

Tomorrow is the last day to Find Your Treasure

Have you found yours? They are finding them all over the store. Don't fail to find yours.

Hill's

Sport Slants by ALAN J. GOULD

At something over 46 years of age, Jim Thorpe still appears to be one of the hardest of the species that ever broke through a line, high-jumped over 6 feet or swam at a curve, ball, fully three weeks after pumping peas with the famous redskin in the joint of the third finger of his right hand remained somewhat sore from the force of his grasp.

Nevertheless Thorpe thinks he has had about enough. He is through, he says, with the gridiron, even though he probably can go out in civilian clothes now, without warming up, and droppick with anyone at distances up to 50 yards with a greater degree of accuracy.

The Indian's legs can no longer stand the wear and tear of a football campaign, although he has outlasted nearly all of his contemporaries as a professional over a period of about a dozen years. The last athletic enterprise was the Boston Derby. Jim contracted no lameness, for he was a half-breed man and not a contestant, but neither did he develop any profits. His most recent assignment was as bodyguard to D. Scott Child, the Los Angeles boat and president of the California Golf Writers' association, during the amateur championship at Pebble Beach.

Thorpe has reached the end of the athletic trail without much to show for his greatest efforts. He was shown at his Olympic medals of 1912 after being declared a "free" but this was before that big money era of commercial sport. Red Grange made more in one afternoon as a "pro" football player than Thorpe did in any two complete seasons. The big Indian was exploited in any number of ways but somehow the proceeds remained elusive or else they vanished about as quickly as they came.

Nevertheless, nothing can deprive Thorpe of his rank as one of the greatest of all-around athletes. No all-time-all-American football team is complete without the Star and Fox Indian. On the track, in his prime, he could run the "100" in ten seconds, high jump around 6 feet 4 inches, and toss anything from the javelin to the 16-pound shot with a sureness that amazed observers. He has the medals to show for it but he is still the only man who ever won both the Olympic participation and decaathlon. Curly Falls roped him out of his league because he had his natural ability carried him quite a way on the diamond. Jackson was a "soft" game for Thorpe and no one ever tried putting his skates on him or he might have been a star at the building sport of hockey.

Republicans To Make Effort To Speed Up Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—An amendment to the tariff bill to abrogate the Cuban-American reciprocity treaty was called up in the senate today by Senator Waterman, republican, Colorado, and discussed at length.

Manifest that President Hoover wants the tariff out of the way when the regular session begins, republican leaders mapped out a program today to expedite the measure through the senate at the earliest possible moment.

Three steps were agreed upon: First, the finance committee is authorized to report fully and decide on what amendments might be accepted without debate.

Second, to propose night sessions beginning tonight.

Third, convene the senate at 10 instead of 11 o'clock, each morning if night sessions should not be possible.

THREE GAMES IN GRID CONFERENCE

Stanford Tackles Oregon State—Two Contests Played in Northwest

PAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Interest in the Pacific coast conference football game will shift to the northwest tomorrow, with only one member of the big three of California gridirons scheduled to meet a conference opponent.

The Stanford Cardinals will tackle Oregon State at Palo Alto in a game that may prove a serious setback in the path of the Redshirts in case of the arrival of over-confidence that seems to have been taken on by Pop Warner's men. Stanford has one of its most important clashes of the season a week from tomorrow, meeting the Southern California Trojans and preparation for this game has necessitated taking the Oregon State "in stride."

Bears Play in East—Southern California and the University of California meet non-conference opponents tomorrow, the Trojans taking on little Occidental college, and the Bears meeting the University of Pennsylvania in an important inter-sectional tilt in Philadelphia.

The Pacific northwest will find the bulk of conference activity. At Pullman, the supremacy of the state of Washington will be decided when the Huskies of the University of Washington meet the Cougars of the state college, Early season favorites, the stock of the Huskies has slumped as a result of their 8-6 tie with Montana two weeks ago, and their overwhelming defeat at the hands of the Trojans last week.

Oregon-Idaho at Portland—At Portland, the University of Oregon takes on the Idaho Vandals. The Vandals demonstrated a powerful team last week in smothering the University of Montana, and they may take the decision over the weekend.

The University of California at Los Angeles will see action tonight at Pasadena meeting Cal Tech in a night game, while Montana will take a rest.

DECISION OF PAST CENTURY HELD OBSOLETE

CONCORD, N. C., Oct. 18 (AP)—Declaring a state supreme court decision of the past century obsolete, Judge A. M. Stack ruled a person need not believe in a religion to be a competent witness in a North Carolina court as the trial of four Gastonia cotton mill employees charged with flooding September 2 of Ben Wells, communist and self-declared atheist, opened here.

Judge Stack's ruling was at variance with recent holdings of two other state court justices. Testimony of Wells was ruled out by Judge Thomas J. Shaw, superior court judge sitting as a magistrate, in preliminary hearings held in the Douglas case.

