired to walk in from Island City or Perry.

(Signed) A Farmer's Wife."

GUNS BLAZE AS TONG WAR IS DECLARED

Two Deaths in Chicago, One in Newark, Shots Fired Elsewhere.

CHINESE PREPARE OVER THE NATION

Mysterious "Grapevine Telegraph" Causes Orientals in All Cities to be on Guard.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Tong guns blazed in Chicago yesterday and the echo, heard in Chinese sections all over the United States, brought out apprehensive police details attempting to stop spread of the dread feud.

Chicago's subdivision was thrown into confusion yesterday when a Hip Sing Tongman, Yee Sun, was shot and killed in a crowded street and again last night when Kar Leong Wong was shot and probably mortally wounded. Police were informed Wong was a member of the On Leung Tong and they were working on the theory that his shooting was in retaliation for the slaying of Sun.

The mysterious "grapevine telegraph" through which Tong members were informed of happenings in other cities evidently was functioning well for police in other cities reported the slayings in Chinatown were deserted and tense and uneasy spirit prevailed.

Shots Fired in Boston Two shots were fired at Chinese Boston yesterday, and although trouble was believed to have been the result of gambling quarrels, scores of plainclothesmen were stationed in the Chinese section and sightseers kept out.

Police could find no explanation of the Chicago slaying, although Sun was shot in On Leung territory, falling with three bullet wounds almost at the door of his rival Tong's headquarters. The killer, in traditional Tong fashion, dropped the pistol beside the victim before he fled into a crowd.

Admit War Is On Both Tong leaders admitted that the war was on and said they feared a repetition of the bitter warfare that climaxed more than 70 lives in the nationwide Tong war of 1925.

The recent troubles are believed

Wallowa County Preparing For Its 24th Fair

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—A joint meeting of the Enterprise chamber of commerce and the county fair board was held at Enterprise Friday night for the purpose of discussing plans for the next county fair, which will be held the last weekend in September.

There were about thirty present and all seemed to agree that the fair is a great benefit to all the county and all expressed their willingness to contribute to its support.

A. C. Miller, the secretary, stated that the Wallowa County Agricultural fair is the oldest county fair in Oregon from the standpoint of continued existence. The first fair was held at Enterprise in 1905, the next two years it was held at Lostine, then one year at Wallowa and then back to Enterprise where it has been held for the last 19 years.

Therefore the coming fair will be the 24th annual one. Several new directors are to be added to the present number. It is thought that this will add to the interest taken by giving the various granges and communities representation on that board.

Tuesday evening a meeting of the directors will be held when certain proposed changes and other problems will be taken up.

13 ESCAPE FROM NARCOTIC HOME

Inmates of Spadra State Hospital Near Los Angeles in Outbreak.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5 (AP)—A midnight riot by inmates of the Spadra state narcotic hospital near here today resulted in the escape of thirteen men. The outbreak was quelled only after authorities reinforced by a squad of deputy sheriffs threatened the mob with sawed off shotguns.

The inmates used improvised rams to smash doors and knock bars and wire gratings from windows. Three of their number were arrested and accused of being part of the band of ringleaders, they were Charles E. Rivers, 42, William Graham, 60, and Bobby Hall, 35.

No one was hurt in the struggling and peace was restored when authorities advanced with shotguns and tear gas bombs and used the inmates they would attack if the rioters refused to surrender.

Reports from the hospital said several scores of men figured in the outbreak and that it began about midnight, apparently at a given signal.

Groups of inmates manned clumsily constructed rams and rushed doors, breaking them down. Others used similar battering pieces on protected windows, smashing them.

Names of 10 of the escaped inmates were: P. M. Hayes, 36; Manford Polpovick, 35; Frank Seeley, 32; Fred P. Walters, 37; Frank Young, 31; Herbert Cohen, 29; Mel Davis, 28; Herbert Foy, 21; Melvin Connor, 20; and Clarence A. Smith, 37. The identity of the remaining three had not been made.
