P.-T. Association Reception Honors Greenwood Staff

A reception honoring the teachers of Greenwood school was given by the Greenwood Parent-Teacher association Friday afternoon in the school building.

The program for the afternoon was presented by M. E. Huffman, chairman of the program committee. Miss Margaret White began the entertainment with a piano solo. A violin duet was presented by Misses Effie Blanchard and Jeanie Nelson accompanied by Mrs. D. W. Anderson. Their selections were, "Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss, and "Fragrant Flowers" by Goodall.

A talk on "Aims of Parent-Teacher Work" was given by Mrs. C. F. McPherson. Miss Marion Boyles gave a clever musical reading and a play entitled "Angelina" by Paul Lawrence Dunbar. She was accompanied by Juanita Willock at the piano.

Miss Bethel Trill played "Polish Dance" by Naver Schawenka, which was well received. Two interesting talks, one by Mrs. J. K. Charlton on "What P.-T. A. means to a Parent," and a second by Mrs. Beatrice Young, "What the P.-T. A. means to a Teacher."

The basis of awarding the Gabriel membership cup was explained and the cup displayed by Mrs. E. D. Towler.

Following the program Mr. Huffman presented the teachers of Greenwood school. Mrs. Beatrice Young, Mrs. Nell Thacker, Mrs. Hallie Williamson, Miss Carman Plass, Miss Myrtle Hoyt, Miss Lela Hutchins, Mrs. Eleanor Gable, Mrs. Ethel Ellis, Miss Norma Maeger, Miss Grace Snook, Miss Hilda Anderson, Miss Francis Ingle, M. E. Huffman, Elmer Engbertson, and the principal, R. A. Wilkerson.

During the reception light refreshments were served by the social committee of which Mrs. Harry Newberg was chairman. Mrs. Beatrice Young, Mrs. Smith Hendrickson, and Mrs. Milton Brown were also on the committee.

Preceding the reception a short business meeting was held with Mrs. Frank Miller presiding. The following were elected as delegates to the state parent-teacher convention which will be held at Grants Pass, October 15-17: Mrs. William Berry, vice president of the Greenwood association; Mrs. Claude Puckett, secretary; Mrs. J. K. Charlton, Mrs. F. W. Daugherty, Mrs. R. A. Wilkerson, and Mrs. Jack McPherson.

A finance and budget committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. Hallie Williamson, Mrs. Claude Puckett, Miss Hilda Anderson, Mrs. Nell Thacker, Mrs. R. A. Wilkerson, and Mrs. W. E. Denny. Mrs. Eleanor Gable was appointed medicine chest chairman.

The book exchange in charge of Mrs. C. F. McPherson reported a splendid week's work as a great many children were enabled to sell unwanted books and buy others at a saving to the parents. This exchange is sponsored each term by the P.-T. A. for the benefit of the parents without gain to the organization.

A father member of the organization started the discussion among the members by a talk against suggestive signs in La Grande, and the Parent-Teacher association of Greenwood went on record as being opposed to signs and advertising of tobacco in any form.

The next meeting will be a social held Friday evening, October 4. The place will be announced later. This will be to welcome new members and is held especially for those parents who work in the afternoon and are able to attend only the evening gatherings.

The contest for the picture which is awarded to the rooms having the largest percentage of members present was a tie between Miss Norma Maeger's room and Miss Myrtle Hoyt's. The room having the picture the most during the year has it for a permanent possession in May.

President Visits W. R. C. Saturday

The Oliver P. Morton Relief corps No. 27 met Saturday afternoon in regular meeting. An inspection of the corps was conducted by the department president, Mrs. Stella Wood.

The next meeting will be a dinner given October 5, for the Creation corps No. 22 of Union.

At the close of this meeting refreshments were served by the committee consisting of Mrs. Francis Kennedy, Mrs. Minnie Luper, and Mrs. Ethel Willock.

Surprise Party At Sullivan Home

About thirty members of the Neighbors of Woodcraft gave a delightful surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sullivan Saturday evening in honor of the seventeenth anniversary of their wedding.

Cards and games were enjoyed during the evening. J. W. Kellogg gave several musical solos which were well received.

A beautiful mirror was presented to the honored couple by the Neighbors of Woodcraft as a token of the esteem they have for Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan. They are both members of Circle 47.

Nearing the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served. Everyone declared that they enjoyed the evening.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
With the opening of school days, breakfast becomes perhaps the most important meal of the day. Children must have a nourishing, unburied breakfast before they can begin the day. The normal adult should have some type of morning meal, even if it's the "lightest" variety.

The adult who is desiring to reduce and desires to eat but two meals a day gives his digestive apparatus a fairer chance if he goes without his luncheon rather than his breakfast. This divides the time between meals more equally.

Breakfast for children should be of the "hearty" type. A morning in school uses up a vast amount of nervous energy as well as physical strength. No child can work mentally who is not nourished. Listlessness, headache or irritability may be the result.

The child who has little appetite for breakfast may not be having the right sort of evening meal. Too much and too rich food at evening keep the stomach working over time. Too little ventilation or careless ventilation and wrong bed-covers can make a child indifferently to his breakfast. A draft across the bed can cause as stuffy and uncomfortable a feeling in the morning as insufficient fresh air can.

