SCHOOL WILL BEGIN HERE ON SEPT. 9

Only Four More Weeks of Vacation Left for La Grande Children.

FOUR GRADES IN E. O. N. BUILDING

Faculty Members to be Announced Soon—Principals for Various Schools Selected.

Four weeks from today, some 2,000 grade school children and young men and women of high school age in La Grande, will turn again to their quest for education.

On Monday morning, Sept. 9, the 1929-30 term of school in this city will begin. It is announced by Superintendent J. T. Longfellow, that classes will begin in the four grade school buildings, Riviera, Central, Greenwood and Willow, in the high school and this year approximately 120 children will be cared for in the Eastern Oregon Normal school, where they will be taught in what is described as a "model elementary school."

Principals Selected Management of the various schools in La Grande will be in the hands of the following principals: high school, E. D. Towler; Central grade school, Mrs. E. A. McEachern; Greenwood school, H. A. Wilkerson; Riviera, Herbert Evans; and Willow, Mrs. Evelyn Bonnell.

The list of teachers has not yet been completed but will be announced in the near future. Mr. Longfellow said.

Last year on the first day of school 1,350 children were enrolled, divided as follows: high school 542, Central 565, Greenwood 418, Riviera 261 and Willow 147. With an increase of 100 more children, the enrollment is expected to reach 1,450.

Explains New School

Because of the 129 who will be taught in the E. O. N., the opening enrollment at the four grade schools may be smaller than last year, unless the total increase is so great as to absorb this. Mr. Longfellow explained that the E. O. N. grade school, which will consist of the following: 1B, 3B, 4B and 5B, will not be included in a separate district, but will be taught from any part of the city, providing that their applications are received before the required number has been provided. Parents may enroll their children in these four grades between now and the opening day of school by communicating with Mr. Longfellow, by letter, telephone or personally.

Buildings throughout the district either have been or are being put in first class condition for the opening day of school, with such repairs as were necessary being made.

Another change made possible by the E. O. N. elementary school, was the removing of three grade school classes from the high school building.

Denies Dr. Snook Confession Was From Prosecutor

Stenographer takes Stand as Rebuttal Witness After Defense Rests its Case.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12 (AP)—R. O. Brown, the stenographer who took the confession of Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of Thora Hix, denied from the witness stand today as a state rebuttal witness the charge made by Dr. Snook that the confession was dictated by Prosecutor and John J. Chester and did not represent his version of the killing.

The defense rested late today in the murder trial of Dr. Snook, without calling to the witness stand the alibi witness whom they had indicated they would call to prove the former Ohio state professor was insane when he killed his co-ed sweetheart, Thora Hix, last June.

Overlaid With Comedy The tragic business of the trial was overlaid with comedy today.

John F. Seidel, of defense counsel, who was on the stand as a defense witness, earned a rebuff from John J. Chester, Jr., to recall the judge and jury with a snarling account of their verbal clashes during the period that Dr. Snook was being questioned before his arrest.

The prosecutor cross examined the man who had fought with him before the former professor confessed and who opposed him in the murder trial since its beginning last July 24.

Time and against judge, the jury and the courtroom were moved to laughter by the cutting exchanges between the two attorneys.

Seidel described his connection with the case, told how he had been ordered out of the room where Dr. Snook was being questioned and declared he saw marks on Dr. Snook's face left by the vigorous

FOREST FIRE IS BURNING NEAR HERE

First Serious Blaze of Season Near Beaver Creek Reservoir.

HEAT WAVE FAILS TO HELP MATTERS

Mercury up to 98 Yesterday and Climbing Today—Wallowa Forests are Closed.

The first serious forest fire to develop in this section started sometime Saturday two miles east of the La Grande reservoir on Beaver Creek, according to L. T. Morehead. The fire, which is burning over about 100 acres, is not yet under control. One hundred men are working to prevent the blaze from spreading into nearby timber.

At present it is raging in a boggy pine timber. Mr. Morehead reported that the crew of men was taken from Baker, North Powder and La Grande. A small fire east of Cove was reported today but no details of the blaze were received here.

Heat Wave Under Way Another heat wave, starting here Saturday when the mercury went up to 98 above, and continuing yesterday and today, added to the dryness of the forests. Guards throughout the northwest are urging smokers and others in the woods to be particularly careful.

A report from Wallowa said that owing to the large amount of dry grass and other inflammable material on the ground, and the excessive dry condition of the forest, it has been necessary to close the entire forest to smoking, except at established camps.

Camp fire permits will be issued only for the following areas: Bear Creek district: Sled Springs, Bear Creek, Stanley and North Mission ranger stations; Camp 10, pole bridge on Bear creek, big cut on Mission river, mouth of North Mission, Pole Bridge, Willington cabin, Shady camp and French camp grounds; Chimney, Minam, John Henry Bear, Dimey and Francis lakes.

