Worker Returns—
Miss Annette Adams who does social welfare work in the territory around Spokane returned to her work Thursday after spending several weeks visiting friends and relatives in Union.

Sleep Killed—
While driving sleep down the Wheeler lane Sunday evening, a car driven by H. P. Riggs of North Powder crashed into Mr. Vogel's band killing two and injuring a dozen lambs. The sheep herder was struck by the car with enough force to drive him through the windshield though he was not injured. Mr. Riggs was summoned before Judge Denham of La Grande and fined for reckless driving.

Visit at Home—
Mrs. Lee Bostwick, Mrs. Esther Stoddard and Miss Mildred Stoddard of La Grande spent Thursday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Doris Myers in Union.

Shipping Lambs—
Large shipments of lambs are being made this week by sheepmen from various parts of the valley. About 6,000 have gone out from Union in the past few days. Among those making shipments are H. J. Green of La Grande; Gray Brothers, Albert Scher and Maurer, and Becker, of Cove; K. Lindsay, W. Woodruff, Bob French and W. H. Vogel from the Valley; Saunders of Eagle Valley and Wilson Brothers of Pine Valley.

Visit at Park—
Dr. E. W. Martin, a prominent member of the medical profession of Kansas City and his son, Dwight, visited at the doctor's boyhood home in the Park Thursday. Dr. Martin's parents homesteaded the farm known as the old Martin place many years ago. It was interesting for him to come back after so many years absence and he visited spots that were vivid in his boyhood memories with great pleasure. The Kansas City citizen remarked on the general growth and development of La Grande and the Grande Ronde valley and found crops looking fine. He called on many old friends who thoroughly enjoyed visits with him. He and his son have been touring Yellowstone park and are now on their way to Canada where he will look after mining interests.

Gekeler Reunion—
Announcements have been made that September 1 is the date set for the Gekeler reunion at Riverside park La Grande. The event will take place to celebrate the anniversary of the arrival of the Joseph Young emigrant train in 1862. Beside Mr. and Mrs. Young and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Gekeler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McAllister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williamson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Eilridge and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nance, George Hornpool, Arthur Hemmings, D. A. McAllister and Sol Gherkin were among members of the train who made the perilous journey across the plains and settled in the valley in '62. Many other teams of the train went on west. All members of the train and their descendants are asked to bring their picnic lunches and join in the Gekeler family celebration. Charles Gekeler is president of the organization. Velma McCall Brown is secretary and Mrs. William Gekeler is historian. Dorothy Swartz is chairman of the program committee and an interesting entertainment is being planned to take place after lunch.

Lease Farm—
Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes have leased the Earl Zundel farm for three years. The farm is in the Grande Ronde valley. They plan to use it in just as soon as the negotiations. Mr. Zundel is having made on the house are completed.

Pondosa Pool Progress—
Finishing work on the P. J. Powers swimming pool is being done this week by H. A. Newton. Mrs. Newton is staying at Pondosa while her husband is working there. The pool is said to be a fine one and will provide splendid recreation for residents of that section.

Growers Jubilant—
Woolgrowers of Union county are still jubilant over their success in the Oregon Lambs Sale at Pendleton Tuesday. They plan to ship in just as soon as the negotiations. Mr. Zundel is having made on the house are completed.

Prominent Family Leaves—
It is with hearty regret that the entire Cove community is to see the R. H. Daniels family leave that locality to establish their home near North Powder. Every one of the family has been active in that community in various affairs and all have a deep place in the affections of Cove folks. However it is a pleasure for their friends to know that they are to have a fine modern 30 acre farm, with 20 acres of oats, 20 of barley, most of the remainder in alfalfa, and 25 head of Jersey and 14 of holsteins. Their new farm is a picturesque

Chief, Bureau of Agricultural Economics

Economic studies of production and marketing, agricultural co-operation, farm organization, farm financial relations, farm labor, land economics and other problems of agricultural life are handled by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Information on these points are collected by the bureau and disseminated to rural dwellers. Information on supply, demand, movement and market prices of farm commodities is also furnished. It also enforces the cotton futures act, cotton standards act, grain standards act and standard container act and others.

modern one, having lights in the barn and an electric milking machine. The farm house is a large, modernly equipped one. The Daniels family is very well satisfied with the prospect of their new residence. Miss Jane will attend high school at Muddy Creek and little Miss Ardella Dolores will go with her family. Miss Carmen, however, will be teaching school at Albert. The farm is the former Bert Morris place.

Opens Store—
Fred C. Eickemeyer has gone into the retail lumber business at Prineville, according to word received here by his friends. Mr. Eickemeyer is well known in the Pondosa locality, having spent two years in that section in business. He returned to Prineville last month.

