Body Of Missing Heiress Found Near Her Ranch

FAIRFIELD, Cal., Sept. 20.—(A.P.)—Mystery which attended the disappearance two months ago of Miss Irene Wolfkill, Solano county heiress, was only intensified today with the finding of her body, badly decomposed, in a dry creek bed not far from her ranch.

The body was clad in overalls. When last seen, Miss Wolfkill wore a skirt and sweater and high heeled shoes. Shoes with low heels were discovered a few feet from the body.

The creek bed had been repeatedly searched for passes during the month's hunt that followed the heiress' disappearance and this fact, together with the apparent discrepancy of the clothing, led Sheriff John H. Thornton today to begin an investigation to determine whether Miss Wolfkill had met death by foul play or by natural causes.

The body was discovered by Bernard Glashoff, son of a local rancher. The youth is expected to be the recipient of the $5,000 reward offered by the Los Angeles bank in which the heiress had $500,000 on deposit.

The discovery climaxed one of the most thorough searches in northern California. Since her disappearance on July 15, passes, under Colusa county deputy sheriffs, Indian trackers and private detectives tramped the hills and orchards in three counties for a trace of the missing woman.

Inquiry today was expected to reveal the identity of the person whose footsteps appear near the spot where the body was found.

Backaches and Spinal Adjustments

The seat of a backbone is the foundation of the back—the spinal column. This does not refer to the one-day backache that follows unusual exertion, such as spading up the garden, but to the persistent, nagging, painful, backache that hangs on, sensibly without reason.

To be rid of such a backache, get rid of the cause by having the spinal column restored to normal alignment by chiropractic spinal adjustments. You'll be surprised how quickly the old ache will be a thing of the past.
