IDAHO TEAM HUMBLED BY E. O. N. 19-7

Normal School Eleven Upsets Dope and Turris Back Coyotes.

TWO SCORES MADE IN FIRST QUARTER

First Team Fails to Stop Oregonians, Who March 40 Yards for a Third Touchdown.

Displaying unexpected strength, both on the offense and defense, the Eastern Oregon Normal school football eleven made its initial bow in collegiate circles here yesterday afternoon...

By Way of a Postscript. Somewhat perturbed, Mr. Cornell marshaled his huskiest, fastest and smartest gridiron heroes and sent them scurrying into the fray...

Finally, as Old Sid was preparing to slip the gridiron into slat-wood, the Coyotes let out a last yell that carried them over the goal line for their solitary score.

The game was played under ideal conditions, unless the above-mentioned down-to-earthly and athletic comfort of the field was dry and fast, and a large crowd of enthusiastic fans surrounded it.

The Normal team kicked off, Idaho taking it on their own 21-yard line, and in four plays surmounting the ball to the red-shirted and brown-jerseyed Coyotes.

Second Touchdown. Again E. O. N. kicked off, and after four plays, including a pass that failed, kicked to the 22-yard line.

Goal line for the Eastern Oregon team was some 68 yards distant, but it took just 11 plays to cover that distance.

Stimmed Injured. Early in that march, Stimmell, left tackle for Idaho, had to be taken from the game, due to a strained ankle.

The remainder of the quarter (Continued on Page Six)

Observer Starts Equipment Fund For Normal Team

Realizing the need of the Normal school football team for funds to finance equipment and with adequate proof in yesterday's game that the Normal has a football team worthy of enthusiastic support, the Evening Observer today offers to receive voluntary contributions from football fans in the community toward the athletic fund.

It is understood that some $250 has been advanced personally for athletic equipment by the Normal school president and coach and a fund raised locally will help wipe out this debt and put athletes on a sound financial basis.

The Observer believes there are 50 or 100 men in La Grande who would take pleasure in contributing to equipment for the Normal school team and will receive contributions from anyone who cares to send them in.

Growth of the fund will be published from time to time in the paper and it is hoped that within a week or 10 days enough will be sent in to cover the majority of the equipment outfit.

Daniels Leader Of Rebellion At Colorado Prison

Convict Mutiny Ends After he Kills Three Companions and Turns Gun on Himself.

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 5 (AP)—A tragic drama, enacted with the vivid sequence of a well-staged production, today assumed a common place aspect at the Colorado state penitentiary as the debris of one of the nation's worst prison mutinies was being removed.

Preparations were going forward for funerals of the 12 who lost their lives in a futile attempt of five convicts to escape.

Of the 12 dead, there were seven guards who laid down their lives to uphold law and order. The other five were convicts, one fatally wounded by a guard, three slain by the ringleader of the revolt, and the leader who ended his life when his chances glimmered to nothingness.

Plan Investigations. While hundreds of convicts, not participants in the mutiny, bent to tasks of rebuilding cell houses and other buildings, plans are taking form for an eight-fold investigation of the trouble.

Nearly 1,000 prisoners were without housing as a result of fires that swept the buildings uncontrolled, left to burn every combustible thing. Twisted steel work was scattered about the granite buildings. Damage of $200,000 to $400,000 was caused by fire and the subsequent attack of militiamen and volunteers on the stronghold of the felons.

The mutiny started Thursday noon in the prison mess hall when one of the convicts, James Purdie, seized a guard's gun and shot the guard dead. Four other convicts, A. H. Davis, Melvin Majors, Albert Morgridge and Danny Daniels, ring leader, then went into the mess hall and captured several unarmed guards.

Meaning they herded other convicts around. Another guard was toppled from the prison wall dead. Continuing their march, the five desperadoes captured a total of ten guards. These men they held as hostages for their freedom. A note was sent the warden saying they would free the guards if the warden would provide three automobiles and let the five men go their ways. The threat for failure.

Her freedom on $50,000 bail was continued after Dr. Benjamin Blank, county physician, had testified she was "dangerously ill" from nervousness. She faces a prison sentence of one to ten years.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5 (AP)—With the trial of Alexander T. Pantages, 54, theater magnate, on a statutory charge, adjourned until Monday, interest shifted again today to Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy's court where Mrs. Lois Pantages was to be sentenced to prison.

Supreme Court Justice Accused Of Taking Liquor

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 5 (AP)—Brought in circuit court here today by E. C. Condit to recover damages totaling $15,000 from Neppach and Thomas Mannix for property of which he alleges he was defrauded, charged that Justice Thomas A. McBride of the Oregon Supreme court, was supplied with liquor during the pendency of two cases before that tribunal.

Condit's complaint alleges that the liquor with which Justice McBride was supplied during the pendency of the two cases was acquired by Condit at the instance of Neppach and Mannix and is alleged to have been stored at Condit's place of business here.

Condit, in his complaint, asserted "sometimes alone and sometimes accompanied by Justice McBride stock would require the plaintiff from time to time to make deliveries of said liquor either to themselves, the said defendants, or to said justice as the same was needed."

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 5 (AP)—Justice Thomas A. McBride of the supreme court today branded as absurd charges made by E. C. Condit of Portland in a damage suit against A. MISS MAXWELL TO WITHDRAW FROM OREGON

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 5 (AP)—University of Oregon officials expressed surprise today at the announced decision of Maxine Maxwell, negro, Salem, Ore., to withdraw from classes at the institution because "everyone knows why I am leaving."

Miss Maxwell, daughter of a baroque establishment proprietor at Salem, Charles Maxwell, gave no specific reason why she would abandon classes.

Her decision followed Governor L. L. Patterson's decision that the state board of higher education should investigate her charges against university officials that they had refused her a room in exclusive Susan Campbell hall because of race prejudice.

School officials denied race prejudice, but did admit they did not know she was a negro when she applied for the room. They also declared housing conditions at the university did not warrant placing the girl in the hall because all rooms were taken.

When Governor Patterson decided the case should go to the board of higher education, the girl's father announced he would drop the case. Miss Maxwell also said she did not wish to continue the debate. She was housed with another negro girl in a private home to the edge of the college campus.
