AT THE THEATERS

William Haines Here In "Telling The World"

"Telling The World," which opens at the Colonial Sunday, is perhaps the best of the line of starring pictures with which William Haines during the past two years has periodically convinced and thrilled these United States.

The story concerns a youthful misadventurer who when ejected into the cold world by his wealthy father gets a job on a newspaper with the first intention to interview his parent on the subject of why he kicked him out.

With that hilarious opening, the tale moves rapidly through Haines' period as a "son" wherein he solves a night club murder and incidentally rescues a little cabaret girl (Carmel Payne) and what a beauty she is! from the clutches of the mob.

Unfortunately, Haines' ideas of acquaintance with the girl do not include matrimony and she, rather than cause them both unhappiness by yielding, joins a theatrical troupe en route to the Orient.

Haines, awakened too late to what he has lost, follows her and by means of a news story sent out from the interior of China that accuses the entire world, rescues her from the clutches of a Chinese war lord who has ordered her execution.

"Joy Street" Is Coming To The Star

Just around the corner, a treat awaits the patrons of the Star Theater. It is to be shown here Sunday and Monday and the title is "Joy Street." Lila Moran and Nick Stuart are co-starring with Rex Bell and Sally Phillips leading a support which includes some of the most interesting of the younger folk in screenland. Raymond Cundnon, director, has acted on a desire to make the biggest of all the films of youth. The result is that the speed limit has been taken off, and "Joy Street" will present a spectacle of adolescence on a tear which never has been witnessed before. Take a ride with the younger generation on its greatest thrill hunt!

Myrna Loy Is Featured In "The Squall"

The day of the serpentine Vampires is gone. That day of Theda Bara's snatched charms, of Lottie Glavin's staid allurements—gone forever! And in its place the unbelieved appeal of the primitive, animal type such as presented in the character of Nubi in the First National Vitaphone all-talking picture, "The Squall," the coming attraction at the Arcade Theater Sunday.

Nubi is portrayed by Myrna Loy, and on the stage in Jean Haris' play she was an electrifying, animal-like gypsy girl making a bid for every man's attention regardless of his station in society. It mattered not to her whether it was servant or master—if he had some worldly goods which she might acquire by employing her seductive allure, then she would concentrate her attentions on him until her end was achieved. In the First National Vitaphone version this character has been faithfully retained. It is the sort of vampire fashion that came in with Tondoleys in "White Cargo."

Once upon a time a newspaper published a scathing denunciation of city council because the ladies were catching their skirts on loose nails in the sidewalks.

SOME YOUNG PEOPLE

Those anxious to profit by the superior facilities of the Northwestern and acquainted with the policy of limiting its enrollment to 300 students, file their applications for enrollment months in advance.

And why shouldn't they? No similar school offers more modern courses.

None gives more efficient training. None gives more personal attention. None is more fully accredited. None attracts a better type of student. None is better planned or equipped. None better values its graduates.

One better means your consideration. The free booklet, MOVE YOUR FUTURE FORWARD, has helped thousands—and it will help you.
