Boston Braves Crown Cubs When They Defeated Corsairs Yesterday

By William J. Chittman
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

By defeating the Robins at Wrigley field last Sunday, the Cubs reached a point where one more victory would give them the National league pennant beyond the last mathematical doubt. The energetic Bruins are still awaiting here and there in search of the victory, but they nevertheless have become champions, almost without knowing it. The coronet was slipped upon the brow of Joseph V. McCarthy just before game 16 in Chicago yesterday when the Braves tossed the Pirates by a 4-1 at Forbes field in the first half of a double header.

The new champions of the elder major circuit were allowed to enter their game against the Giants without the knowledge that the Braves had ended the struggle for them. Otherwise they might have done better against the Giants, who opened the series with a 3-1 to a triumph behind Carl Hubbell's fine pitching.

Hornshy Stars
Presuming that the Cubs' twelfth pennant long had been taken for granted—as Chicago fans took it—the most interesting development at Wrigley field yesterday was Hornshy's feat in scoring all three of the Bruin runs and so lifting his total to 146, two beyond the modern National league record set by Riki Cuyler in Pittsburgh in 1925.

After Kramer and Swerton had dropped the pennant-deciding first game to the Braves at Pittsburgh, the Pirates came back behind Henry Meine to take the nightcap by 5 to 2.

Jim Peay, Nashville coach, gave the Phillies 12 hits in his Cincinnati debut, but won his game by 9 to 5. The contest was notable for the fielding performance of Horace Ford, Cincinnati shortstop, who cut in with eleven put-outs

Cantonwine Beats French Champion

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 18 (AP)—Howard Cantonwine, low-weight wrestler, won the right to meet Ed (Strangler) Lawler, former heavyweight champion of the world, on the mat here next Thursday night when he defeated Andre Adore, French champion, in a rough one-fall match here last night. Adore was unable to come back after being put completely out by the impact of Cantonwine's head in his misadventure with a Stouffer's punch.

BIG TEN HAS NEW NAMES TO CONFUSE 'EM

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Oosterbaan, Mitterwagner, and Ekelberg names have been added to the list of names to confuse the Big Ten has plenty of trick names to replace them.

Ohio State offers Bueschenschanus, Uebel, Karmorechal, Wirogus and Ter, which Indiana matches with Magnahosco, Astorini and Hornacki among others. Wisconsin's lineup is easy to get lost in conversation with Latoravitch and Korbular which are not so bad when Minnesota presents Burkawebek, Kakeba and Oja.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says "constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Norton's Kiddy Shop has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the bowels, dry excrement becomes a gentle, flowing, natural movement without forming a habit of over increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Norton's Kiddy Shop tablet next day before breakfast. Get 24 for 50¢ today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Glass Drugs, Inc. —Adv

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 18.—With the opening game with Willamette here Saturday afternoon, Oregon State football players are putting up a great scrap for the different positions in the starting lineup. Only a few days of practice have gone by but nevertheless the men are settling into wonderful condition.

Out of the 23 men who reported to Coach Schuler yesterday for the second day of practice, only one is what might be called under the weather. Bill McKelip, letterman end, was suffering from a slight cold and was not allowed to workout with the rest of the squad.

WAR PREMIER DODGES POLE PESEK HURLS

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Fighting "Billy" Hughes, Australia's famous war premier and hero of unnumbered pitched battles, gained new distinction for agility and quick judgment in escaping unscathed from flying pachyderms at the first wrestling match the veteran statesman ever attended.

Giants John Pesek, all the way from Nebraska, and Jocky Joe Zimmond, of even more remote Poland, were billed as the main attraction of what developed into something of a roughhouse as the American got more and more playful with his opponent and began tossing him about the ring.

Ex-premier Hughes was attending merely as an innocent spectator, drawn to the scene by his interest in foreign affairs and international relations, but he became the focus of all eyes when Pesek

Hollywood's leadership standing remained at 60 games won and 22 lost due to postponement of yesterday's battle with the Los Angeles Angels because of a rainy day in the Southern city.

Jim Edwards, southpaw pitcher who was said to be Oakland for some reason or other, pitched at Seattle but it was not for lack of ability. Big Jim allowed Seattle five hits for eight scoreless innings, and finally wound up with a 5 to 2 victory.

A single bad lining caused Jimmy Walters to lose his game for Portland and Sacramento won by a 3 to 0. The double extra in the fifth, when Walters was touched for three safeties, Roger's homer for the Sox helped to put the win across. Both teams were held to five hits each.

CUBS NOT EXCITED AT LEAGUE TITLE

Chicago Today Facing Business of Going Through 11 Games

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—The 1928 champions of the National league, Chicago's Cubs, their collective blood pressure undisturbed by the clinching of the pennant, today faced the business of going through the motions of 11 ball games, before engaging the Athletics in the battle for world title acclaim.

