A. T. Hill Speaks

Proceeding the charter presentation and acceptance, A. T. Hill, president of the city commission, gave an address of welcome and W. W. Nelson, president of the chamber of commerce and chairman of the President's club, was a guest at the meeting.

During the banquet and at the dance that followed, Fletcher orchestra furnished the music, and Eleanor Fletcher gave two feature dances, on a horn dance with appropriate costume. The quartet, consisting of Mr. Gwilliams, E. D. Fowler, Bill Wilson and Mr. McCoy, sang, accompanied by Arnold Gerdorp at the piano.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The first conference of senate party leaders looking to an agreement to speed up action on the tariff bill broke up today without reaching any understanding as to future procedure.

Pirate Party To Be Greatest Three-Day Merchandising Plan Ever Staged in History of City

La Grande merchants are springing something new, something unique, there is going to be Mystery, Fun and Profit in the downtown district on next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The city of La Grande will be a veritable island of hidden "treasures" during a three-day Pirate Party.

Never in the history of the city has there been such a galaxy of buried treasures, (gifts) to be unearthed by the thousands of modern "Pirates" who will swoop down on the town and into the treasure troves (stores) in a steady stream from morning until night, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Just think! Without any effort and without any obligation every person over 15 years of age will be entitled to participate, and probably carry away valuable "Pieces of Eight." There will be dresses, hats, shoes, suits and every variety of wearing apparel given away free. There will be furniture, hardware, used cars, tires, electrical appliances, auto accessories, jewelry, art goods included in the list of free gifts. There will be food products, musical instruments, pianos, phonographs—in fact, free gifts of every description useful and valuable for every member of the family.

Over 1000 valuable gifts will be waiting to be claimed by thousands of "Pirate Party" participants throughout Union and Wallawa counties. Which Wednesday's issue of The Observer for full details of this great event.

Robber Injured In Explosion of Safe

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Oct. 14 (AP)—Blood and bits of flesh found scattered on the walls and ceiling of a department store here today bespeak a tragic failure of an attempt of safe crackers to blow a safe in the office of the store. A trail of blood which led to a back door and then through an exit on the second floor indicated the manner in which the robber carried him from the building. The safe withstood the heavy blast.

Police were today checking with all hospitals and surgeons in Southern Oregon in an attempt to trace down the robbers.

Tuberculosis Seal Sale Institute Is Under Way in La Grande Today

Homer A. Chamberlain, director of public information of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, told a number of Christmas seal workers at their meeting in the La Grande hotel this morning how the money coming from the Christmas seal sale is expended. The association is principally a health, educational organization and not a relief organization. Money is used for the prevention of new cases of tuberculosis and of other diseases rather than for the cure and treatment of those who already have the disease. It all relates to the old saying, "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure," and through means of education the association attempts to prevent tuberculosis. The meeting here today is one of several projects institutes being held over Oregon.

A school school is held in Portland for children who are on the border line, on the verge of being tuberculosis victims, who are given special care to bring them back to safety and health, the speaker said.

This organization is the only state-wide health organization in Oregon founded for the prevention of tuberculosis. The ship was moving William Head quarantine station when she struck and the 56 passengers aboard were in the smoking room awaiting examination by quarantine authorities. One of the passengers said the captain, C. G. Griffith, ordered the engine stopped abruptly before the ship piled on the rocks.

There was no confusion aboard, it was said, and the passengers were taken off about three hours later, by the steamship Oler, owned by the same company, Canadian Pacific, which was en route to Victoria, where the passengers were quartered at the Empress Hotel. They were to be taken to Vancouver, B. C., today.

The ordination sermon was for his theme, "Make Thy Way Straight Before My Face," as a plan for Mr. Tennyson to follow in his new rank, and suggested winners of conduct for a man of the Lord, during his work. The speaker also appealed to the congregation to help this man, and stay with him; that a minister's success did not rest upon himself alone, but also upon his followers. He urged them not to be the type that would say, "I have done my duty," and then take the preacher for granted the second year, and wish for a new one the third year.

"Ave Maria," by Goss, was a selection by A. B. Blackburn, the popular cowboy singer, that impressed the parish. Mrs. H. N. Ashby rendered "Vox Coelestis," by Hahn, and "March Celeste," by Lachner. The offertory was a

SOVIET FLIERS REACH SEATTLE

"Land of The Soviets" Completes Most Strenuous Hop of Journey.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 14 (AP)—Quest of the Atlantic will be a sequel to the epoch making Moscow to America flight of the plane "Land of the Soviets," S. A. Shestakov, commander and chief pilot of the expedition revealed today as preparations were being made to convert the ship from a sea to a land plane.

Worn out by the thousand mile flight from Waterfall, Alaska, to Seattle, during which their plane buffeted a 35 mile an hour head wind, the Russian fliers were emphatic in their desire to finish their round the world journey by air, instead of the more prosaic steamer and railroad route. The hop from Waterfall took exactly 10 hours and 10 minutes. Navigator Boris V. Sterligov said, "The plane glided into the air at Waterfall at 2:29 a. m. Pacific standard time and reached here at 5:30 p. m. Ceiling Very Low.

Most of the way the ship slipped over the waves at an elevation of only 15 feet because of the fog and headwinds. The maximum elevation was less than a thousand feet. The plane skirted the shore thereby increasing the distance almost twice the normal air-line between their starting point and Seattle.

Work was to begin early today on the removal of the pontoons and the substitution of land gear.

HOOVERS WITNESS CONCLUDING TILT

Comeback of Philadelphia Today Almost as Dramatic as in Saturday's Contest.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics with a dramatic ninth inning rally today won the world championship by beating the Cubs game, played with the president and Mrs. Hoover as spectators.

The Athletics snatched another seemingly certain victory from defeat by scoring all three of their runs in the ninth inning after one was out and after they had been held to two hits for eight innings by Pat Malone.

Haas Hits Homer

With Max Bishop on first, after singling, George (Mule) Haas hit the first pitch over the right field wall for his second home run in successive games, tying the score.

Al Simmons doubled and scored the winning run on Miller's two-base blow to the scoreboard in right center after Jimmy Foss had been purposely passed.

The Cubs drove the hero of the A's first victory, Howard Ehmke, out of the box in the fourth inning, when all their runs were scored, but the National league champions were stopped cold by George (Rube) Walberg, southpaw, who was credited with the deciding victory.

New World Record

The Athletics winning the series by four games to one captured the world's championship for the fourth time in six attempts under the leadership of their 37-year-old pilot, Connie Mack, who thereby set a new world's record.

John McGraw and Miller Huggins each won three world's series.

It was the third successive victory for the forces of the American league, who now have achieved the remarkable run of 12 games won out of the last 13 in world's series competition.

The comeback of the Athletics today was a dramatic and unexpected as the thriller put on Saturday, when they scored ten runs in the seventh to overhaul the Cubs.
