Women to Care For

Robert's father, wishing to live in him a desire always to be gallant to women, made much of their care of his mother. When Robert was told of the arrival of twins, both girls, he thought some long thoughts and then said to his father: "Gee, dad, we may have got plenty of women in the family now to take care of, haven't we?"

AT THE THEATERS

Gary Cooper And Lupe Velez In Film At Star

Garbed in a bedraggled suit of fringed buckskins, his feet clad in leather moccasins, Gary Cooper, an erstwhile man of the mountains, was "married" recently to Lupe Velez, exotic daughter of old Mexico, in the reconstructed chapel of the Fort, a famous trading post of the old southwest.

The simple ceremony was witnessed by a motley crowd of trappers, Indians, pioneer traders and Mexicans, and as the beholders stared intently while Gary Oliver, veteran of hundreds of moving picture roles, read the ritual, a battery of cameras clicked steadily, for it was all a part of the "Pioneer" movie.

"The Star Theater Wednesday."

Presenting among the winners of the "wedding" were Louis Wolheim and Constantine Romanoff who play the roles of trapper comrades of the tall and handsome Gary.

"Speakeasy" Is Coming To The Arcade

The Fox Movietone production of Edward Knoblock and George Rosner's well known stage success, "Speakeasy," which reaches the screen of the Arcade Wednesday, contains an abundant supply of all things necessary to make an up-to-the-minute entertaining picture.

Primarily, "Speakeasy" is an all-talking Fox Movietone production which brings to the screen not only the voices of the players but every natural sound associated with the location filmed and the situation of the story related.

The narrative is said to be crammed with action and dramatic punch as well as generously sprinkled with comedy and adroitly interspersed with thrilling highlights.

There is a mad race through the heart of New York's business section; two boxing contests staged in the world famous Madison Square Garden; a fight to the death in a celebrated speakeasy; all vividly and audibly shown as the determined heroine desperately tries to save the man of her choice from the clutches of the wolves of the underworld.

Lola Lane and Paul Page portray the leading romantic roles with Helen Ware, Henry B. Walthall, Stuart Erwin, Warren Hymer, Sharon Lynn, Ivan Linow, Marjorie Beebe and James Glavin in principal supporting roles.
