TRIO IS KILLED WHEN PLANE DIVES

Plane burst into flames as it hit the trees. An explosion followed, the witnesses declared.

By the time the employees reached the scene of the accident the plane was an inferno. The intense heat from the flames prevented rescue work and witnesses were unable to remove the bodies for some time after the crash.

The body of Miss Rose was not discovered until this morning. Mr. Meyer and Clark had been placed in the Walker Lumber company ambulance.

The fatal flight was to have been her first long airplane journey. She was to have used the flying time gained through the flight toward earning a pilot's license.

Miss Rose was 22 years old and until she took up flying had been a dancing instructor at Portland. Previous to that she had been a student of Commerce high school there.

EXPRESS PLANE MISSING
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29 (AP)—Winter, closing a cold grip on Arizona and New Mexico, today obscured the fate of a western air express liner, with five aboard.

The tri-motored plane, with two passengers and three of crew, left the air line's western terminus at Alhambra, a Los Angeles suburb at 5:30 a. m. yesterday. Due in Albuquerque, N. M., at noon, it was last reported seen over Navajo, Ariz., 110 miles west of Albuquerque at 10:20 a. m.

Western air express officials announced that had flying weather had been reported ahead of the ship after it left Kingman, Ariz., at 8:25 Arizona time. The weather report, they said, was not available in time to hold the plane at Kingman.

Those aboard:

Dr. A. W. Ward, San Francisco, nationally known dental authority, enroute to Fort Worth, Texas, to fill a speaking engagement.

W. E. Mox, Mount Vernon, N. Y., enroute to his home.

James E. Dole, Los Angeles, chief pilot.

Alan G. Barrie, Burbank, Cal., copilot.

R. L. Britton, Los Angeles formerly of Denver, steward.

STORMS PREVENT SEARCH
DENVER, Oct. 29 (AP)—Snowstorms which swept into the Rocky mountain region last night on the heels of a gale, held storm-bound western air express planes which were to have taken off today to aid in the search for the missing western air transport plane, believed down in Western New Mexico or Eastern Arizona.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Literature Club Reviewing Book
An interesting meeting of the Neighborhood Literature club was held last evening in the La Grande hotel, with Mrs. H. H. Cleaver giving the book review of the evening. Telling of the unusual life of a "Daughter of the Samurai," an autobiography by Madame Sugimoto, a Japanese woman who came to America. She related events and customs that were queer to the natives of America, but as the authoress expressed, things in America are just as queer to the Japanese. Madame Sugimoto has an entertaining style of writing.

Mrs. M. G. Tompkins reported the first chapter of "What Can Literature Do for Me?" by C. Alphonso Smith, which the club is studying, a chapter being reviewed each week.

Another interesting project of the club is the study of the "checkered Table Cloth," a small book of poems by Bea Foster Smith, whom the club hopes to have with them some time in the spring.

This club is a new organization and anyone who is interested in literature is invited to attend its sessions which are held every Monday evening.

University Will Greet Dads On Nov. 2 Weekend
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 29 (Special).—Union county dads of University of Oregon students will find a hearty welcome awaiting them on the campus the weekend of November 2.

Plans for the annual events of Dad's day are nearing completion. Immediately after the football game between Oregon and the University of California at Los Angeles, there will be an informal reception, which will give the dads an opportunity to meet the members of the university staff. Don't David E. Kettle, who is in charge of the reception, has suggested Million Jars Used Yearly.—Adv.

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was introduced, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Mothers of young children especially have been quick to appreciate this better, external method of treating colds, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset the little ones' delicate stomachs. Year by year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds.

Just rubbed on, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, it releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages.

Ever-increasing demand for this better method of treating colds is shown in the familiar Vicks slogan—Made famous when Vicks reached 57 Million Jars Used Yearly—later raised to 22 Million—there are now "Over 26
