Chautauqua Travels Across Nation In Fleet Of Six-Cylinder Sedans

For the first time in its 16 years existence Redpath Chautauqua is this year employing passenger cars to transport the members of its deluxe circuit. Buses and trailers have been used in the past, but the comfort that the passenger cars afford is accounted for its ultimate selection.

The cars are Chevrolet six-cylinder sedans and the task to which they are placed in transporting "big and biggers" like to members of the company is indeed a formidable one, according to G. J. Larison, local dealer. The itinerary of the group trails up north from Florida to Northern Wisconsin. The jaunt started April 7 and will not conclude until this month at which time approximately 7,000 miles will have been traversed.

Unless one has traveled with a chautauqua troupe it is almost impossible to realize the luxury entailed by travel of this sort. In the first place, the trouper are in the strictest sense not really trouper at all. They are persons who because of an outstanding reputation are drafted to traverse the smaller cities, many experiencing the life of the road for the first time.

Among the celebrities who are traveling by Chevrolet this year over the Redpath circuit are Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming; Anne Campbell, the celebrated newspaper poet and Captain Dennis Cook, former British army ace and holder of the world's record for the longest solo flight, a trip from London to India, a distance of 7000 miles.

For four months now the Redpath trouper have been making their one night stands and then hopping on to the next showing place. The 12 Chevrolets have never failed to get their occupants to their destination at the appointed time. Already more than 100 towns in a dozen states have been visited. When the tour ends 140 towns will have been visited.

Redpath is perhaps the best

"The Idle Rich" Opens Run At Arcade Sunday

Here is an splendid example of the superiority of the talking picture over both the silent screen and the stage.

"The Idle Rich," as a new 100 per cent talkie from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, brings a picture of the famous play, "White Collars," a story of an American family that is delightfully intimate and very real in dialogue, action and atmosphere. In directing this novel domestic comedy William de Mille takes us into the bosom of the Thayer family and makes us laugh and cry with them rather than at them.

The cast chosen for the picture, which opens Sunday at the Arcade theater, is obviously a hand-picked one. Conant Nagel, Bonnie Love and Lela Hyams share stellar honors, and those lovable old trouper, Edythe Chapman and James Neill run close seconds as the mother and father. Robert Ober and Paul Kruger are great as Cousin Harry and Tom Gibney, and they rightfully should be, for they played the same parts on the stage for four years.

"One Girl In Million" Next Toby Walker Play

Toby Walker and his Yankee Doodle Stock company will play their second engagement at the Colonial theater Sunday and Monday, presenting a three-act comedy-drama of New York life, entitled "One Girl in a Million." It is a story of working girls, desperate crooks, rich business men and one fast-stepping, car-tossing wide-show barker, who will keep the audience in one continuous uproar of laughter.

The action takes place in the girls' flat and in the rich man's office. The crook takes refuge from the pursuing police in the girls' flat. He wins her sympathy and together they rob the home of the Wall Street magnate. This with some snappy comedy and a lot of high-powered firing by the wide-show barker, played by Mr. Walker, constitutes the story. Whether or not the crook deserves the sympathy the girls give him is the question the audience will have to decide.

Those who saw "Don't Marry for Money," last Sunday or Monday will have the opportunity to see the same cast in a totally different type of show. There will be new vaudeville numbers between the acts and an entire change of wardrobe.

Sunday matinee will be at 2:30, and the evening shows at 7 and 9. Monday there will be two shows at 7 and 9.

Valuable Sea

Statistics show that the world consumes $280,000,000 yearly from the sea. This includes all products—fish, salt, sponges, and so on.—London Tit-Bits.