Although no championship has come to Chicago since 1919, and none to the Cubs since 1915, almost an excitement accompanied actual triumph of the team assembled by William Wrigley Jr., and managed to the title by Joseph V. McCarthy. Virtually "in" for two weeks, the Cubs had only to wait for the day of averages to go to work for them, and finally missed the thrill of making the deciding gesture themselves when Boston administered the coup de grace to "Burr" home in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader.

Only a half-hearted cheer greeted the news when the Boston victory over Pittsburgh was posted at Wrigley field where about 7,500 fans sat shivering as the New York Giants defeated the champions, 7 to 2.

McCarthy, Wrigley and President William J. Veck were smilingly happy.

For McCarthy it was his first championship as a major league manager, earned after four years of effort.

For Wrigley the title was his first as the owner of a major league club, but his imagination did not stop work.

"I started out to get a team that would win a pennant," he said. "Well, the effort has been successful. But I am going to have a pennant every year, if I can—and after that I want an elastic ball park where everyone can get in for a world series."

Stars Continue In Leadership; Ducks Blanked

By The Associated Press

THOSE who have been watching the stars last year in the Pacific coast league pennant campaign, today were within half a game of the league leadership, now held by the Hollywood Stars. Five of the eight coast league clubs maintained their close grouping in the final days of the 1928 season.

The Stars forced into second place yesterday by defeating the Mission Reds at Recreation park for the second time this week. The score was 16 to 5, both teams bagging a dozen errors each. "Dutch" Reuther was the object of the Stars' wrath early in the game. In the fourth inning he was driven under a banner of insults.

Hollywood's leadership standing remained at 60 games won and 22 lost due to postponement of yesterday's battle with the Los Angeles Angels because of a rainy day in the Southern city.

In a moment of extreme pique hurled the Polish pachyderm bodily through the ropes right toward Mr. Hughes' seat.

The former premier, who is small but agile, disappeared completely from view. Spectators rushed to the rescue fearing the flattened figure of one of Australia's most famous public men would be found under a mass of Polish beef and bone. Fans and officials lifted all Zimmond's 218 pounds to be relieved and somewhat surprised to find no Billy Hughes underneath, not even a grease spot.

The situation seemed serious for a moment until it was discovered that Mr. Hughes with speed swifter than a living wrestler had taken refuge under his seat. From his crouching position he emerged safely as soon as the Polish men had been hoisted into the ring again.

The bout continued. Pesek tossed Zimmond out of the ring three more times. Then the police intervened. Victory was awarded the Nebraskan and Mr. Hughes reached home safely.

The Campolo-Scott and Sharkey-Loughran engagements this month would go a long way toward helping to clear the boxing world, all that has been distinctly foggy for some time, even though there may be no nation-wide anxiety as to whether or not a heavyweight champion is officially crowned before the next full eclipse of the moon.

If the dash down the stretch means anything, Campolo and Loughran should have a good chance to come through as the winners. Each has been gathering headway rapidly for the big drive this year and each has youth in his favor, with Campolo apparently picking the punch and Loughran possessing the most artistic left jab in the business.

The Big Englishman, Scott, was tapped none too gently on the chin about two years ago by Knute Hanssen when he came over here for the first time. Campolo was out in a horizontal position by Alvin Thompson in Buenos Aires but long afterwards for the Argentine. His remnant vertical ever since, like who impressing the critics by the way he won from Arthur Dekati and Tom Henney.

Sharkey has made little or no headway since he was knocked out by Jack Dempsey in 1927. The Boston author has fought infrequently and with no particular success since then. Loughran, on the other hand, has kept his competitive edge. Unhindered by any concern about making weight, Tommy has the speed and boxing ability to give anybody a busy evening in the ring.

It has been ten years since the western half of the American league has cut the world's series net. Cleveland, led by Tom Speaker, was the last entry from the other side of the Alleghenies to figure in the final battle and it will be well to keep the Indians in mind when the pennant prospects are doped out next spring.

Bill Evans and Roger Pesek, though have done a fine job at construction work with the Cleveland club this year. The Indians picked up two of the outstanding rookies of the year in outfielders Earl Averill and pitcher Wes Ferrell, the North Carolina star, who has been potent to the Athletics. The rebuilt infield with the veteran Lew Fonseca making a nice comeback at first base, Huston and Ray Gardner starring around the keystone bag and Joe Sewal shifted to third base, has been a big factor in the climb of the Ohio outfit. Bill Carr has contributed a big punch.

Since mid-season Cleveland has played as consistently good ball as any club in the league and the
