A man's fortune is frequently decided by his first address. If pleasing, others will at once conclude that he has merit; but, if un-genial, they decide against him.
—Lord Chesterfield.

Little Things Lead Up

Practice yourself, for heaven's sake, in little things; and thence

Suffered Night
And Day, She Says

"Sargon has done so much for me, it's hard for me to express my appreciation of such a marvelous medicine."
"I can't begin to tell of the suffering I went through with from

MRS. ALORIS GASSNER indigestion and severe pains in my back. I suffered with dizzy spells, too, and became very nervous and irritable. My circulation was also poor and my vitality very low. I suffered both day and night.

"I don't know what I would have done without Sargon. It strengthened my whole system, rid me of every ache and pain and gave me a chance to sleep and rest. My stomach is now in excellent condition. The Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely overcame my biliousness and regulated me perfectly. It's just wonderful how Sargon helped me through that trying period and I sincerely recommend it to others suffering as I did."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Aloris Gassner, 429 Sacramento St., Portland, Ore.
Sargon may be obtained in La Grande from the Red Cross Drug Store—Adv.

AT THE THEATERS

"The Pagan" Is Feature At The Colonial

Ramon Novarro whose most recent appearance was in the uniform of civilization, is now to be seen at the Colonial theater in "The Pagan" playing in a vastly different and far more glamorous role.

The Merle Goldwyn-Mayer star reappears in "The Pagan," a drama of the South Seas.

As a half-caste islander, trying to hold to the traditions of his island against the influx of a foreign civilization, he stages a desperate, yet romantic struggle for the girl he loves. Novarro's role is reminiscent of that earlier success of his, "Where the Pavement Ends." In "The Pagan," however, he portrays a far different and much more strenuous character.

"The Pagan" was filmed in its entirety in the South Seas and is a vivid blend of thrills and romance.

Kenice Adore plays the role of "Madge," the white adventures who seeks the love of the young island hero, and Dorothy Janis is seen as the little island sweetheart for whom he struggles.