Appearing against fourteen men he had named as members of a mob which he said took him, with C. H. Kaylor, and C. M. Lott, Gastonia members of the National Textile Workers union, from Gastonia to a spot near here and flopped him, Wells told Judge Shaw he did not believe in God and was a communist. With these declarations Judge Shaw held Wells had disqualified himself as a witness.

Ousted Pastor Is Returned to Pulpit

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18 (AP)—Dr. John Marvin Dean, ousted pastor of Hinson Memorial Baptist church, returned to the congregation today with a cleaned record after the congregation had reversed the order of the board of deacons which found him guilty last July of conduct unbecoming a minister.

Bob Shawkey To Manage Yankees In Coming Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Unconditionally released by the club two years ago, Bob Shawkey, ex-catcher, has been named manager of the New York Yankees, leaderless since the death three weeks ago of Miller J. Huggins.

A great right-handed pitcher in his day, coach of the Yankees during the last season, Shawkey never has had any managerial experience. His contract is for one year.

Shawkey's selection surprised the experts who had expected that Arthur Fletcher, Yankee coach, or Ibbotson, president of the St. Paul club of the American association, would be named for the post.

"I do not want to manage the Yankees or any other club," Fletcher said when the offer was made. "If the club wishes me to continue as coach I will be satisfied."

The offer then was made to and accepted by Shawkey. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, club president, said the new manager has been selected solely on the basis of advice given by Huggins five years ago. "Ruppert and Huggins had discussed possible successors to the 'milk manager' in the event of his retirement or disability. Huggins recommended Fletcher first and Shawkey second."

Oregon Banking On "Flying Dutchman"

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 18 (AP)—Oregon today had reached the peak of its preparation for the Idaho struggle at Multnomah stadium, Portland, Saturday, in the opinion of Coach John J. McEwan. The Woodford mentor believed his charges not only were in the proverbial pink of physical condition but that their mental attitude was equally favorable.

Repeated rumors of Vandal power have not been disregarded by the Oregon athletes. McEwan maintained they served only to put his squad on a keener edge.

The Oregon coach looks to Johnny Kitzmiller, the "Flying Dutchman" of the Woodford, to do his job Saturday's contest. Kitzmiller, the outstanding back on the Oregon squad, has been "going great guns" in practice, to quote McEwan.

42 Are Indicted In Liquor Cases

DETROIT, Oct. 18 (AP)—Federal indictments against 42 men, said to have been involved in two huge liquor syndicates operating out of New York, Detroit and Chicago were returned by a grand jury today. Fifteen of the alleged operators already have been arraigned, according to John H. Watkins, district attorney.

BAKER TO PLAY BOISE—BAKER, Ore., Oct. 18 (AP)—The Baker high school football team will meet its first big gridiron test here tomorrow with the Boise, Idaho, team as opposition.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18 (AP)—Secretary Henry H. Wilson, who took a leading part in the recent Anglo-American naval discussion, has been chosen by President Hoover to act as chief American spokesman when these negotiations reach their fruition in the coming London conference.

Possibly, the secretary of state may be the only delegate appointed, but his yet have been no indications of the president's views on the case of the commission that is to represent the Washington government.

BREAKS HIS NECK—EVERETT, Wash., Oct. 18 (AP)—Dodging and finally outdistancing his pursuers, Adrian McDonald, 19, of Oak Harbor, Washington, high school football star, fell and broke his neck after he had crossed the goal line for a touchdown.

Strong Elevens Of East Facing Important Tilts

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Battles of undated eastern college football seasons will attract thousands of spectators tomorrow. Army invades Harvard stadium to meet a team that has shown signs of winning its way back into the football sun. The experts disagree as to whether Harvard's line can check Cagle, star array back.

Dartmouth comes to New York to play Columbia. These unboxed elevens, each with high scoring stars in their lineups, promise one of the most thrilling games of the day.

At Philadelphia the University of California plays Pennsylvania in the biggest inter-sectional fray. California athletes look good to many experts.

Some of the east's mighty will be striving to regain prestige lost by poor showings in the early season, combats. Yale, which bowed before Georgia, will stack up at New Haven against a Brown team which has shown signs of strength after a weak start. Princeton, beaten by Brown, will strive to recoup at Ithaca, N. Y., against an undefeated Cornell team.

Besides the Columbia-Dartmouth clash, New York will see a couple of other first class encounters. New York university will entertain Penn State and an inspired Fordham team will combat another Jesuit eleven, Holy Cross.

Penn State will face a team ranked by a 2-0 defeat last week at the hands of Fordham.

Navy's entering Duke and West Virginia looks good to the experts to emerge victorious over Washington and Lee. Washington and Jefferson battles Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, strong again this year, meets a heavy Nebraska team on its home grounds.

MACKMEN ARE FETED, DINED BY ADMIRERS

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Athletics, winners of the world series, were dined and feted last night by the city's chamber of commerce and the Philadelphia Sports Writers association.

Connie Mack and Eddie Collins were presented with radios. Electric clocks went to a number of players and each member of the club received a wrist watch.

"We hope to win another pennant next year," Connie Mack said, "but we will have to fight all the way."

Mack said the A's were successful because they were not a one man team.