DYNAMITE BLAST KILLS WORKMAN

J. R. Young, 47, Formerly of La Grande, Victim of Baker Accident.

BAKER, Ore., Aug. 12 (AP)—John R. Young, 47, was killed by a dynamite blast while working in the rock pit at the Joslin-Metal-lister road camp near here yesterday. The upper part of the man's body was blown 125 yards from the pit and other parts of the torso were scattered far away.

Bryan Raymond, working with Young, was within 20 feet of him when the blast occurred. He was knocked unconscious but was not injured.

The exact cause of the accident had not been determined today but company officials expressed the theory that the "pocket" had not been given sufficient time to cool before additional dynamite was placed in the hole.

Young is survived by his widow and a 16-year-old son. He came here last March from La Grande where he had lived two years.

Legionnaires And Auxiliary Return From Three-Day Session In Salem

Tired but happy, nearly all members of the La Grande drum and bugle corps and the auxiliary drill team returned last night from the state American Legion convention, to take life easy for another year after three strenuous days helping Salem make the "eleventh annual" success that it was.

The La Grande delegation missed no part of the convention and was very popular with the crowd there.

Among the many attractions that Salem offered for entertainment was the airport dedication, a barbecue attended by thousands, the junior baseball championship of the state, the drum corps contest and the stunts. The baseball game ended 5 to 2 for Portland.

New Uniforms Impressive As usual the drum corps contest was the climax of the convention and this year it was better than ever. Ten teams competed and they were all good, local men say. Portland won the cup for the second successive time, but the decision is reported to have been a very unpopular one, the crowd wanting to see Coos Bay win. The Coos Bay corps placed fourth. La Grande placed seventh, although the corps was the most beautiful and impressive, due to the bright gold uniforms under the brilliant flood lights that illuminated the field.

Auxiliary Team Praised The auxiliary drill team, the only one to appear on the field, although there were others present, made the hit of the evening, going through the complicated maneuvers without a single mistake.

The Medford drum corps, which won the cup for military efficiency, told members of the La Grande auxiliary drill team that if they could get the consent of their parents they would send the cup to La Grande, feeling that the auxiliary's drill exceeded theirs in precision.

Charles Whitehouse, of Corvallis who won the cup for being the best drum major at the convention, declared that he had never witnessed a more perfect drill on any field than that displayed by the La Grande women.

La Grande and Baker tied for second in the stunt contest. Mrs. Palmer Elected Willa G. Groat did not get any state officers with the exception that Mrs. Rena Palmer was named as one of the alternates to the national convention from the state at large, the local legionnaires helped

LIQUOR DEATHS ARE MOUNTING

Association Against Prohibition Amendment Presents Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—A mounting death rate from alcoholism and increased alcohol consumption are pictured in charts published today by the association against the prohibition amendment in a pamphlet presenting a statistical study of the entire prohibition period in the United States.

Those manifestations, it says, are accompanied by evidence of increased production and consumption of illicit liquor, its charts and tables of growing interdependence being based on indices "accepted by both wet and dry partisans as valid."

The alcoholic death rate is described as "almost up to the pre-war level" having shown "a steady decline sharply prior to and during the first year of prohibition, following similar experiences in foreign countries. It attributes "the sharp drop in 1918 and 1919" to war conditions and that in 1920 to prohibition.

Statistics of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company covering 1914 to 1927 are cited in support of this by showing "the same characteristic as the curves for deaths from alcoholic insanity."

The local club members are planning for another sweepstakes tournament here next Sunday.

Graf Zeppelin Will Start For Tokyo Aug. 14

Start to be Made in Early Morning Hours so as to Allow Maximum Load of Gas.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany Aug. 12 (AP)—Dr. Hugh Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, this afternoon ordered the dirigible "cleared for sailing" on the Tokyo stage of her flight around the world, at 3:00 a. m. Wednesday (9:00 p. m. Tuesday, E. S. T.). He admitted the departure of the big air liner might be delayed by unfavorable weather until the same hour Thursday morning.

In any case, the start will be made in the early morning hours as the low temperature then permits a maximum load of gas.

Dr. Eckener made the announcement after getting one of the closest haircuts in his life. The barber who was grooming him temporarily persisted in going over the hero of Friedrichshafen's hair again and again despite Dr. Eckener's insistence that the haircut was already perfect.

Says Rumors "Nonsense" Dr. Eckener declared rumors current in Friedrichshafen that the Zeppelin's departure would be delayed by procrastination of Russia in granting permits to fly over Russian territory were "arrant nonsense."

"There is not the slightest string attached, not even as to where we must enter Russia."

Asked whether he had already decided on his route across Russia and Siberia, Dr. Eckener replied: "that is absolutely impossible to forecast."

"All I can say when we leave here will be that on the basis of the latest weather reports we will take the northern or southern route into Russia."

"After that I must depend upon the conditions I find there."

Traditional Tea Tuesday Passengers for the flight and newspaper correspondents covering the departure have been invited to the traditional tea on Tuesday.
