SUBSTITUTE IN HUMAN CANNON BALL ACT HURT

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 20 (AP)—Hendrich Ackenhausen, who was substituting for Captain Wilho the human cannon ball, was in a serious condition at Springfield hospital today as the result of a accident, at the Eastern State exposition here yesterday.

Thousands of spectators were in the stands to see Ackenhausen shot from a cannon and land in a net. There was a loud and puff of smoke as the powder charge was exploded, but the human cannon ball failed to appear. A moment later the performer, his face bleeding and torn, was seen to emerge from the muzzle of the gun. He hung for a moment then dropped from the elevated mouth of the cannon to the ground.

The net had been part of the daily program at the exposition.

DETROIT FIRE TRAPS CROWD EARLY TODAY

which had been parked in a lot next to the building, took them to hospitals. Squads of ambulances arrived soon after the fire apparatus.

At Receiving hospital 29 men and 30 women were checked in within an hour after the outbreak of the fire. Other hospitals in the city cared for other injured. Nurses, internes and physicians were sent to the receiving hospital to aid in treating the injured. Many with slight burns and superficial injuries were given first aid and sent home.

Sanitation Kills Many

Some of the victims were dead on arrival at the hospitals. Most of the fatalities, physicians said, resulted from suffocation. Identification of the dead was difficult because of the badly burned clothing and the disfigurement which follows suffocation.

State and city fire commissioners investigating the blaze with the police found no evidence that the fire was of incendiary origin. Draperies and light flimsy decorations, they said, accounted for the rapid spread of the flames. Ventilation fans and the architecture of the building speed the flames on their mission of death and devastation.

The bodies of four women lie in the county morgue unidentified. Their clothing was burned off and the charred and blackened condition of their bodies will make identification difficult.

Of the nine men who were killed, eight have been identified.

Some of the patrons of the establishment found their way to the roof of the rear section of the building and were carried down by firemen, or, becoming panicky, jumped to the ground. Many suffered broken legs.

Three-Story Building

The building is three stories high in the front and a two-story addition had been built on the rear. The main dining room occupied most of the second floor. The kitchen was on the first floor.

The fire came at the peak of the night's business. Patrons who had dropped in for a luncheon after the theater had just finished themselves to the enjoyment of the entertainment which was offered by the club when the cry of "fire" came.

The body of a woman, at first identified as that of Bubbles Parker, later was found to have been erroneously identified when Miss Parker was found in St. Mary's hospital in a serious condition. Miss Parker's mother, Mrs. Florence Parker, however, lost her life.

The list of dead here early today:

- Mrs. Parker, John J. Kaufman, 29, Detroit.
- Laurence Luther, 49, Highland Park, Mich.
- Dorothy S. Brown, 25, Detroit.
- Walter Krueger, 39, 732, Dix Ave., Grand Rapids.
- Morrison Manning, 35, believed to have lived in Grand Rapids.
- H. B. Smith, 45, address unidentified.
- E. V. Tefford, Detroit.
- Waverly Green, 29, Detroit.
- One unidentified man.
- Seven unidentified women.
