Correct Errors

Errors are just as natural in the course of human events as sunshine or rain. They are a part of life. It is not a disgrace to make them, nor a shame to admit them. But it is a grave mistake not to try to correct them.—Gift.

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

AT THE THEATERS

Mystery Story Good Screen Entertainment

All lovers of mystery dramas should hail with delight "The Donovan Affair," the Columbia 100 per cent dialogue production which opens today at the Arcade theatre. Without doubt this is one of the finest detective stories and talking pictures that has reached the screen.

The Owen Davis stage play by the same name was a success, and the screen version leaves nothing to be desired. The mystery surrounding the strange killing of Jack Donovan at a dinner table and the later death of another character in the same manner ed by the same means—a carving knife—is profound. The false clues are many. The apparently contradictory acting of the various people in the play confuses the mind until the denouement, which comes swiftly and is wholly logical as well as surprising.

The entire cast is above the average, Jack Holt excelling himself as the sleuth. Dorothy Revier, William Collier Jr., John Roche, Fred Kelsey, Agnes Ayres, Wheeler Oakman, Virginia Brown Faire and Ethel Wales complete a superlative cast. Frank Capra's direction is flawless, proving again the skill of this young director who handled the Columbia hit "Submarine."

"The Cavalier" Opens Run At Star Friday

Crammed with spectacular stunts and daredevil episodes, "The Cavalier," Tiffany-Stahl's special production featuring Richard Talmadge, Barbara Bedford and David Torrence which is the attraction at the Star theatre, Friday and Saturday, possesses enough action for a dozen average motion pictures. Yet Irvin Willat, the director, has built up the story, an adaptation of Max Brand's famous novel, "The Black Rider," so skillfully that not a single episode seems impossible or unlikely in view of what has gone before.

"The Cavalier" pictures the exploits, literally breath taking and death defying, of that friend of right as against might called simply El Caballero, in preventing Ramon Torreno from succeeding in uniting in marriage his son, Carlos, and beautiful Lucia D'Arquista, whose impoverished family have sent her all the way from Spain to the New World as the sacrifice which will restore their wealth and position, by means of Ramon's purchase price. Near the close of that long journey she meets El Caballero, and their passion and determination that Lucia shall never belong to Carlos involve them in happenings which sound incredible until you actually see them on the screen.

Richard Talmadge, of course, has the title role, and in it gives his greatest performance.

In a certain suburb there is a cottage the door of which must be raised a little to be opened, and for this purpose a hatchet is generally used. One night a knock came at the door and a youngster was sent to see who was there.

"Who is it?" inquired the boy.

"It's me," said the voice outside.

The youngster, recognizing the voice, shouted back: "It's Mrs. Murphy; get the hatchet."

Mrs. Murphy didn't wait.

"I am sorry I married you," sobbed the bride.

"You ought to be. You cheated some other girl out of a mighty fine husband."

"Jack," said the plumber's wife as he was leaving home on a hurry call, "bring a jar of cold cream from the drugstore when you come back for the tools you're forgetting."

MENUS

The woman who has her own garden can salvage those late tomatoes which fail to ripen before danger of frost becomes imminent if she makes mock mince meat.

Many persons consider this mince meat quite as good as "regular" mince meat and it's not as rich and difficult to digest.

There are two rules for green tomato mince meat. One uses suet and the other does not. Of course, the one with suet is richer than the one without. The one without is more like a preserve. Nuts can be added to either kind when the pies are baked.

Mock Mince Meat

One peck green tomatoes, 3 lemons, 1 cup chopped suet, 2 cups seeded raisins, 4 pounds light brown sugar, 1 1-2 cups vinegar, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 1 tablespoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon cloves, 1 tablespoon allspice, 1 tablespoon salt.

Wash tomatoes and cut out hard spots. Put through food chopper into a large crock, sprinkling 1 cup of salt through them. Let stand three hours. Drain over night through colander and discard juice. Squeeze juice from lemons and put rind through food chopper. Add juice, vinegar, lemon rind and suet to tomatoes in preserving kettle, bring to the boiling point and cook 15 minutes. Add sugar, raisins and spices and bring again to the boiling point. Cook until thick and seal in sterilized jars. When the pies are baked, chopped apple can be added as liked.

Tomato Mince Meat

Four pounds green tomatoes, 4 pounds sugar, 2 pounds raisins, 4 lemons, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 2 tablespoons cloves, 2 teaspoon salt.

Wash and slice tomatoes. Sprinkle with salt and let stand three hours. Drain over night and discard juice. Weigh tomatoes after draining. Put sugar, tomatoes and thinly sliced lemon in preserving kettle with a little water and cook until tomatoes are tender. Add raisins and spices and cook ten minutes longer. Seal in sterilized cans.