Too heavy bed-covers weigh a child down and make him feel tired while too light covers lead to make him curl into a ball in the effort to keep warm and he wakes cramped and uncomfortable with no desire for food.

A good meal to start the day is the normal, healthy requirement of children.

The breakfast fruit can be varied using the less acid fresh fruits alternately with stewed fruits.

Cereals with plenty of rich milk or cream can be of the "cooked" or ready to serve variety.

Crisp toast or bacon to make a child eager to get right for the welfare of his teeth as well as his general health.

Something hot aids digestion and this can be provided by a cup of hot milk or corn made with milk if a ready-to-serve cereal is served. A soft-cooked egg, poached or in the shell, or a creamed meat or vegetable on toast provides a warm dish and adds to the food value of the meal.

At least fifteen minutes should elapse between the time a child finishes his breakfast and the time he starts to school.

WOMAN JAILED ON KILLING CHARGE

Confesses Shooting in Spite of Husband's Claim of Accident.

OROVILLE, Cal., Sept. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Pearl Baldwin was in jail here today awaiting the finding of a coroner's jury at the inquest into the death of her husband, William C. Baldwin, 40, son of Mayor William T. Baldwin, whom she is said to have admitted killing and who died declaring he had accidentally discharged the shot that caused his death.

The coroner's jury was to hear both stories. The one Baldwin told as surgeon operated in an attempt to save his life—"It was an accident, I leaned on the gun and it went off," and the later alleged admission of his widow that they quarreled and she shot him with the rifle he had just brought home from a deer hunt. He had forgotten to put on the safety, he said before he died.

Mrs. Baldwin shattered his story by stating, it is said, that he returned unexpectedly from his hunt and found her prepared to go to a dance. He forbade it, she was quoted as saying, and a bitter quarrel ensued, during which she declared she was "going to the dance."

Baldwin threatened to "lock her out" if she went, police say she said. His rifle lay on the table between them and she took it up, with the words:

"I might as well put you out now," and pointing the rifle at her husband.

"Put it on the rifle. It's loaded," she said Baldwin told her.

Mrs. Baldwin declared she did not remember pulling back the hammer or pulling the trigger, but the gun went off and Baldwin fell to the floor.

Mrs. Baldwin ran to a neighbor's sewing machine "Bill is shot."

Sheriff C. W. Poland and Police Chief J. O. McAtee found it hard to believe that Baldwin, for years a hunter and sportsman, would leave his gun cocked and loaded and in spite of the story he told, they believe, to save the mother of his 13-year-old daughter, who were inclined to accept Mrs. Baldwin's version of the shooting.

In Use 12 Years

The raising of the Star marks the passing of one of the pioneer motion picture theaters in this section. It has been in use continuously for the last 12 or 13 years, but has become inadequate for present day use, necessitating its rebuilding along thoroughly modern lines.

In the new theater, the sound equipment to be installed will be identical with that used in the Arcade at present, and which is also used in the Portland, Broadway, United Artists, and other large theaters in Portland, Seattle and other cities.

Colorado Banker Taken To Gotham

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 23 (AP)—C. D. Wagoner, Telluride, Colo., bank president left for New York at 8:30 a. m. today to face trial on a charge of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud six New York banks of a half million dollars. The banker was in custody of Hugh L. Patton, United States Marshal and P. M. Bruner, special guard. He was scheduled to arrive in New York at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Trouble Maker in the Near East

Notorious leader of Moslem disorders in the Near East is Sultan Dushan el Atrache, rebel chieftain who has eluded arrest by French and British officials for many years. He is pictured above preparing his own lunch in the desert. He now is reported to be advancing upon Palestine cities at the head of a large body of Druse tribesmen, taking advantage of recent Jew-Arab riots to instigate a widespread Moslem uprising.

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

Young Corbett III—count "em" is now among the contenders for the welterweight boxing crown and it seems about time that a concealed name test was conducted among the leather slingers. In no other sport but boxing are the names of the great or the near great purloined with less ceremony. Now and then it happens that the process adds lustre to the name. Jack Dempsey the second gained more fame than the out-time paragon of the same name. Young Corbett the first, the late William Leahy, was good enough to knock the immortal Terry McGovern kicking, but on the whole the boys who assume famous ring names have not been so good. Mention Jack McAuliffe II, and you can still arouse the fighting Irish blood of the original Jack, who retired undefeated as the lightweight champion of the world.

Suppose the same idea was carried out for purposes of bathhouse in other sports. When the home run king passes out of the picture the Yankees might introduce a Young Babe Ruth to the baseball public. Or Walter Hagen II might try to break in on the royal and ancient name and Bill Tilden III be sent into the tennis arena.

There was considerable discussion after the national amateur at Pebble Beach over the habit of Doctor Withing's refusal to concede short putts to his opponents. An after-dinner speaker referred to the "Great Northwest where men are men and golfers concede no putts."

Nevertheless the practice of too much generosity on the greens has been consistently frowned upon by the United States Golf association. The main idea is to get the ball in the cup. Putts of less than a foot have been missed any number of times, simple though they may look. It may look sportsmanlike to knock away an opponent's ball close to the hole but it's also part of the game to get "em down."

New ideas have lots of room to grow along the Pacific Slope. At Portland's ball park they cling to such ancient customs as showering the home team's home-run hitters with silver money and ringing in
