BINGHAM IS CONDEMNED

judgment I made, however indiscreet I may have been, I did what I did in my wholehearted desire to serve the people of Connecticut.

As Bingham concluded, Senator Dill, democrat, Washington, asked if he would answer a question, Bingham declined.

Nevertheless Dill put his question, asking Bingham why he had not informed his colleagues that his secretary in the secret sessions of the finance committee was actually on the payroll of the Connecticut Manufacturers' association. Bingham replied it did not occur to him that it was any business of his colleagues on the committee. He argued that Eyanon "did nothing improper" by accompanying him to the secret rate making sessions.

Defends Bingham
 Senator Gillett, republican, Massachusetts, defended Bingham. He was the first to arise in behalf of the Connecticut senator. He insisted Bingham was looking for facts in the use of Eyanon although he considered Bingham's course may have been "indiscreet."

The senate refused to accept a modified substitute for the resolution of condemnation of Bingham. The vote was 44 to 22 against the substitute.

Sensor Edge, republican, New Jersey, then offered amendments to the Norris resolution proposing censure.

He proposed to change the word "condemned" to "disapproved."

He also asked to have the resolution modified to state that "this is not intended in any way to impugn the motive of the senator from Connecticut as being improper or dishonorable."

The Edge revisions were rejected 43 to 24.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, said today the senate today investigating committee probably would inquire into reports that Dr. Edward H. Dickell of the General Eye Suits corporation had used the office of Senator Kins, democrat, Utah, as headquarters during the pending tariff legislation.

"The reports have been current for some time," Senator Walsh said "and the committee probably will inquire into the matter as soon as it gets around to it."

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritation. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritation, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

No Changes Today In Produce Prices

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 4 (AP)—Portland market quotations opened today with no changes in those quoted Friday. Butter prices appear steady following the recent decline, and egg values show no indication of recovery. Fresh eggs were in big demand.

The most interesting development of the day was the release of the United States department of agriculture report on the Oregon onion crop. The total production is estimated at 775 cars, localized as follows: Salem district, 550 cars; Tualatin valley area, 200; rest of state, 25 cars. The Salem estimate is 50 carloads less than were originally estimated, because of the smaller sizes.

The crop consists almost wholly of Oregon yellow Danvers.

Wheat Declines 3 Cents In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Pulled down by an unexpected increase of the United States wheat supply and by stock market weakness, wheat prices suffered successive sharp breaks today, closing heavy 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 a bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 3/4 to 1 1/4 down; oats, 3/4 to 1/2 off, and provisions varying from 1/2 to 1/4 to a rise of 2 cents.

FIRMER TONE IN WHEAT MARKET
 Prices Up 5 to 10 Cents for Week, With Other Grains Steady.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 4—The grain market developed a firmer tone during the week ending November 2, and wheat prices advanced 5c to 10c per bushel from the low point of a week ago, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics.

Some recovery in the security markets, together with an improved export inquiry for both wheat and flour at the lower prices, were the principal strengthening factors in the wheat market. Offerings of feed grains were light and demand was sufficiently active to hold prices steady in the face of a prospective increase in movement of new corn. Flax prices advanced about 4c during the week, influenced by an active crusher demand for the limited offerings.

No outstanding changes occurred in the general wheat market situation during the week. Better than average rainfall in Argentina improved prospects for the 1930 wheat crop. Offerings of old crop grain, however, were smaller, and exports during the week were reported at only a little over 1,000,000 bushels, which were the smallest weekly shipments for the season to date. Exports have been running unusually heavy, however, about 22,000,000 bushels having been shipped out to the first of November this season, compared with 17,000,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. The outlook in Australia is generally less favorable than a month ago, according to trade reports. India is expected to require 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 bushels more foreign wheat before the next harvest. Offerings of native wheats in Europe continue fairly large, but farmers in France were said to be expecting government relief and are offering native wheats sparingly. Local wheat is being offered freely in Germany and some has been exported. Seeding in the principal European countries appears to be progressing under generally favorable conditions.

