Camp Fire Girls Give Festival At Neighborhood Club

The Camp Fire groups of La Grande presented an interesting program yesterday afternoon for the Neighborhood club, when they dramatized a fall festival arranged about "The Song of the Sycamore" and portrayed by dances and songs taken from the fall festivals of different countries. It was cleverly arranged and the actors were dressed in costume.

Finland, Sweden, Poland and Switzerland were the countries represented. This was given under the direction of Mrs. K. F. Tyler, who told the customs of each country preceding each song and dance.

Preceding the festival Miss Madeline Larson of the Normal school told about Camp Fire, explaining its symbolism, its awards, its activities, and many interesting experiences of Camp Fire. Mrs. George H. Miller introduced Miss Larson to the club.

During the business meeting Mrs. E. E. Murphy gave a Christmas report. Mrs. E. E. Hilly announced the coming meeting of the Neighborhood Literature club and told something of what the club has done this fall. It will meet next Monday evening at the La Grande hotel, and everyone who is interested in literature is welcome to attend the meeting.

A pleasant evening was spent playing cards and in social hours. Guests for the evening were: Mrs. Anna Pollock, Mrs. Emma Grady, Mrs. J. C. Gulling, Mrs. A. R. Hunter, Mrs. Howard Safford, Mrs. Julia E. Cunningham, Mrs. F. S. Ivanhoe and Mrs. W. H. Holmquist.

Mrs. Mary Baker Hostess at Dinner

Mrs. Mary Baker was hostess last evening at a delightful five-course dinner with covers for eight guests. Clusters of yellow poinsettias on the table were part of the decorations, which were in Halloween colors.

MENUS

By Sister Mary
Certain desserts are most suitable for luncheon, others for dinner—and the type of either meal influences the choice of the dessert. A "honey" farm house dinner would be incompatible with a fussy Frenchy dessert. A formal meal needs a more sophisticated dessert than apple pie.

There are a few mistakes easy to avoid. To serve a fruit dessert after a fruit salad, or follow an omelet with a custard or a meat pie by pastry, breaks the first rule for choosing the right dessert.

The dessert that perfectly finishes the meal should form as great a contrast in flavor and texture with the courses preceding it as possible.

Rich meats like pork, beef, mutton and goose require light desserts free from fat and, especially in the case of pork and goose, with a tendency toward tartness. Fresh fruit in season, fruit in gelatine, fruit flavored gelatines and less, deep dish fruit pies and perfectly baked fruits, are excellent choices for those dinners.

Wide Choice of Desserts
Light meals like veal and lamb demand a more nutritious dessert. Since veal itself is rich in gelatin...

U. S. Troops Stage Maneuvers on Mexican Border

Practice makes perfect, and 6000 American troops along the Mexican border are getting plenty of practice in the art of warfare. Above, a squadron of "Brown" troops engaged in the "Brown-White" skirmishes near El Paso, Tex., is shown as it charged across the desert against its theoretical opponents in the annual military maneuvers. time, the dessert should not be jellied unless it's a natural fruit jelly. Veal is lacking in fat, so this can be supplied in the dessert. Lamb does not need the addition of fat. The flavor of both these meats is mild, so this, too, must be made up in the dessert. Carmel custard is a good choice for veal; chocolate or fruit souffles, one-crust pies, seasonal fruits used in puddings, almost any flavored ice cream, these are excellent for either veal or lamb.

Tradition has much to do with the dessert preferred for poultry and turkey. These usually appear on festive occasions when a "fancy" dessert is in order. Frozen puddings, bavarian cream, charlottes and French pastries all go well with poultry of any sort.

The heartiness of the main course of luncheon determines the dessert. If meat is served, the dessert must be light. But if soup and salad constitute the menu, then a nutritious dessert (such as rice and bread puddings, custards pie of all flavors, and steamed fruit puddings are suitable for luncheon menus.

Easterners who had heard most about Lou over the radio had a good chance to observe this triple threat back in action against Pennsylvania. He does everything well, and it will be some time before he puts on any better defensive stunt than he did by holding 69 yards to safety from behind his own goal line after a 15-yard penalty had put California on its own 2-yard line at Franklin Field. Lou has a great running mate in Egan, who catches punts like an outfielder spears line drives. Playing bareheaded, Egan reminded Easterners of Bob Sims, who scorned head-gear while running wild for Stanford last year.

Unusual Aurora Seen
One of the most brilliant displays of the aurora borealis ever seen was recently observed in Scotland. It lasted for seven hours. The lights shot northward from zenith instead of in the usual opposite direction. The colors were unusually brilliant, vivid green streamers shooting across the sky, resembling summer lightning.

Two of the east's greatest ball-carriers are the Army's incomparable Red Cagle and Dartmouth's wily Al Marsters, fast fulfilling all the rosy promise of his sophomore year.

Noire Dame has a fleet set of backs, with Jack Elder the fastest if not also the slipperiest. Minnesota's Arthur Pharr and Iowa's captain, Willis Glasgow, are two of the big ten stars, and Nebraska's Clair Sloan has come into his own after playing second fiddle to the great Blue-Howell.

Russell Saunders and Jesse Hill of Southern California, Harold Rothert, the Stanford shot putter, and California's elusive Benny Lon and slippery LeRoy Egan are among the best on the coast.

DON'T take our word for it when we say that you can't afford to do your own laundry work. Figure your own costs and see if they don't compare closely with those of the average secured from users of mechanical equipment throughout the country.

With Mechanical Equipment
The average machine costs	$150.
If it lasts six years, at $25 a year, the weekly cost is	$.048
Interest on your investment, $150 at 7 per cent, per week	.20
Soap, bluing, starch, electricity, water heating, etc., per week	.48
Repairs and upkeep, per week	.14
Total	$1.30
You may not consider your time worth anything, but if you hire a laundress at 35c an hour for, say three hours, it will cost you	1.05
Total Weekly Cost	$2.35

If you don't figure your time worth a cent, you save 10 cents a week. If it's worth 35 cents an hour, you save 1.15!

If you wash everything at home, you have to iron all the flat work—if you send it to us, we iron the flat work for you.

No muss, no fuss, no washday work, worry or weariness!

We ask you again: "Can you afford to do your own washing?"
