NO ONE ABLE TO SUCCEED EDISON

So Says Wilbur Huston, Western Youth Who won National Competition.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 3. (AP)—Selected from among the youth of the nation as the protégé of Thomas A. Edison, 16-year-old Wilbur B. Huston has no illusion as to how great a man as the famous inventor.

Displaying great modesty after announcement of his winning the Edison scholarship, he said:

"I wish to correct the erroneous impression that anyone can be selected as successor to Thomas A. Edison. I am not foolish enough to think I ever can be as great as he is."

The son of Bishop S. Arthur Huston of the Episcopal diocese of Olympia, Wash., made a mark of 92 in the searching Edison questionnaire to which 45 competing youths were subjected. He was the last to finish.

He retained his modest and amiable bearing in the fact of a barrage of questions from newspapermen.

He has never been a Boy Scout, or a member of the Y.M.C.A., he told them. His hobby is collecting specimens of marine biology. He was on the fencing team of Lakeside school at Seattle. He has never smoked. His favorite reading is biography.

He was revealed by the questionnaire as one who would sacrifice comfort for success, but not honor, health, happiness, love, riches nor reputation.

He thinks a lie permissible "in case of serious trouble, pain and grief, and you do not benefit yourself in any way."

As to the future of the automobile he believes it will become subordinate to the airplane as a means of transportation, to be used only for short distances. He predicted the electrification of airplanes.

"Are you surprised that you won," he was asked.

"Very much so," was the reply.

WARM WEATHER QUILTS GOTHAM; MERCURY DOWN

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—Only a week ago New York City was seeking relief from the most severe heat wave of the summer. Today forecasts were in order.

The coolest August 5 on record in metropolitan New York was registered today as the thermometer dropped to 56—two degrees below the existing low mark established in 1915. There was a brisk northwest wind.

AMERICAN KILLED

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Henry Pouch, said to be an American, was killed and Raymond King of Rochester, N. Y., was injured in an automobile accident near Staines, Middlesex, early today.

Pouch and King and two companions Richard Kilpatrick, an American and Mr. Grant, an Englishman, were occupants of a closed car which knocked down the parapet of a bridge over the Thames and fell 25 feet to the grass below.

HOT CHECK MARRIAGE

BRISTOW, Okla. (AP)—How to finance a marriage though broke was solved by a Bristow youth. He cashed four "hot" checks. One was for the ring, another for the bridal gown, a third for candy and the fourth for wedding cigars. But he spent his honeymoon alone in jail.

RED BARN IS DISTINCTIVE

RED BARN, Tex. (AP)—Red Barn claims two distinctions, but does not boast of the second one. Postoffice boxes here are called "stalls." In a recent "warm spell" thermometers registered 125 degrees.

More than $2,300,000 was deposited in Ohio banks by 200,000 children in 1928.

The Oregon Voter, commenting on suggestions for the expenditure of the state's $25,000 advertising fund, says it should all be spent outside. Right. It is neither good business nor good politics to spend part of it in Oregon newspapers to "sell Oregon to Oregonians." Oregon newspapers want none of the money. Most of them are busy selling Oregon to its present citizens day after day without direct compensation. Most of them would be willing to donate space for these advertisements to be published in outside publications just for the good of the cause. The Observer certainly would. In any event, every dollar in this fund should go outside. Spent carefully, every dollar will return many fold.

A FARMER'S WIFE DISCUSSES PARKING

One of the best editorials to appear in The Observer in many a moon is published on the front page of today's issue. It is written by the wife of a prominent farmer in the valley and hits the parking problem in La Grande squarely on the head. We have discussed this same question on several occasions but parking spaces have become fewer. Now comes this letter putting the problem up to city officials, the chamber of commerce and the community as a whole in no uncertain terms.

All business men want ample parking space available at all times for shoppers from the valley and outside communities. Shoppers want it, as this letter strongly implies. How is it to be provided?

Getting rid of the continuous parking of town cars in the business district—particularly those owned by business men and their employes—can be accomplished in two ways. First, by strict enforcement of the one-hour parking ordinance now in existence but not enforced. And, second, by the circulation of a written pledge among business and professional men and their employes to the effect that they will not park cars on Adams avenue and Depot streets, for example, in the business district, that they will use less important side streets for all-day parking and co-operate fully in providing parking facilities for visitors from the valley and outside communities.

Both of these remedies could well be undertaken at once. The first will educate the stray motorist who wants free storage on an important business street and will jog the memory of the forgetful business man. The second will make sufficient parking space quickly available and will make enforcement of the hour limit easy. City authorities should undertake the first, chamber of commerce officials the second. With both in action such a letter as this from a farmer's wife will be unnecessary in the future.

The writer of this letter is justified in her criticism of the five minute parking limit in our present loading zones. Five minutes is long enough to load purchases made on a shopping tour but not long enough to make the purchases and load them. An extension of time for the loading zones and the more careful consideration of no-parking or limited parking permits for Adams avenue might well be given consideration.

An additional courtesy to out-of-town shoppers is shown in some cities in the middle west by identification of outside cars, the city ordinance providing that these cars may be parked without regard to parking limits. This might be undertaken in La Grande by issuing special stickers to car owners residing outside of the city and identifying them as exempt from parking restrictions during shopping visits in the business district.

Regardless of what remedy is deemed best, the parking problem in La Grande needs action. It needs action now. It will not solve itself, and we are confident that the people of the city are interested enough in correcting the evil to lend hearty co-operation.

Your Banker's Advice -- Like Doctor's Prescription

Neither is of any value unless your confidence is behind them as they are carried out.

When you are sick, you ask your doctor what's the matter and what to do to get well. You don't take chances with your health by going to the drug store and trusting to your own knowledge of medicine for a cure.

Because of his experience and training, your doctor is better equipped to give the right advice—and by the same token your banker is better equipped to give you correct advice when you have an investment problem.

Ask him! His advice is free—his friendly counsel is always at your service.
