Goes 8000 Miles In One Week

Richard J. Burke, retired capitalist, ate lunch in London on Wednesday—and the next Wednesday ate dinner in Los Angeles, having used the Graf Zeppelin and two airplanes to make the 8000-mile trip in 148 1/2 hours. He flew by plane from London to Friedrichshafen, Germany, then crossed the ocean in the Graf, and then flew to Los Angeles. He's shown disembarking at the completion of his trip.

Teaspoonfuls From Cooking School

"We are so glad to have had this school in Elgin," commented Mrs. Lynn E. Hill during the period of chatting with Mrs. McLean that followed her demonstration work yesterday. "In my own case, for example, I have wanted to attend the Observer's school before but I have never been able to get away. It has been a real pleasure and help."

All the way from Denver is a long way to come to attend the Observer cooking school, but at least that's what Mrs. Paul Spencer (Martha Phipps) did. Well, perhaps she didn't come to Union just to attend the cooking school—but she does feel that her visit was an opportune one and she was an attentive member of the audience yesterday. Though there were visitors from a number of cities other than Union in the audience Tuesday Mrs. Spencer was believed to have the "utmost attendance record." She is visiting her mother, Mrs. Edith Wright Phipps, at Union for a few weeks.

Among the attendees—and the prize winners—at Elgin was Mrs. L. Denham. She received some of the schooling products in the drawings at the end of the afternoon. Mrs. Denham will make her home in Elgin, though Mr. Denham is in La Grande where he recently became justice of the peace.

Preceding the session Tuesday Mrs. McLean had lunched with a group of prominent members of the Union Women's club at the Union hotel. They were Mrs. Edward S. Miller, who is president; Mrs. Edith Wright Phipps, Mrs. Viola Parker, Mrs. Lela Sturgill and Miss Alice Caldwell.

"The cooking school is much appreciated here," remarked Mrs. Paul S. Chandler, during the afternoon at Elgin.

Two beaming youngsters—Fredrick Hill and Bernal Hug—whose mothers were attending school at Elgin, helped in drawing and in distributing attendance awards at the close of the school Wednesday. They liked "playing Santa Claus" very much—and most especially when Mrs. McLean presented them with two chilled lemon puddings that she had just made in her demonstration work. Somehow, these two puddings didn't last long.

The Women's club house provided an ideal location for the school. The building is a new, well lighted and conveniently arranged one and its erection about a year ago was a highlight in the history of the Union club. It was under the auspices of that organization that the school was held there.

"No, it won't be anything new to see. The Observer coming every day—I've been reading it for a long time," observed Mrs. Jesse Crum yesterday, shortly after she had been informed that she had won the six-month subscription to The Observer in the drawing. "That doesn't mean I'm not very pleased to have it coming these six months," she added. Mr. Crum is a well known attorney.

Miss Marjorie Kirby, of La Grande, who is assisting Mrs. McLean for the third year, graduated this spring in home economics from the Oregon State College at Corvallis.

"What I can't understand is how Mrs. McLean can cook as she does and talk as she does—at the same time," was Mrs. Roy Conklin's comment as she inspected the beautifully set table at the conclusion of the school Tuesday. Mrs. Conklin is the wife of the superintendent of schools at Union.

So keenly interested in Mrs. McLean's classes that they drove from their home in La Grande and La Grande City to Elgin yesterday to hear her Mrs. Lela Jones and her daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Hunter, are more enthusiastic than ever in their appreciation of the home economist's work. Incidentally, when Mrs. Hunter returned to her home near Elgin City she had an electric fan from the Eastern Oregon Light & Power company, first gift offered in the attendance prizes being given each day of the school.

Pretty little Anna Mae Winship, daughter of Mrs. George A. Winship drew the names of prize winners when the various attendance gifts were presented at the close of the afternoon. Anna Mae attended cooking school all afternoon and she is very sure now that she is going to be a good cook, too, some day.

Tennis is the particular hobby of one Union woman who was in attendance at the school yesterday. She is Mrs. Fred Fox who is an excellent tennis player and is always prominent in play at the Eastern Oregon tourneys.

Going to Elgin for the cooking school yesterday was more like "visiting home" to Miss Marjorie Kirby, Mrs. McLean's assistant. Miss Kirby, whose father is Dr. E. G. Kirby lived in Elgin for a number of years before her father moved his practice to La Grande. She remained at Elgin last evening to have dinner with friends before returning here.

Among the interested listeners was Mrs. T. N. Kerr who is in charge of the dining room at the Union hotel.

Mother, Sister Of Swiss Flier Believe Him Dead

SARAL, Switzerland, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The mother and sister of Kurt Loewcher, missing Swiss trans-Atlantic aviator, today gave up hope of seeing him again, and accepted bravely what they considered the will of providence.

Neighbors greatly admired the mother's stoicism. She told them that when she agreed to her son becoming an aviator, she realized she must be prepared for all hazards. She praised his hardy, good, hearty, and sunny character.

The plan of Loewcher and Oscar Kaiser who was with him on the flight across the Atlantic, from London into silence, had the full approval of the parents of both. They visited their families, August 18, full of confidence and joy, and told them they had decided Loewcher should pilot during the day and Kaiser during the night. A last letter received from Kaiser, said he felt he would see his native land again before very long.

Philadelphia is hardly a suburb of New York, but 175 residents of the Quaker City commute to the metropolis daily.

For the hay fever boys, this is just the season of the year.

MISS PALFREY IS ELIMINATED IN NET PLAY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 22. (AP)—Sarah Palfrey, 16-year-old heroine of Tuesday's play, was eliminated in the third round of the national tennis championship tournament yesterday by Mary Greaf, of Kansas City, 6-2, 6-2.

England and the United States broke even in the first two international matches yesterday. Helen Jacobs, though hard pressed, scored for America over Mrs. B. C. Covell of England, 1-6, 5-2, while Mrs. Phoebe Watson, another of the British Wimbledon cup players, evened matters by defeating Mrs. Anna Harper of San Francisco, 11-9, 6-4.

Betty Nuthall, English, are advanced one step nearer a meeting with the champion, Helen White, when she won her third round match with Mrs. May Sutton Hurrey, Santa Monica, Cal. veteran, 7-5, 6-1. Betty was somewhat erratic in the first set but steadied herself and her hard-hitting game quickly ended Mrs. Bundy's hopes in the second session.

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, acid, indigestion, stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of bark, herbs and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.
