MISSIONARY

Miss Geneva Sayre, La Grande missionary to China, was given a farewell reception yesterday afternoon and evening at the home of her father, School Superintendent E. A. Sayre, on Fourth street. Miss Sayre will leave in the near future for the Orient.

Miss Sayre To Start Trip To Orient Sunday

Leaving with the knowledge that she probably will not see her family, her friends or her native country for another eight years, Miss Geneva Sayre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sayre, of La Grande, is about to journey once again to the oriental lands on missionary work.

Miss Sayre will go first to Cheng Chow, in the Honan province of China, a station about 50 miles from Kai Fung where she is principal of the school. At the opening of school she will go on to Kai Fung to resume her work after a two year leave of absence.

During those two years Miss Sayre has obtained her bachelor of arts degree at Greenville, Ill., completing the few hours necessary for her degree there this year. She has been here with her parents during much of her leave.

Has No Worries

Asked today whether she had any qualms about the present unsettled state of the Chinese-Russian situation, Miss Sayre said she did not. "I don't have any fear. If things should get too serious we'll simply be taken to a port city and we'll be alright there. And then, you must remember that I'll be in Central China and the trouble now is far to the north in Manchuria, so that, while it sounds close here it will seem far away there."

Miss Sayre seems eager to be back at her work again—an undertaking in which she obviously has

WEATHER BETTER, MESSAGES STATE

Dirigible Veering to the North in Order to Follow Path of Ocean Steamships.

TOKYO, Aug. 25, (Sunday)—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin wirelessed her position at midnight Tokyo time Saturday (10 a. m. E. S. T.) (Saturday) as approximately 2,000 miles east of Tokyo and more than 500 miles south of the Western Aleutian islands. The Ochiishi government wireless station picked up the message.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 (AP)—A spanking breeze from the southwest came to the aid of the Graf Zeppelin's engines today and drove the gigantic air liner at high speed toward the American coast.

From the grist of wireless messages intercepted by eager radio listeners the position reports this morning inolicated that the dirigible was making in excess of 80 miles an hour as she approached the international date line on her flight from Tokyio to Los Angeles.

The friendly wind apparently had added more than 20 miles an hour to the speed of the aircraft at midnight Saturday night, ship's time (7 a. m. E.S.T.). The position report from the dirigible at that time showed she had progressed almost 100 miles in an hour.

As flying conditions gradually changed for the better the mistress of the air began to veer to the north in order to follow the invisible but easily located path of the transpacific steamships.

For the first 24 hours of her trip the Zeppelin held generally to an eastward course, giving the great circle route a wide berth in order to feel its way through more favorable weather. About 24 hours after it had left Kasumigaura it was almost on a straight line between Tokyo and San Francisco.

Early this morning, however, the

ERECT TABLET FOR EXPLORER OF OLD OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 24 (AP)—Flags of two countries, his own and that to which his deeds of 1792 meant so much, were unfurled at the Crown Point Vista house, on the upper Columbia River highway, today as a bronze tablet was dedicated to the memory of Lieutenant William R. Broughton, British subject, and the first white man to navigate the Columbia river up to that point.

It was a colorful assemblage that stood in the shadow of Mount Hood which Broughton named. The gold braid of Captain C. C. Dotson, Captain R. J. Gumm of the royal marines from the British battleship Columbo, and the 24 seamen and marines contrasted sharply with the uniforms of a detail of officers and seamen from the U. S. S. Farragut.

The dedicatory address was given by Homer D. Angell, president of the trail seeker's council, and the tablet was unveiled by Mary Katherine Reeves, daughter of Brigadier-General James H. Reeves, and James Cable, son of Eric Grant Cable, new British counsul here. The consul responded in the name of Great Britain.

SPOKANE HOMES RAZED BY FIRE

Sanitarium, Business Buildings Also Leveled By $500,000 Blaze.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 24 (AP)—A mass of glowing embers covering damages estimated variously from $350,00 to $500,000, was all that remained today of a dozen dwelling houses, an apartment building, a sanitarium and the storage and fuel yard of the McGoldrick Lumber company.

The fire started early last night in a lumber pile and soon was whipped into a conflagration by a gale-like wind.

Every piece of fire fighting equipment, but five, held for emergency blazes in other parts of the city, together with a pumper from Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, manned by firemen from both shifts, fought the blaze for six hours before it was brought under control.

Much Property Menaced

Industrial property, including factories and warehouses, worth several million dollars were menaced.

Three firemen were treated in hospitals for injuries. Captain N. Wallace, overcome twice by fumes, was in a critical condition. The other two suffered only minor hurts.

Twenty patients in the Payne sanitarium, razed soon after the fire started, were taken from their beds just as the first tongue of flame was licking the sides of the building. Children in an orphanage were taken to safety, but a shift in the wind saved the building. The mother of a 12-year-old child, frantic when she thought the kid was still in the apartment house, rushed into the flaming building after him and was carried to safety by a policeman and two bystanders. The boy was not in the building.

The flames leaped several hundred feet high, attracting thousands of pedestrians and automobilists not only from the city but surrounding towns, causing great traffic jams.

The cause of the fire had not been determined today.

The assault came as the climax to a day of unrest in which had threatened continually a clash between the Jews, firm in their conviction of right to use the Wailing Wall for worship, and the Arabs, assembling by the thousands for their Friday prayers at the Mosque of Omar.
