BAKER CLUB IS HOST TO LA GRANDERS

(Continued from Page One) ... football fans to attend the games in La Grande, and let the normal "sell" them on its ability to provide athletic spectacles worth seeing.

Quinn Speaks

"Bob" Quinn, athletic coach for the normal school, asked Baker football fans to attend the games in La Grande, and let the normal "sell" them on its ability to provide athletic spectacles worth seeing.

"Albert Hunter, secretary of the La Grande chamber, explained the Union-Wallowa cooperative land settlement effort, which is directed to reducing the average size of farms by increasing the dairy industry. A. W. Nelson declared that cities like La Grande and Baker ought to support chambers of commerce out of public appropriations, since the benefit goes to all taxpayers.

"The Rev. M. G. Tenneyson, Episcopal rector at La Grande, gave his impressions of Eastern Oregon compared with the Willamette valley. The chief differences noted were more willingness to spend money on things, and freedom from moonshaking. A steady growth, rather than a boom, is best for any community, he declared.

"H. W. Smith, of the Wallowa National Park association, explained the difficulties in the way of this project are being removed by conciliating the interests that had opposed it. The director of the national park service of the government will be in Wallowa county October 25 to make a survey of possibilities for a national park. All the land to be included is now owned by the government. Mr. Smith said, President Ford Kerr of the Baker chamber welcomed the visitors to the city.

Nelson Presides

"The luncheon meeting was presided over by A. W. Nelson, president of the La Grande chamber, who stressed good will and brotherly love amid the subject of football was brought up. It was pointed out that La Grande will be here with a strong team, accompanied by a special train of rooters to "mop" up on the Baker Copperjacks. Afterwards Mr. Nelson admitted confidentially that La Grande is only hoping to do that thing.

"The La Grande delegation included G. Walker, division manager of the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company; H. P. Lantz of the power company; Clint Hayes, chief of police; Jack Ferris, insurance and Lions club president; Sid Thompson, Union county Development League; E. B. Kendrick,

NORMAL SCHOOL AND ROOKS WILL CLASH TOMORROW

(Continued from Page 1) ... When the two teams lineup tomorrow, it will be the first time in many moons that an Orange team has played in this locality. In 1924 Oregon State's gridmen won from Whitman at Pendleton and last year La Grande greeted the victorious Orangemen on their return from the New York university city.

The Orange Babes have hung up three victories in as many contests this season, demonstrating both strong offensive and defensive ability. The Rooks won 25 to 0 from Albany college in the first game, defeated the light but tricky Chemawa Indians 20 to 7 in the second game and early this week traveled to the state capital to win from Salem high 32 to 6.

Similar Systems Both teams will use a similar system of play. Quinn is a former Oregon State star and is coaching his proteges along lines similar to those employed by Newman and Schlicher.

Defensively, Quinn's line may not be as heavy as the Rook forwards, but with three good punters available, local people are predicting that the Normal school squad will be hard to score on.

This may be the last appearance of the Normal team here until Thanksgiving day, when Monmouth is to come to La Grande, and a large crowd of fans, supplemented by groups from nearby towns and cities, is expected to witness the game.

THOMAS MANNIX ACCUSED JOSEPH OF CONSPIRACY (Continued from Page 1) ... man, who at the time was an attorney in the case.

"Hereafter, Joseph, for the purpose of bringing the supreme court into disrepute and controlling and making the court afraid of him, circulated by means of newspapers, radio and circular letters, statements charging Justice Rand with corruption in connection with the decision in the Wynn case. It was alleged that the consideration which caused the corruption of the said justice was a secret mining venture which Justice Rand had with his complainant and other parties, and out of which he, Justice Rand, expected to reap a large profit in consideration of the alleged corrupt decision.

All of these accusations were false, malicious, without any probable cause or color and constituted wilful misconduct in his profession by Joseph.

"Charge is Utterly Entire" "That Joseph conspired with one Elvin C. Condit to further bring the supreme court into disrepute by accusing and charging another justice with having granted a divorce to the said Condit for the consideration of a quantity of liquor. Joseph was instrumental in causing the Portland Telegram to publish said charge. The charge is utterly untrue, made out of whole cloth and constitutes wilful misconduct on the part of Joseph. "Joseph also was instrumental in publicly accusing and charging, through the Portland Telegram, the supreme court and some of the justices of corruption and favoritism in the case of Wadsworth vs. Brigham, recently decided by the supreme court.

"In the Naylor Will case decided by the supreme court, Joseph was instrumental in attacking the integrity of the supreme court through the Portland Telegram, and claimed that the decision was the result of favoritism to E. B. Tongue, Hillsboro attorney."

