The Notre Dame "system," as it is applied to football, is pretty well known in the south, east and middle west, where its main roosts are located, but don't think for a moment that the Hoosiers in general or Knute Rockne in particular are any strangers to california and the golden west.

Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen" galloped all over the Pasadena Rose Bowl and Stanford a few [illegible] in spite of the efforts of [illegible] Nevers. Other teams from [illegible] Bend have taken a whirl at [illegible] far western talent but the [illegible] main exponent in California in "Slip" Madigan, who has a habit of turning out great teams at St. Mary's, opposite San Francisco.

Where California has a student body of some 20,000 and Stanford around 12,000, St. Mary's enrolls around 700 but quite a few of the young men there are like the undersized candidate who once reported to Rockne at South Bend, where the following dialogue ensued:

"What are you out for?" asked "Rock."

"Guard," replied the newcomer.

"Aren't you a little light for that position?"

"Yes and I'm a little tough, too."

St. Mary's turned out one of the greatest centers the coast has ever seen in Larry Bettencourt, who scored something like a dozen touchdowns in one season, a rare stunt, especially when it is considered that a center may be so disconcerted by handling the ball that he runs backward. Last year another Galloping Gael, Ike Frankian, considered the best end on the coast since "Brick" Muller, was an All-American selection.

Last year it was Pop Warner's "B" formation that kept the football diagram-makers busy. This year Madigan has developed a modification of the "Notre Dame shift" for his St. Mary's eleven and the experts will have another puzzle to solve.

Gil Dobie may have been right when he insisted that football was becoming too complicated for the average under-graduate player to gain working knowledge of before leaving college.

Glenna Collett moved from Rhode Island to California in time to be in the gallery that saw Bobby Jones lose his amateur golf championship in the first round of play at Pebble Beach. All of which may have reminded her of the hazards she must face herself in defending the national women's crown at Detroit the first week of October. Glenna will be the favorite, but so was Bobby, and the field at Detroit will be one of the best any woman champion has faced.

200 Gridirons Busy Over The Nation Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—The first general football engagement of the year involved 200 gridirons throughout the nation today, with about 50 contests to attract paying customers in the east.

With a few scattered exceptions, such as Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Lafayette, every college squad on the Atlantic seaboard was booked either to open the season or continue a campaign begun last Saturday.

The Mountaineers of West Virginia, with West Virginia Wesleyans scalp already hanging at their belts, had another state rival in sturdy little Davis & Elkins today. D. & E. surprised with a 7-0 victory over the Mountaineers last season.

Elsewhere tune-up frays were the order of the day.

Tom Heeney Will Quit Fight Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Tom Heeney, brawny New Zealand blacksmith, is through with the prize ring.

Dissatisfied with his showing against George Hoffman, young New York heavyweight, in their preliminary bout on the Loughran-Sharkey card Thursday night, "Honest Tom" has decided that he has had enough of the game.

Tony Canzoneri Beats Eddie Mack

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—The thumping fists of Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion, have thrust back the bid of Eddie Mack, of Denver, for the right to challenge for the world's lightweight championship.

Mack became a technical knockout victim of the New York Italian in the eighth round of the main bout in the Chicago stadium last night.

COAST ELEVENS IN GAMES TODAY

One Conference Contest—All of Teams Swinging into Action.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 28 (AP)—Coast conference teams were involved in one game today, at Los Angeles, where the Southern California Trojans and the University of California Bruins were scheduled for their annual battle. Officials anticipated a record opening game turnout of around 40,000 persons. The powerful Trojan squad, 1928 conference champion, was favored to win as it pleased.

OREGON PLAYS PACIFIC

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 28 (AP)—The University of Oregon will open the football season here today against Pacific university of Forest Grove. Much interest has been shown in today's contest since it will be the only game played by the Webfoot squad before meeting the powerful Stanford eleven at Palo Alto next week.