Seymour Here—
After a year's leave of absence during which he made an intensive study of club work in eastern states, H. J. Seymour state club leader has returned to Corvallis to resume duties. Mr. Seymour stopped in La Grande Monday en route home, visiting with W. Wray Lawrence, county agent, and others with whom he is associated. Mr. Seymour studied in the east and visited different states. L. J. Allen, his assistant, who was in charge of club work, has begun his year's leave of absence. He will study in the east and will visit some of the biggest fairs and expositions in the nation.

Home from Lake—
Francis and Vernon DeLong returned home Sunday evening from Wallawa Lake where they spent a couple of days with friends. While there they were fortunate enough to get some excellent snap shots of four elk, two baby elk and two old ones, that came down to the camped and fished on the little lake.

Visits Little Forks—
Miss Mildred Spencer spent a very enjoyable time with Mrs. Inez Jenkins and family when they came and fished on the Little Forks for a day or two last week.

Committee Selected—
The special state grand jury meeting to be held in La Grande this fall will have the following committees making arrangements: W. H. Gekeler, La Grande; Mrs. Miles Woodruff, Summerville; C. E. Moore, Edin; J. A. Nier, North Powder; and C. G. Simpson, Cove. A district conference for the home economic and insurance departments, as well as for doctors, ministers and deputies, is planned for that time as part of the program.

An tractor demonstration was held at the George Salisbury farm Saturday by the W. H. Bohnenkamp company.

Buy Combine—
The Smiths brothers, who purchased a new combine, have a couple of weeks ago are harvesting on their own place at present.

Go to Dayton—
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCall and their son, Arthur, accompanied Mrs. Clarence Dietrich and children to Dayton, Wash., Friday when they spent the day with Mr. McCall's grandmother, Mrs. Barbara Johnson. Mrs. Johnson is 89 years of age and is in very good health.

Tri-County Picnic—
When Grant, Baker and Malheur counties hold their get-together meetings at Union, Aug. 25 former Governor Walter M. Pierce and W. B. Gekeler, state deputy master of grants, will deliver addresses. A large attendance is anticipated at the interesting meeting.

Home from Union—
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown have returned to their home in the orange hall section from Union where Mr. Brown was in charge of the MacMarr store there while the manager was away on his vacation.

Spent Vacation at Park—
Miss Neza Gaskill, a high school student of Echo and her brother, Jack, returned to their home at Echo Thursday after spending their vacation at The Park with their grandmother, Mrs. H. W. Bell. They declared that they had had a very fine visit.

Grange Meets—
When Blue Mt. Grange met Saturday the attendance was not as large as usual because of the busy season. A short business session was held and the fair the grange is planning to put on some time early in October was discussed, with a number of plans concerning it being made. It was decided to have a special meeting the first Wednesday in September to work out more arrangements for the fair.

Dinner Club Meets—
When Mrs. Roy Spencer entertained the Birthday Dinner club at her home Monday, there were nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Benjamin Schroeder, present. After a lovely fried chicken dinner which was served at 12:30 o'clock plans were discussed for the Gekeler reunion which will be held the first Sunday in September at Riverside park. The club will hold its next meeting Sept. 27 with Mrs. Charles Spencer.

Meetings Discontinued—
The Countrywoman's club has discontinued its meetings until fall. It was decided at the last meeting held at Riverside park.

Moves Merchandise—
A fine new building, which will house general merchandise, the postoffice and the telephone office has been completed at Pondosa and equipment is being moved in this week. T. H. Williams is rapidly getting his stock of merchandise and the building. Two units of electric refrigeration have been installed and ice cream and cold drinks are to be carried.

Working at Hot Lake—
Bob Holmes, University of Oregon student from Portland, is working on the harvest crew at the Lloyd Pierce place near Hot Lake.

Alfalfa Curing Advice Given By Experiment Farm

Pertinent advice for farmers in the process of curing their alfalfa is contained in the following suggestions, secured in an interview with an official at the Union Experiment station.

on the inside of the roll and the bottom of the plant on the outside, forming splendid conditions for proper curing. The Side Delivery Rake permits the raking of the newly mowed hay much sooner than the other types of rakes, hence a much more leafy product is usually attained.

"Following the Side Delivery ordinary dump rake can be used to good advantage in bunching the windrows into medium sized bunches which are afterwards shaped into comparatively well formed cocks.

"Several methods are used in moving the hay from the cocks to the stacks. Many of our farmers prefer to do this with wagons or slips, while others use the buck rake. A better quality of hay can doubtless be had by the former method; however, if proper care is exercised a very good quality can be obtained by the latter method requiring less time and at some what less expense.

"In curing alfalfa hay we should be ever mindful of the importance of handling the hay as green as possible during each operation, in fact the raking, the bunching, the cocking and even the stacking should be done at a point when the hay seems almost too green for such purposes. Often times it is well to turn the cocks of hay just before stacking. In this way the bottoms of the cocks which are usually still quite damp are allowed to cure further before stacking.
