BIG GRID GAMES ON MENU TODAY

Three Coast Conference Contests Under Way This Afternoon.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 19 (AP)—An undated University of Idaho football game was scheduled in the history of the school, completed in 49 minutes, from Moscow early yesterday and both teams staged a light workout on Multnomah field here today. Perfect football weather for the game was promised early this morning.

The Idaho squad, one of the most powerful and cheerful ever assembled in the history of the school, completed its 49-mile jaunt from Moscow early yesterday and both teams staged a light workout on Multnomah field in the afternoon. Both squads were careful, however, not to repeat the type of attack planned for the game although both have been well acquainted.

Grid fans from all over the state were assembled here today, a special train having brought the University of Oregon delegation from Eugene yesterday, and it was estimated that a crowd of more than 17,000 would be in the stands for the starting gun.

OREGON STATE VS. STANFORD
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 19 (AP)—This of the most powerful gridiron attractions up the Pacific coast will come to grips when the Stanford Cardinal meet the invading Oregon State college eleven in the stadium here today.

The task of the Oregon State was not along that of vindictive their alma mater, but that of the Pacific northwest as well because of the crushing defeat administered by the Cardinal and an overcast of today held the Southern California Trojans 21 to 7, giving more respect than the southerners. Thus, the northerners were expected to give the Stanford eleven a strenuous afternoon.

HUSKIES PLAY W. S. C.
PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 19 (AP)—With the state championship virtually the only prize left for them in the Pacific coast conference, the University of Washington State college tonight and the University of Washington Huskies were eager for battle today in Rogers field here.

A hard rain last night dampened the hopes of victory for both sides. The forecast for today was "unsettled weather with possible showers."

Although the Washington State were favored to win the contest, the Huskies had many friends. Nearly 20,000 spectators were expected to swarm into the Rogers field stands.

Great Elizabethan Comedy
The stuporous comedy, "The Merry Wives of Windsor," was written by Shakespeare in 1520. Tradition has it that the play was composed by command of Queen Elizabeth, who wished to see her favorite character, Falstaff, in the situation of a lover. It has been one of the most popular of the Shakespearean comedies from the days of Elizabeth to the present time.