Captain Mason, of the Oregon gridders, will be out of the games today and next week. He sprained his ankle in scrimmage Thursday.

O. S. C. FACES CALIF. AGGIES

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 28 (AP)—Two revamped lines backed by veteran backfields will oppose each other here today when Oregon State plays its second non-conference game of the season with the California Aggies as its opponent.

HUSKIES MEET WHITMAN

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28 (AP)—A fast field was assured for Seattle's first football game of the year today between the University of Washington and Whitman college. The weather forecast was fair and mild.

Although having a veteran line and fast backfield, the Washington Huskies were expecting a good deal of trouble from the light but scrappy Missionaries from Walla Walla, Wash.

COYOTES PLAY COUGARS

PULLMAN, Wash., Sept. 28—(AP)—A team of ten veteran Cougars were primed today to pounce upon the College of Idaho's Coyotes in Washington State college's first football game of the season. While only one member of the squad was new, Hollingbery, Cougar coach, wore a long face, predicting everything dire for his proteges.

Last year the Cougars swarmed over the Coyotes at 54 to 6, but Coach Ames Cornell, the Idahoan's mentor, thinks things will be different today, and this was the only pre-game opinion.

The Cougar lineup showed a weird plane of shifting in positions from last year, but observers said that Hollingbery had found an exceptionally workable combination and little fear for the outcome was felt among Washington's faithful.

VANDALS DON WAR-SUITS

MOSCOW, Ida., Sept. 28 (AP)—The University of Idaho football team, rebuilt this year by Leo Calland, former Californian, faced its first test here today against the Montana State college.

STANFORD PLAYING CLUB

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Sept. 28 (AP)—Stanford's gridders were ready to make their second start of the 1929 season against the Olympic club eleven today.

Hollywood Stars Again At Top In The Coast League

By The Associated Press

Just like the song they sing about Sisseton, the Hollywood Stars today were "in again," after defeating the San Francisco Mission Reds and then breaking out of a tie for the league leadership. The lead has been traded back and forth between the clubs this week, and they have been tied twice. The series standing gave both two games each.

The Stars returned to a bar [illegible] lead over the league pack by beating the Missions with a five [illegible] rally. The score was 8 to 4. Again the stands at Recreation park were packed, giving evidence of interest in the crucial series of the season.

Oakland's Oaks, visiting at Portland, won from the Ducks 2 to 1 and made it two all for the week. The Bay City team scored its final run in the deciding inning, bringing two more across in the seventh. Howard Craghead clamped the lid on the Ducks after they had scored their lone tally off Edwards. The Ducks today were in third place in the league standings.

Seattle defeated Sacramento in the northern city 5 to 4. The Indians [illegible] Tony Freitas for 12 hits.

The Los Angeles Angels won their fourth straight game of the present series over the San Francisco Seals at Wrigley field, Los Angeles, the score being 4 to 1.

The way health authorities are warring on weeds, pretty soon there won't be anything left to smoke.

W. S. C. STRONG IN SPITE OF MOANS

Coach Hollingberry Bearish but Material Causes Others to Wink.

By Frank G. Gorrie
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

PULLMAN, Wash., Sept. 28—(AP)—Winkem seems to be the latest sport at Washington State college.

While Coach O. E. "Babe" Hollingbery bemoans, wails and laments that the Cougar football team has little chance of getting anywhere in the Pacific coast conference his year, his friends stand around and wink at each other. Even smiles are exchanged as the pessimistic grid mentor predicts a poor season. He does admit, however, that Washington State may have a good team "next year."

And this can mean only one thing and that is that Hollingbery is up to his old trick of belittling his team when it is good. The veteran Cougar coach wants to be the underdog. He doesn't want any other team to "point" for a W. S. C. game.

Seven Regulars

Seven regulars are back for action this year with one converted from running guard to fullback. And around these veterans Hollingbery has moulded another strong eleven. The team last season lost only three engagements. This year's backfield will average 155 pounds per man and the line 188, which is a little heavier than last year's squad.

