Mrs. G. W. Hunter Is Hostess At Charming Party

Mrs. Gilbert W. Hunter was hostess at a pretty summer party yesterday afternoon when she entertained members of the Island club at her home in the country.

Garden flowers were used about the rooms for the afternoon. Three tables of bridge were at play. Mrs. L. M. Hoyt making high score.

Mrs. H. G. Avery, who recently returned from Corvallis to spend about six weeks here, was a guest of the afternoon.

The hostess served a two-course luncheon following bridge.

Portland Woman Guest This Week

An interesting La Grande visitor of this week is Mrs. C. A. Thomasson of Portland who is the guest of Mrs. C. W. Binemer. Mrs. Thomasson has been enjoying play on the La Grande country club golf course during her stay. Yesterday she drove with her three children, Mary, John and Tom, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ringler, of Portland, to Wallawa lake for the day.

Wallawa Lake visitors from La Grande have been numerous this week. Just now Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp are there at their cabin home and have as their weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hansen who have been very popular visitors in La Grande of this week. They are one time residents of this city who now reside in Portland.

Away from their home here for the weekend are Mr. and Mrs. John Grentlich who are spending a few days in Pendleton, their former home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stange and their daughters, Annie and Jane, arrived home last evening from a week's trip to Spokane where Mr. Stange attended a lumber meeting and to Portland.

As the guest of her cousin, Miss Virginia Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hunter, Miss Margorie Reynolds is in Wallawa this weekend.

Important visitors here include Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tenneyson, of Los Angeles, who are guests of Mr. Tenneyson's brother, the Rev. M. A. Tenneyson, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, and Mrs. Tenneyson.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenneyson are here on a wedding trip. He is director of boys' work at the Church of All Nations in Los Angeles.

Lutheran Choral Society In Picnic

A jolly picnic of last Sunday night was one in which members of the Lutheran Choral society participated at Higned. The picnic was the July social event of the society but had been postponed because of the chicken dinner which was given that month. After the picnic supper had been enjoyed the group spent an hour or so singing and visiting.

Surprise Given At Country Home

Mrs. R. C. Alexander was honored with a surprise birthday party Thursday afternoon given by her daughter, Frances, at the country home of Mrs. Alexander's mother, Mrs. Willis Moss.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and music was enjoyed. The home was decorated with beautiful baskets of zinnias and golden glow.

At the close of the afternoon Mrs. W. A. Zurbick presented the honor guest, Mrs. Alexander, with a lovely birthday cake, lighted with candles. Refreshments were served.

Guests of Miss Frances for the delightful afternoon were: Mrs. Robert Gay and baby, Mrs. Clyde Webb and daughter, Helen Jean.

Dinner In Honor Of Southerners

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McKennon entertained at a dinner at the Seaside Inn last evening, honoring their home guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and John Jr., of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Dinner was served at seven o'clock at a table at which a pretty centerpiece of glassware was used. Covers were placed for eleven.

Following dinner a happy evening of visiting was spent.

Mrs. Davis is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. McKennon. The visitors are touring in the west and spent two days here, continuing their trip today.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. McKennon last evening were Mrs. J. D. McKennon, Mrs. Isarris French, Mr. and Mrs. Robert French, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart French, of Cove, and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Davis and their son.

Party Compliments Mrs. Weatherbee

As a compliment to Mrs. A. B. Weatherbee (Mrs. Jones), of Portland, who ended a two month visit here today, a family picnic took place last evening at Pine Cone.

It was arranged by her sisters, Miss Hazel Jones, Mrs. Cornelius McGroves, Mrs. Bert Hollister and Mrs. Madeline Myers. Their party included Mrs. Weatherbee's nephews, Jack Hollister and Bob Myers and her niece, Lydia Mae Hollister, enjoyed the evening, spent at swimming and visiting. A picnic supper was served at about seven o'clock.

Mrs. Weatherbee made her home here during her girlhood and has many friends in La Grande, with whom she visited during her extended stay.

