ides Of Sargon Total Millions

If you were told that literally hundreds of well known men and women had stated publicly that a medicine had relieved their health troubles after all other medicines and treatments had apparently failed—it would sound incredible, wouldn't it?

That is Sargon's wonderful story.

A great has become the demand for Sargon and Sargon Soft Pills that the Sargon laboratory has been forced to increase its capacity from 3,000 to 45,000 per day.

"Innominate and bewildering," is way one of the big drug jobs of the country describes the victims demand.

The big New York firm, with several branches in leading cities, is selling at the rate of more than one million bottles a year—the exact, 508,124 bottles in just eight months.

Produced in California in April last year, the people of this globe are now using it at the rate of more than one million bottles per year, or an average of one for every family in the world, and so it is everywhere.

Why this enormous and ever-increasing demand for Sargon? The answer is this:

Sargon is a new kind of medicine. It is different from any other medicine you have ever taken because it is based on new and reliable discoveries in the field of modern medicine we have known a life-time.

That is why people everywhere looking for Sargon as the one outstanding health-giving remedy of the age. No wonder it filled the medicine with a million friends.

will supervise the towel booth. Mrs. Joe Miller will have charge of the aprons. The Choral society has similar chairman for these booths and they will work together.

Next Tuesday evening Mrs. Wurt, Mrs. N. Nelson, and Mrs. Pohrman will come to the quilt to prepare frames for a quilt and the next morning, these three women, Mrs. Fred Mathos, and Mrs. Charley Hamon will begin work on the quilt.

At noon Mrs. Lief Aves will serve them luncheon. Mrs. Aves was elected reporter for the society. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Art Weagle on Cove avenue.

Luncheon Club In Enjoyable Meeting

Yesterday Mrs. Orson Brandt delightfully entertained the members of her luncheon club at a pot luck luncheon in her home at the Landis Court apartments.

Fall flowers graced the table with covers for ten. Pleasant social hours were spent together during the afternoon.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Clay Fox of Imbler, and Mrs. W. H. Fitzgerald of Salem, who is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Padlock.

The club will meet again in November.

Mrs. Della Harnden will be hostess to the club Wednesday, October 23.

chicken and waffle luncheon. Covers for the members were placed at a long table attractively decorated with zinnias. Clusters of fall flowers also added bits of beauty to the home.

A pleasant afternoon was spent sewing and in social hours.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Henry M. Bradshaw at 1182 Penn avenue, October 24.

Announcements

Mrs. Esther Dahl will meet with the juveniles of the Neighbors of Woodcraft tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the K. P. hall. All members are urged to be present as there will be installation of officers.

The sons and daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil war will meet tonight at the Moose hall at 8 o'clock.

The Women of Moosheart Legion will not meet tonight as previously announced, because of an accident occurring to Mrs. Dee Braunon.

The members of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a social in the basement of the church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members and their friends are cordially invited.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

Very often some form of "quick" bread adds the finishing touch to an otherwise plain meal. Baking powder biscuits and honey, muffins and marmalade, cornmeal sticks and soup, brown bread and cottage cheese—these combinations and innumerable others are engaging and nourishing.

The chemical action back of the "quick" biscuit or muffin mixture is interesting and worth the cook's consideration.

There are three general types of baking powders on the market, but they all liberate approximately the same amount of carbon dioxide gas. Their main difference lies in their action in the dough before it is heated. The various powders differ also in their residue in the baked product. These compounds apparently have little effect on the other ingredients of the dough.

It's Not a Stimulant

Carbon dioxide gas is a leavening agent which is produced by the chemical action of an acid on sodium bicarbonate. The sodium bicarbonate or baking soda will not give off its gas until combined with the acid, so all baking powders must contain an acid and baking soda. A starch filler is added to keep these ingredients dry and inert.

When baking soda is used with sour milk, there is the "volubility" of sodium bicarbonate and acid which produces carbon dioxide gas.

An emergency substitute can be made for baking powder by using for each teaspoonful of baking powder called for in the recipe one-half teaspoon cream of tartar and one-fourth teaspoon baking soda. Less of the substitute is used because no filler is present.

Too little thought and care are given to the handling of doughs and batters made with baking powder. Too much stirring and manipulating produce soggy, misshapen and "trunked" products. Quick work and little stirring prevent the escape and loss of carbon dioxide gas before the mixture begins to bake.

Corn meal muffins will be appreciated this time of year if served at any meal from breakfast to dinner. Any that are left over can be split and toasted for afternoon tea.

Cornmeal Muffins

Two cups flour, 1/2 cup cornmeal, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons melted shortening, 1 egg, 1 cup milk.

Mix and sift flour, salt, sugar and baking powder. Add cornmeal and mix. Beat egg until light and add milk and shortening. Add liquid ingredients to dry mixture and stir hard to mix. Fill oiled muffin tins about two-thirds full and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

LIBERAL, Kan., Oct. 11 (AP)—One aviator was dead and another was in a hospital Thursday with serious injuries from the premature explosion of a bomb near their plane above the Guymon, Okla., airport.

Jimmy (Mile High) Bethel, 20, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Dodge City, Kan., died in an ambulance en route to the hospital here. John Noonan, Guymon, owner of the plane, was badly cut and bruised.
