Testis to find out just why a youth of nineteen risk all to rob a film station of $13.85, or why responsible and educated men think they can murder young girls with impunity, is going to be a monumental task, but it should take President Hoover's crime commission over an hour and a half to find out who's responsible for all the questionable books that are flooding the market. You've commenced to deteriorate when you send in a request for "Silver Threads."