Entertain Club At Bridge Party

Mrs. Clyde Peterson was a hostess of last Friday when she entertained members of her bridge club at an attractive party at her home on Third street. Two tables were at play for the afternoon. Mrs. Lloyd A. Young making high score and Mrs. Ivan Freeman winning second honors.

Guest prize went to Mrs. Lynn Larson.

Bouquets of sweet peas and larkspur were effectively arranged about the room. Following bridge the hostess served refreshments.

The bridge club is a comparatively new one to society of La Grande, having been organized only a few months. As yet no name for it has been selected.

"Huckleberry" Parties Popular

Picking huckleberries can be every bit as interesting as playing bridge—when you remember the pies coming up.

At any rate, "huckleberry parties" have come near to replacing the more conventional afternoon party this last week or so with the climax of the huckleberry season approaching.

Numerous groups of local folk have spent afternoons of this week in the hills picking and enjoying the fun of being out in the cool of the mountains. Usually picnic lunches are a part of the excursions. Among the many groups who have enjoyed such trips recently have been the W. P. Ballard family and, yesterday, Mrs. M. A. Harrison and her daughter, Mrs. Howard Glenn and party.

The Royal Neighbors will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Odd Fellows' hall.

Stop in Pendleton

The group left, about 2 o'clock, stopping at Pilot Rock for several minutes, and then going on to Pendleton, reaching the Round-Up City about 5 where a short meeting with chamber of commerce officials was held. The caravan returned to La Grande about 7 o'clock.

Motion pictures of the caravan, of interesting scenery, etc., were taken along the entire route.

The caravan was accompanied by two forest service officials, County Commissioner W. R. Ledbetter, Traffic Officer Dick Robertson and County Engineer S. B. Morgan in addition to the chamber of commerce officials and Judge Couch.

town of Albany, in British Columbia, was menaced by a conflagration that was defying the efforts of 150 men, including employees of a lumber mill at Albany to control it. A fire fighters' camp was destroyed near the Wolf creek blaze of Washington, but none of the fighters was hurt. This blaze had covered more than 2,000 acres and was spreading rapidly before a wind into valuable spruce land.

The regional forestry office at Portland reported that continued low humidity was in prospect for today and with it added fire dangers. The two fires on Cougar creek in Mount Rainier forest, were still gaining rapid headway through green timber. They had consumed more than 1,000 acres.

The fire that threatened to wipe out the little town of Heman, Manitoba, in Canada, was reported still serious yesterday, but it was believed it could be checked if the wind remained favorable. Railroad crews were released to join the fighters.

WEST OREGON FIRE HAZARD

HILLSBORO, Ore., Aug. 10 (AP)—A combined prairie and forest fire, which already has destroyed fifteen acres of shocked grain, a vacant house and barn in eastern Washington county, today was sweeping into a 2,000 acre area of logged off land toward the home of numerous settlers.

The fire of undetermined origin broke out late yesterday after federal forest officials thought the forest fire situation in Oregon was under control. Fifty men, who had been fighting a large blaze in Klamath county, Southern Oregon, were ordered to the Washington county.

Several homes, between Shady Brook and Mason Hill, are said to be in the path of the flames. One tongue of the fire swept into green timber 15 miles east of here and imperiled the home of Otto Solberger.

The area is owned by the Brax Lumber company and in an area of 2,000 acres, it is said that nothing has been burned for three years and the entire region is tinder-like.

CONDITION OF JONES IS HELD NOT ALARMING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Senator Jones, of Washington, who has been ill for some time in a hospital here, showed improvement today after a somewhat restless night.

Physicians said his progress toward recovery has been slow for the past two weeks and that there had been slight relapses, but his condition was not alarming.

The senator's son and daughter are on their way to Washington but it was said at Mr. Jones' office that they planned a visit with him and had not been called because of any change in their father's condition.

The senator was operated upon some weeks ago for an abdominal trouble.