Another charge by Mannix is that Joseph advised and abetted in the publication of a libel in the Portland Telegram, alleging that Mannix had betrayed a client's confidence and conspired to rob another client.

More than a year ago Mannix filed a disbarment proceeding against Joseph with the arizans committee of the Multnomah County Bar association and recently Joseph filed disbarment proceedings against Mannix with the same committee.

HUGE LIQUOR RING IS BROKEN DOWN (Continued from Page 1) ... They were found in the home of one of the men named and taken into custody.

Preparations for the raids began six months ago, when an intercepted message was decoded. From them and other messages information was gleaned which led to the raids.

When the federal agents entered the station at 4:20 p. m. yesterday, the zero hour for the raids, they found Malcolm McMaster, the operator, at his key. He was arrested for operating an unlicensed station. A federal operator familiar with the smuggler's code then began sending messages by which the raiders hoped to lure a rum ship off Montauk point into a trap where a coast guard patrol boat lay in wait.

Arsenal in Mansion The arsenal was located in a mansion formerly owned by Oscar Hammerstein, Jr. Its 20 rooms were fitted like a club. In the basement the raiders found tunnels leading to underground vaults in which liquor was stored and where a number of machine guns and a quantity of small arms were hidden.

The cupola on top of the mansion was equipped with telescopes and was apparently used as a lookout tower from where the smugglers could watch for their craft.

One of the raids was made on what the agents said was the New York headquarters of the syndicate in West 42nd street. Here, the federal men said, members of the organization met regularly to divide the profits of the business and discuss plans. The other raids were on landing stations, storage houses and distribution points.

Patrick Connors, a clerk at the Ambassador hotel in Atlantic City, was arrested as a contact man for the syndicate.

"Million Dollar" Outfit William J. Calhoun, prohibition administrator for New Jersey, who was in charge of the raids in his state, said the syndicate was a "million dollar outfit" which operated a fleet of six ships between St. Pierre and Bermuda, and an auxiliary fleet of ten speed boats.

The ships passing close inshore along the New Jersey coast were met by the speedboats, which took off cargoes of liquor and ran them ashore. Unofficial estimates placed the amount of liquor brought in at 10,000 cases a week.

Alleged members of the gang were arrested by federal agents in several New Jersey towns and taken to Trenton for arraignment.

The raids extended over a 290-mile front. Gigantic rum ring's extent: Seized in 22 raids along 290-mile front between New York and Atlantic City: 22 men, 1 radio station, 1 fortified mansion, Landing stations, Storage plants, Guns, tear bombs, pistols, ammunition, much liquor. Unlicensed: Six ocean-going vessels. A fleet of small speed boats: Smuggling capacity: 10,000 cases a week.

Choice Veal And Lambs Prices Go Low, Oversupply

PORTLAND, Oct. 17 (AP)—Because of an over-supply, choice veal and lamb have taken another big price cut, according to a leading producer company. Veal was reduced to 18.95 from 21.00, and lamb to 18.25 from 21.00. This follows a similar reduction of last week.

Poultry prices are also easier, not so much because of an over-supply, but because other points are preventing shipments from here by underselling Portland.

Butter prices were steady and egg values firm, without indication of further decrease or increase.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland Market News Service of the United States department of agriculture says:

"Hartlett pears were nearly all cleaned up. The current market was mostly supplied with Anjouns and Comice at $2 and $2.25 per box for extra fancy stock.

"The potato market continues firm, although prices were unchanged.

"Celery and cauliflower were plentiful. Quality of cauliflower is improving daily, earlier loadings at Troutdale practically all grading No. 1, with prevalence of large sizes."

Wheat Nervous And Some Lower Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Influenced by seasonally bullish crop estimates from Argentina and by reports that domestic mills had become active purchasers, wheat prices here rallied today after a weak start. Initial new downturns in Chicago wheat values were ascribed to a sharp fresh break in Liverpool quotations and to an overnight accumulation of selling orders here. Grain elevators independent strength, opening 1/2 to 3/4 c off, and subsequently soaring gains, (lots were easy. Provisions tended upward.)

WALL STREET CLOSING TONE STEADY TODAY (Continued from Page 1) ... NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Sharp recovery took place in today's stock market after an early period of heaviness in which several of the leaders were hammered down 1 to 5 points. Short covering operations played an important part in the rally, which ran from 1 to 5 points in most of the active issues and 6 to 16 points in a few specialties. Trading was fairly heavy in volume.

Lowering of the call money rate from 7 to 6 per cent coincident with the passing of the mid-month stringency, stimulated the recovery in prices. The time money market was dull but showed an easier tendency.

Speculative sentiment was again disturbed temporarily in the late afternoon by a loss of 3 1/2 points in Montgomery Ward, which fell to 199. Murray corporation advanced 1 point.