A great gap was left in the Cougar combination with the graduation of Teddy Rohwer, sensational quarterback. Hollingbery has attempted to fill Rohwer's shoes by switching Courtney Melbourne, reserve fullback last year, to quarterback.

Porter Lainhart and Oscar Jones, brilliant halfbacks, have returned for duty while Elmer Schwartz, giant guard, has been converted into a fullback. W. S. C. lost Lloyd Hein through graduation but Schwartz has been showing well in practice.

Star Tackles

Two star tackles, Captain Meg Dressel and Harry Speidel, left Hollingbery a barrel of trouble when they graduated from the 1928 team. Harold Ahlskog, a reserve last year, is being groomed for one of the positions while Glenn Edwards, 205 pound sophomore, is a likely looking prospect for the other. Edwards started his football career as a fullback but is rapidly learning the tackle tricks. George Hurley, a former guard, is also seeking a tackle job.

The remainder of the line is exceptionally strong. Mel Hein, a regular last year, will hold down the center position again.

At guard Hollingbery has Bud Hansen, a two year veteran, and Clarence Dicks and Al Fleckshelz, last season's substitutes.

The end positions are well taken care of with four lettermen back. Sam Hansen and George Hill will probably get the first call with Lyle Maskell and John Hurley, brother of George, acting as understudies.

The Cougars will play their first game of the season against College of Idaho at Pullman today.

Baseball Stage Nearly Vacant; 2 Games Played

By The Associated Press

The baseball stage was left vacant yesterday except for the performances at Philadelphia and St. Louis. The Phillies defeated the Braves by 11 to 5 in the first clash of a three-game series, cementing their position in fifth place, and the Cardinals made it two straight over the broken Pirates by 4 to 2. The Pittsburgh defeat left the Buccaneers only two games ahead of the Giants with a week of the season to go.

The Clan McGraw has eight games to play, the Pirates have six. If the Giants can win six out of eight, the Pirates must take four out of six to prevent a tie. The task of the Giants, however, is by no means negligible. A deficit of two games is no mean handicap at this season.

Chuck Klein got his forty-second homer in the first inning with one on, and moved into a tie with Melvin Ott of New York for the league lead. Klein's drive also tied the National league record set in 1922 by Rogers Hornsby and equalled this week by Ott.

Fred Frankhouse and Sylvester Johnson outpitched Ervin Brame to give the Cardinals their second straight over the Pirates. Bunched hits in the first inning settled the issue.

The other National league clubs were not scheduled, and all of the American league outfits remained idle because of the funeral services of Miller Huggins in New York.

IRA DERN WINS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 28 (AP)—Ira Dern, of Salt Lake City, heavyweight grappler, defeated Otis Davisonort, of Kansas, in a [illegible] wrestling match here last night. Davisonort won the first fall in 28 minutes but Dern rallied and took the next two, the second fall almost before Davisonort got started and the third in 12 minutes.

Once a Tramp Puppy—Now He Turns Off Lights And Feeds Other Dog

Pat's eyes shine with an intelligence unknown to the average dog, for though he was only a tramp puppy when his master found him almost starved one day three years ago, he makes up for not being a purebred (his mother was a collie and his father a shepherd, or vice versa) by being alert and quick to learn.

Pat has several duties assigned to him by his master. One is to turn the lights on and off in the basement of the courthouse. "Pat, turn that ligh on," T. M. DeBorde will say, pointing to a cord hanging in the cellar. Pat runs with leaps, grasps the cord in his mouth, and the light is on.

"He follows me and watches carefully to see if I should drop anything." The janitor walked around and dropped his glove. Pat grabbed for it like another dog would for meat, and with it in his mouth, walked in front of his master until the glove was taken from him.

"When I go home at nights, I tell Pat, 'Go get Mary.' Pat won't let go of her until she comes. He grabs her dress, and either Mary comes or the dress is torn."

