Dependable Values. Hill's Dependable Quality.

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

One of the most interesting angles in what looks like a promising battle for Pacific Coast conference gridiron championship is the exception of quality of material on hand to fill the pivotal position of the line-center.

Less vital mistakes than that made by Hinkle have been the order of exceptional players but around the margin at Berkeley they expect Ray to be one of the team's big stars.

Washington, being its All-American hall-of-fame, Chuck Carroll, also has its troubles over the retention of Hugh Haddock as head coach under a series of disappointing seasons. Nevertheless the word is out to watch the Huskies. There is little moment on hand in the big timber country for football as well as the cross that have made Washington and the Cougars are big names.

E. S. C. California, Stanford and Oregon are the favored quartet in the main race but in a free-for-all scramble Washington might slip through. If not Oregon may have two strong candidates for the title.

Not to mention E. S. C.'s captain, held down the pivot post last year, trying to do about the best on the coast, but on good a prospect in George Ope, an All-American product who shows his stuff with the paragon.

One of the few outstanding stars in the Pacific coast is a short back in Walter Haddock, a short back of dynamite who used to lead these or two Army teams in the big game at the Yankee stadium last season. Haddock is in a fine line and is expected to be in good condition shortly despite a week after his last season's injury.

Captain J. J. McElroy, the head coach at Oregon, was an All-American center himself when he starred for West Point so that it isn't strange to see him develop as one of the great players in the Pacific coast.

Washington, center is the about Paul Jensen, captain of the team, and right tackle, Jimmie Hinkle, is a big 7-footer who plays close to the line and also has a chance to play after being passed out of the line. He is being studied by other teams, which is a compliment in itself.

Writing in the line in the Pacific coast of California, Stanford is the team to watch for the big game at the Yankee stadium last year. Stanford, with George Ope, New York's top line, has a fine prospect in the line-center position.

ATHLETICS NEED ONLY SIX WINS

American League Pennant Just Around the Corner for Philadelphia

By The Associated Press. As the Cubs marked their triumph over the Athletics yesterday, the Athletics needed a pennant victory to win the pennant.

George Larned sought his twenty-first victory in the opener of Philadelphia yesterday, but it was a doubleheader victory over the Athletics that counted.

George Larned sought his twenty-first victory in the opener of Philadelphia yesterday, but it was a doubleheader victory over the Athletics that counted.

Jack Russell achieved the unenviable distinction of losing his second game in one day at Boston. The Yankees broke him from the box in the first inning of the opener.

Howard Hughes, barely eight months old, pitched Oakland to a 2-2 tie with Portland. Until the ninth inning when they made their two runs on three hits, the Athletics were able to score only one run.

Yesterday's coast league results: At Oakland, H. H. E. Portland 2-2, Oakland 2-2, Eugene 2-2, Astoria 2-2, Medford 2-2, Seaside 2-2, Sycamore 2-2, Astoria 2-2, Seaside 2-2, Sycamore 2-2.

ATHLETICS Fail To Believe Cubs Will Sink Grove And Walberg

By Henry L. Farrell (NBA Sports Writer)

As it appears almost certain that the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs will furnish the amusement in the world series, the master minds of baseball are debating what all those heavy-hitting right-hand hitters on the Athletics club will do to those star Philadelphia southpaws, Grover and Walberg.

"They'll do nothing to them, say the Philadelphia sport writers, and to illustrate the point, we'll become a doubleheader from Bill Dool, of the Philadelphia Record. Mr. Dool is now talking:

"The Chicago Cubs' entire reputation for hitting left-hand pitchers doesn't worry the Athletics. Grover and Walberg are not in danger of having their bats knocked off by the right-handers. The Cubs have been taking for a ride this year. The catch in that question is that possibly can hit a great southpaw in the National League.

"Then how in the place where the Chicago Cubs can anyone predict that Grover and Walberg will be hit? The Athletics are impudently sure.

"Have I pitched like a horse, the Athletics write away the tears and ask with somebody name the great southpaws the Cubs have been taking for a ride this year. The catch in that question is that possibly can hit a great southpaw in the National League.

BAKER FOOTBALL SCHEDULE GIVEN

Four Home Games Announced—Team to be Speedy, Practice Reveals

BAKER, Ore., Sept. 11 (Special)—Four home games have been scheduled for the Baker football team with the prospects that another will be lined up later. Tony Walker, principal of the high school, stated today. The schedule, however, has not been completed.

The Baker team will meet Enterprise later on and will play in Walla Walla or Enterprise September 29. Other games scheduled are Nyssa at Baker September 27, Baker at Pringle Oct. 3, Baker at Baker October 19, La Grande at Baker October 25 and Union at Baker November 1.

Mr. Walker stated that all major games will be played on Friday. Three full teams went through a number of plays at the municipal field last evening preparatory to staging the first scrimmage this afternoon.

From the sidelines the team impresses one with its speed. The players show a phenomenal amount of football, considering the fact that they have been out only a few days. They are particularly good in running play, but are ragged in handling the ball.

Connie Breaks Out With a Goin. It even makes Connie Mark grin. Mr. Dool says, "I don't believe," Mark says, "that the National League could have had much experience this year against the kind of pitching that Grover and Walberg have been showing."

Connie Likes Them. "There is no question that they are the best left-handers in baseball today. Nobody can hold a candle to them.

Christensen And Colbert Back On Job As Tackles

By SAM WILDERMAN (Director A. S. V. O. News Bureau) EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 11—If substitutes were not essential, Captain McKean would not have a worry in the world in so far as his tackle are concerned. Those inseparable twins, recently dubbed the "Opus of Tackles," because between them they nearly weigh a quarter-ton, will be back for two more years. They are George Christensen and Austin Colbert, who as tackle last year, their first in varsity competition, made Oregon a decided threat in conference competition.

This pair was about the close of the conference and with an added year of experience should be even better this season. Christensen weighs 240 pounds and still maintains, while Colbert has passed the 210-pound mark. Both are as solid as a rock, and by doing hard training this summer are physically fit to start a game tomorrow.

They will have four understudies—Marlow Hall, Homer Dickson, Fred Scholz and Bill Lewis. Hall is a big fellow, 6'11" tall, weighs 210 pounds and carried a letter last year. Dickson is even bigger. He weighs as much but stands 6 feet 4 inches in his stocking feet. He was on the super-varsity last year. Scholz was a star for the freshman last year, while Lewis is a transfer from Oregon State college, where he played in the freshman team two years ago. Each is 5 feet 3 inches tall and Scholz weighs 190 pounds, while Lewis tips the beam at 185.

Fay And Friedman To Meet Sept. 20 CHICAGO, Sept. 11 (AP)—Al Fay, Jack Keenan's current heavyweight challenger, will clash with Al Friedman, of Boston, in a 12-round main event, held at Chicago stadium September 23. Three other 12-round feature bouts, one of which will bring together Salvatore Buzzarelli, stout Italian, and Pete Wagner, Chicago, will supplement the card.

Members of the Mission athletic club, who recently adopted a "baiting" tactic, will attempt to interfere with the champion's training. Sonnenberg won the first fall in 23 minutes and 20 seconds and the second in 2 minutes and 3 seconds. Charles Fisher, Chicago, middleweight champion, defeated Joe Whaley, party, at York in 28 minutes and 20 seconds. They were scheduled to go 45 minutes.
