AT THE THEATERS

Mystery Novel On Screen At The Star

"Trent's Last Case" Fox Film's feature now at the Star, is based on what many literary critics have acclaimed as the finest mystery story ever written. This story, "Trent's Last Case," appeared many years ago, and was the forerunner of the modern type of detective novel. It is a story of a detective who introduced many of the principles of successfully conducting the criminal's identity until the very end, which have been followed by later writers.

Howard Hawks, the director, has taken the Bentley story and made it have made a picture that is both thrilling and entertaining. With the aid of an unusual cast that includes such stellar players as Donald Crisp, Raymond Griffith, Raymond Hatton, Marceline Day, and Lawrence Gray, the film departs from the conventional style of mystery dramas and becomes a narrative of absorbing interest.

Night Club Talkie Featured At Arcade

Texas Guinan was at home in Hollywood. From her celebrated night club in New York, the haunt of many famous personalities, to the night club set constructed for her initial Vitaphone appearance in "Queen of the Night Clubs" at Warner Bros. studio, Texas could hardly realize that she was three thousand miles from Broadway.

For the huge setting, which occupied one of the entire sound-proof stages at Warner Bros. studio, was constructed as a replica of Texas Guinan's famous authorizing place in New York. The atmosphere of the action and scenes.

"Square Shoulders" Is Coming To The Star

"Square Shoulders," featuring Junior Cohan and Louis Wolheim, will be seen at the Star theater on Tuesday. The story, written by Sanford Hewitt and George DeLonghoff, deals with the parallel lives of two boys who virtually realize the experiences of their father before them. E. Mason Hopper directed. Others in the cast are Philippe de Lary and Little Anita Louise.

Electrocuted Fish

Selecting for experiment a well-stocked pool some two acres in extent, representatives of a Munster, Westphalia electrical firm pulled slowly through the water a copper wire carrying an alternating 230-volt current, attached to a wood float. In a short time over three hundredweight of carp and 500 pounds of pike rose unconscious to the surface.

Some men find obscurity naturally and others become the hands of well-known women.

Abe Martin

Another thing I'll get used to is a woman saying "Gosh, I need a hair cut." Our next census is bound to cost a lot of money, for there'll have to be seven of eight calls at almost every home before they catch anybody in.

Education

Admission by diploma to the company of educated men is not equivalent to an election to a club. Education is a continuing process, of which graduation exercises are among the insignificant details. Education is not a condition peculiar to the holder of a diploma; it is a quest for knowledge and understanding that never ceases, or at least should never cease.—Boston Globe.

Odd Natural History Fact

It is a curious fact that the countries of the tallest and shortest people of Europe—the Norwegians and the Lapps—adjoin each other.