* * *

Pat's other duty is to feed an old bird dog that Mr. DeBorde keeps in his basement. There is a pail in the back of the truck he drives, and every evening Pat grabs the pail in his mouth and carries it into the kitchen. As soon as any food is put in it, down to Salmo, the old bird dog, he goes, with Salmo's evening meal.

The way Pat started to feed this dog, happened one day when his master had given both dogs some meat, and Pat had slyly eaten both pieces. Cutting another piece, Tom said, "Give this to Salmo." Obediently Pat took the meat to the older dog and was forced to lie down and watch him eat it. Since then he has been serving Salmo's meals.

Pat's case shows that it isn't family history that really counts in this old world, but what you do with yourself that really makes the difference. Compare Pat's joy in living and serving with the happiness most dogs get from their barking powers.

GENERAL MOTORS SALES RECORDED

Total of 173,884 Sold by Dealers to Users During Month of August

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 — During the month of August General Motors dealers delivered to consumers 173,884 cars, according to an announcement by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president. This compares with 187,462 for the corresponding month a year ago. Sales by General Motors manufacturing divisions to dealers amounted to 168,185 cars, or an output of 6,900 cars per day, as compared with 186,653 for the corresponding month last year.

The following tabulation shows monthly sales of General Motors cars by dealers to ultimate consumers and sales by the manufacturing divisions of General Motors to their dealers:

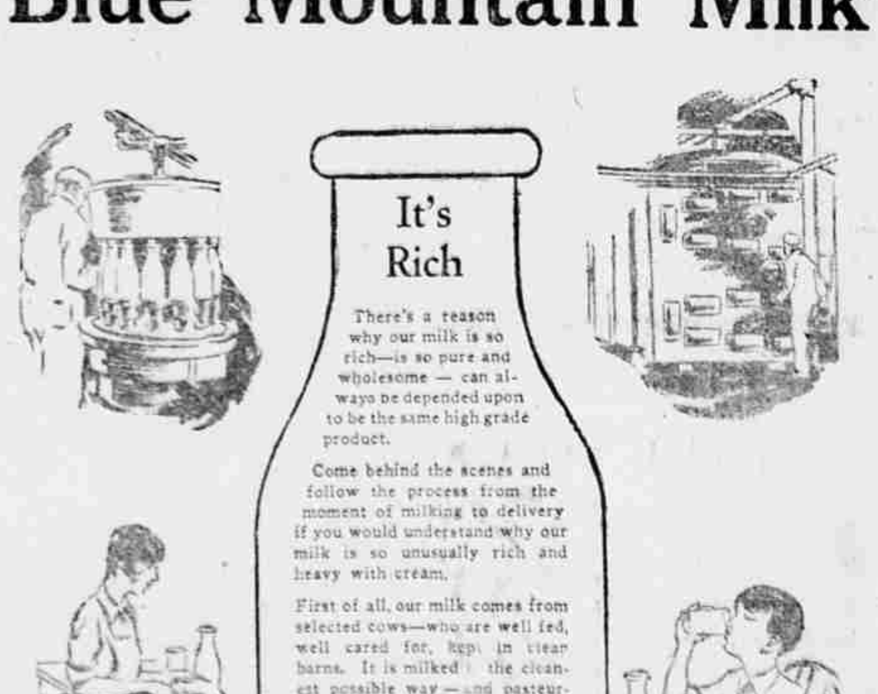
Blue Mountain Milk



It's Rich

There's a reason why our milk is so rich—is so pure and wholesome — can always be depended upon to be the same high grade product.

Come behind the scenes and follow the process from the moment of milking to delivery if you would understand why our milk is so unusually rich and heavy with cream.

First of all, our milk comes from selected cows—who are well fed, well cared for, kept in clear barns. It is milked in the cleanest possible way — and pasteurized to make it the world's purest food.

That's why you are never disappointed in the goodness of our milk.