Markets Stronger
 Domestic wheat markets strengthened materially, principally as a result of the improved demand for both wheat and flour at the lower price levels. Mills are reported to have made fairly large sales of flour today, which was reflected in a more active inquiry for milling wheat. Pacific coast exporters effected some sales of both wheat and flour to the Orient and European inquiry for wheat at the Gulf and eastern seaboard markets was more active. Cash prices gained more than future at most markets.

Light receipts of spring wheat, together with an improved mill demand, stimulated buying in the spring wheat markets and advanced cash prices around 10c per bushel.

Durum wheat advanced along with other classes of spring wheat, but demand was less active, and prices advanced only about 5c to 7c per bushel.

Pacific coast markets strengthened materially during the week, although the price advance was generally less than in eastern markets. Mill demand at San Francisco was more active as a result of an improved flour business, but inquiry for feed wheat continued dull with increased use of new crop flour, restricting the demand. No. 1 hard white and No. 2 soft white were quoted at San Francisco November 1 at $2 15 to $2 20 per 100 pounds, with the latter for discount. Best selling at $2 17 to $2 19. No. 2 hard white from Washington and Oregon was quoted delivered San Francisco, sacked, at $2 20 per 100 pounds. Some low grade Idaho wheat was selling at $2 to $2 05 per 100 pounds in bulk, delivered California group 1 points, but milling grades of Utah-Idaho wheat were quoted mostly above local prices. The Los Angeles market was quiet. Receipts totaled 44 cars, of which about 75 per cent was dark hard winter from Utah and Idaho, and was taken by mills for blending purposes. Milling wheat was quoted in that market at $2 25 to $2 28 and feed wheat at $2 20 to $2 25 per 100 pounds.

Prices Advance
 Prices in the Pacific northwest advanced 5c to 7c per bushel, largely in sympathy with the advance in eastern markets, although there was some improvement noted in the export demand for flour, and several parcels of both wheat and flour were sold during the week to the Orient from the Portland market. Mills became more active buyers of wheat as a result of the increased flour business. Export bids from Europe were still below current local prices, and sales of some parcel lots ahead

Reporters Give Up Appeal And Return to Jail

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Three reporters, released on bail last week after being sentenced to 15 days for contempt of court, today voluntarily reentered prison to begin serving their sentences.

The men, Gurman B. Hendricks, Jinton Burkett and John E. Nevin Jr., all employees of the Washington Times, decided to go back to jail after their attorneys had informed them it was almost a certainty that their sentences would be confirmed by the court of appeals.

They then requested Justice Suddens of the District of Columbia supreme court, to dismiss habeas corpus proceedings and remand them to prison.

The trio were sentenced after they had refused to give the grand jury the names and addresses of persons from whom they claimed to have purchased liquor, for the purpose of gathering material for a crime conditions survey in Washington.

who started at guard, took Houchens' place at center. Both Carden and Sarrett played strong ball at ends. Sarrett dawning the Whitman safety in his tracks several times on punts and Carden playing an aggressive defensive game. Posey and Houchens were outstanding on the defense and Crawford, who went in in the second quarter, and Hauger both made a good account of themselves. Quinn substituted freely and practically every man on the squad had a chance to do his stuff, with none of them failing to deliver the goods.

Breaks hurt Whitman's chances several times, with the normal ball hawks recovering practically every fumble. With two exceptions, West outplayed Rust. On one occasion the normal team captain booted one about 60 yards and it rolled several more. Armstrong was the main yard gainer for Whitman, and in the line, Yeager and Clow were yard gainers for Whitman and in the line, Yeager and Clow were hard to handle. Whitman kept eight regulars out of the game.

The normal school early found Whitman's line to be tough, but later in the game, when Beard began to feel his oats, he squirmed and drove through in large enough chunks to cause Berkeley's progress lots of worry. On the defensive, the normal team held the Washington boys to a minimum of yardage.
